Today

We Don't Need It
Don't Gamble, Please
Money, Stars, Sunshine

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

[The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune.]

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE thinks the United States is big enough to handle its own Chinese affairs without help from other countries. He tells our representatives in China to demand apology and indemnification for injury to American lives and property, and will take no joint action with Britain and japan.

So for, so good. We don't need a Chinese war.

DID you sell stocks when some brokers said the time had come to "sell on moderate bulges?" Men with their noses so close to Wall Street's ticker that they can't see anything west of Hoboken or east of Sandy Hook are not good advisers just now.

You read today "money easy at four per cent," "new peak for the year recorded in prices of railroad and pivotal industries," "much heavier trading, bonding continuing to rise in active dealings," etc.

Don't gamble, it's silly and ruinous, but whatever you do, don't sell the United States, or anything in it, short, unless you are sure it is worthless. Even then you can't be safe.

Andrew Caregie wouldn't take common or preferred stock in the biggest steel company as a gift. He said it was air, not even water. Look at it now.

FOUR British film companies form a "great merger, amounting to $12,500,000." Don't laugh, the British are serious.

Here we might capitalize one moving picture actor for $12,500,000. But if you tried to unite our four greatest moving picture concerns it would amount to a dizzy sum.

The British used to sing, "We've got the men, we've got the ships, we've got the money, too."

The American moving picture industry, Punch points out, can sing, "We've got the money, we've got the stars, we've got the sunshine, too." Also, it has the brains, more important than money, sunshine or stars. Brains create money, develop stars, and get along without sunshine.

CIVILIZATION'S problem is cheap distribution of life's necessities, giving citizens full value for their dollars. This doesn't mean business men shouldn't make the profit to which they are entitled. It means modern business tends more and more to "low profit, big volume."

The quart of milk that a farmer sells for four cents, the city mother buys for 15 cents. If General Motors were run on that basis a Chevrolet would cost $4,000.

THE city of Chicago was a mud flat along the lake, with a fort where white people might hide from Indians.

FREMONT MAN'S BODY FOUND IN TOLEDO; POLICE HINT MURDER

Henry Clauss, 55, of Cutlery Company, is Victim.

GUN PICKED UP

Vacant Building is Scene of Mysterious Tragedy.

TOLEDO, O., April 7.—With a bullet wound through the heart, the body of Henry Clauss, 55, member of a prominent Fremont family of cutlery manufacturers, was found here today at the foot of a flight of stairs in a vacant building.

Coroner Says It's Suicide.

According to police the man was murdered, but Coroner Henzler is of the belief that Clauss committed suicide. The police base their theory on the reported absence of powder marks on the body and the finding of a second bullet which they claim was imbedded in a spindle of the stairway banister.

A revolver was found near the body. Four bullets of .38 calibre were still in the cylinder. Two blank shells were found on the steps.

Clauss, who also had business connections at Tipton, Ind., was identified through papers and checks found on his person.

Wife and Daughter Notified.

CLEVELAND, O., April 7.—Mrs. Henry Clauss, and daughter, left here today for Toledo to claim the body of Henry Clauss, who was found dead there this morning. Mrs. Clauss, before leaving, stated she knew of no enemies who could have killed her husband. She said she knew of no motive to prompt her husband to commit suicide and declared: "It must have been a robber who did it."

Florence Clauss, the daughter, has been attending school in this city. The mother and daughter came to Cleveland from Fremont, O., last fall.

Walter Habenicht, 34, Potter, Dies; Funeral Saturday

Walter R. Habenicht, 34, of 340 Norton street, died today in the City hospital.

Mr. Habenicht, who resided here for 20 years, was employed at plant No. 5 of the Homer Laughlin China company, Newell. He was a member of the Lutheran church and the Tribe of Ben Hur.

He is survived by his widow and his mother, Mrs. Minnie Habenicht, and one brother, Fred Habenicht.

Funeral services will be held at 3:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon in St. John's Lutheran church, in charge of Rev. Dr. J. G. Reinartz. Burial will be made in Riverview cemetery.

Seek Cleveland Clubber.

CLEVELAND, O., April 7.—New evidence concerning the murder of Miss Katherine Madden, pretty Cleveland nurse, acquired by city detectives, will result in a speedy solution of the crime, authorities predicted today.

The young woman was clubbed and left unconscious on the street the night of March 30. Three days later she died in a hospital without regaining consciousness.

WAR DECLARED ON BASEBALL POOLS

POLICE COMB CHICAGO FOR OUTLAWS WHO FLEE WITH $20,000 IN LOOT

Baggage Car of Lincoln Limited Entered by Masked Men as Flyer Moves Out of Joliet Last Night.

CONDUCTOR, CHEF, PORTER GAGGED

Express Messenger Forced to Open Safe, and Robbers Divide Currency and Negotiable Papers.

CHICAGO, April 7.—The southwestern fringe of Chicago was being combed today for two bandits who last night held up the Lincoln Limited, crack Chicago and Alton passenger train, and escaped with loot estimated as high as $20,000. Only the baggage car was entered. None of the passengers nor the engine crew was aware of the robbery.

The bandits boarded the train as it moved out of Joliet at 9:30 last night. One wore an army overcoat. They donned black net masks, drew revolvers and pushed their way into the baggage car.

There they encountered conductor James Connery and A. A. Gotthoff, express messenger. Connery was bound and gagged and rolled in a corner.

Before Gotthoff could execute their order to open the safe, Frank Wenglass, diner chef, and George Mitchell, a porter, walked into the car.

Search Victims' Pockets.

Undismayed, the bandits tied up Wenglass and Mitchell and rolled them in the corner with Connery. Gotthoff was then forced to open the safe. The bandits took the entire contents and sorted it carefully. Currency and negotiable papers were divided equally between them.

All other papers, including none-negotiable bonds, were piled on the floor of the car and burned. The bandits then trussed up Gotthoff and rolled him against the others. After going through their victims' pockets, obtaining about $150 more, the bandits left the train.

One swung off at Western avenue and the other at Halsted street.

Entire Contents of Safe Taken.

The robbery was discovered when the diner steward came to see what was detaining his chef. He had sent the chef to the safe with the diner's evening receipts.

First reports received by local police stated the loss was "less than $200," listing only the money taken from members of the train crew.

While express company officials refused to estimate the loss, Gotthoff told Lieut. Andrew Howard of the Union station police, that the entire contents of the safe were taken or destroyed, and stated their value would probably exceed $20,000.

Soil of Prosperity Grows Bumper Crop Of Millionaires

WASHINGTON, April 7. — A bumper crop of millionaire incomes is being grown this year in the fertile soil of national prosperity, according to all advance indications marked down by the United States treasury.

Unless the dollar-seers of the treasury are far off in their predictions, the number of persons who have just paid taxes on incomes of more than a million dollars during 1926 will reach the astounding total of 250. The number of people paying taxes on incomes ranging downward from one million dollars a year to a quarter of a million is expected to correspondingly increase.

HOUSE VOTES OHIO GASOLINE TAX INCREASE

Sullivan's Three-cent Measure Goes to Senate.

POLL IS 91 to 21

Proposal Expected to Add $7,000,000 to Yearly Revenue.

By C. H. HADDOX.

COLUMBUS, O., April 7.—The house of representatives today passed by a vote of 91 to 21, the Sullivan bill, increasing the state tax on gasoline from two to three cents per gallon.

The bill now goes to the senate.

It is estimated that an additional revenue of approximately $7,000,000 per annum will be yielded by the increased tax, all of which, under the terms of the measure, would be used for highway construction and reconstruction. Sixty per cent of the proceeds would be used for highway building or reconstruction in the state at large. The remaining 40 per cent, going to the counties for highway work, would be allotted on a basis of motor vehicle registration.

The house accepted two amendments to the Sullivan bill, submitted on the floor during general debate and rejected two proposed amendments.

Amendments agreed to were: By Representative Martin Dodd, Toledo, decreeing that none of the proposed one-cent gasoline tax increase could be spent except as may be provided for in appropriation measures to be passed by the legislature, and, by Representative R. W. Emmons, Columbiana county, increasing the maximum portion of this increase which may be expended for the elimination of railroad grade crossings on highways, from $300,000 to $1,000,000.

GAS EXPLOSION IN FISHER HOME

Furnace in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albion H. Fisher, McKinnon avenue, was damaged by a gas explosion at 8 o'clock last evening.

Firemen from the Central and Northside stations who answered the alarm were unable to ascertain the cause of the blast which occurred, it it claimed, while a fire was burning in the furnace. Top of the heater was blown off, but there was no damage to the house.

Members of the Fisher family summoned the fire department. Officials of the Manufacturers' Light & Heat company were asked by firemen to make an investigation.

Miss Laughlin, 78, Dies in Her Home In Third Street

Miss Amanda Laughlin, 78, died last night in her home, 515 East Third street, after a short illness of complication of diseases.

Miss Laughlin, who spent most of her life in Fredericktown, is survived by two brothers and three sisters: Joseph Laughlin, Beaver, Pa.; William T. Laughlin, Oakland, Cal.; Mrs. Martha Fisher and Mrs. W. W. Harker, of this city, and Miss Mary Laughlin with whom she resided.

She was a member of the Calucuta United Presbyterian church.

APPEALS COURT AFFIRMS BAN ON AWARD OF SURFACING JOB

City Loses Injunction Fight Over Fourth Street Contract.

BIDS THROWN OUT

Ruling on Scaccuto Murder Trial is Deferred.

The city of East Liverpool today lost its appeal from the decision of the Columbiana county common pleas court which granted Frank Swaney, of the Ohio Willite company, an injunction, restraining Service Director John W. Moore from awarding a contract for the resurfacing of Fourth street.

The appellate court, in a ruling at Lisbon, affirmed the judgment of the lower court which sustained Swaney's contention that the specifications for the proposed improvement conflicted with the resolution enacted by the city council.

George B. Patterson, Wellsville contractor, was the low bidder for the job.

The ruling means that the city must re-advertise for bids.

Scaccuto Decision on May 9.

The court announced that no decision upon the application of Nick Scaccuto, of Wellsville, convicted of second degree murder in the death of Patrolman James Kenney, also of Wellsville, for a new trial, would be handed down until the St. Clairsville session which will be held during the week of May 9.

Scaccuto, who denies all knowledge of the crime, is now serving a life sentence in the penitentiary.

Kenney was shot to death while patrolling his beat in Wellsville on May 17, last.

Other rulings are expected to be announced late this afternoon.

Boy Found Dead On Railroad Tracks Believed Murdered

CLYDE, O., April 7.—The theory that Bobbie Wilson, 17, was murdered in a vacant house and his body then carried to the railroad tracks where it was found, was held by police here today.

The youth was killed under mysterious circumstances a week ago today.

Rewards totaling $2,100 have been offered for the capture and conviction of Wilson's supposed slayer.

Wellsville Woman Fined $300 After Liquor Seizure

Mrs. Rocco Richicht, proprietress of a grocery store in Third and Main streets, Wellsville, was arrested today by Wellsville police on a charge of possessing intoxicating liquor. Police said they found a gallon and a half of evidence.

At a hearing before Mayor W. L. Fogo, Mrs. Richicht pleaded guilty and was fined $300. She made arrangements to pay and was released.

MAYOR BENEDUM WARNS ROUND-UP WILL BEGIN IN CITY NEXT TUESDAY

Police Will be Instructed to Arrest Agents Who Attempt to Sell Gambling Chances on Major League Games, City Executive Says as Season's Opening Day Nears.

LAW ENFORCEMENT HEAD BELIEVES POSSESSION OF TICKETS IS EVIDENCE

Revocation of Poolroom Licenses in Event of Apprehension of Operators on Sale of Pasteboards is Hinted, But Suspected Offenders First Will be Notified.

War on dealers in baseball pools was declared by Mayor Ralph Benedum today as bookmakers began to lay plans for the opening of the major league season next Tuesday.

Police will be instructed, the mayor announced, to be on the lookout for men who are believed to be engaged in the sale of baseball chances. Charges of gambling will be filed against all offenders.

"We will not tolerate the sale of baseball pools if it can be stopped," Mayor Benedum said. "Police will be ordered to make every effort to apprehend pool sellers."

Possession of a book of baseball pools will be sufficient grounds for conviction, in the opinion of the law enforcement head. Municipal Judge Hanley recently fined a Walnut street man $100 for possession of gambling devices after police found cards, chips, card tables and other gambling paraphernalia in his home following a raid.

Police will be ordered to visit poolrooms, soft drink establishments and other places where baseball scores are received by innings.

Keep Eyes on Poolrooms.

Arrest of poolroom proprietors for selling pools will not constitute grounds for a suspension of license, the mayor said, inasmuch as no warning to this effect has been given. In the event of a conviction, however, poolroom operators will be notified a repetition of the offense will result in revocation of the owner's permit.

Five poolroom licenses were suspended several months ago after punchboards had been seized in a series of raids.

While pools on clearing house balances, football and basketball games have been sold here throughout the fall and winter, agents are most active during the baseball season, police assert.

TWO MOTORISTS TO FACE COURT

Lawrence Thomas, Jr., will face Municipal Judge J. C. Hanley at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning upon a charge of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

Thomas was arrested by Patrolman Leslie Curran at the corner of Sixth and Jefferson street at 7:45 o'clock last night shortly after he is alleged to have backed into another car. Because of the absence of Judge Hanley who is in Columbus today, he was released by the police this morning, his sedan being held as a guarantee for his appearance.

Paul Dailey, Chester, who was arrested by Patrolman Lister for parking in front of the American theatre last evening, deposited $6.80 for his appearance tomorrow morning upon a charge of violating the parking regulations.

U. S. Civil Service Board Recruits Men for Dry Jobs

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The country-wide campaign of the civil service commission to recruit eligibles for the 2,500 positions in the prohibition bureau which were classified under the civil service law by the last congress, was launched today.

Open competitive examinations will be made for one chief of the field division, which carries a salary of $6,000 a year, five prohibition zone supervisors, 24 prohibition administrators, 24 assistant assistant prohibition administrators for enforcement work; 24 assistant administrators for permissive work; 50 deputy administrators, 1,260 junior agents, 109 investigators, 228 agents, 74 attorneys and various other officials, ranging in salary down to $1,800 a year.

LIONS URGE FIREWORKS BAN

Club Previously Endorsed Plan to Cut Mayor's Pay.

Members of the Lions' club, at a dinner meeting in the banquet hall of the Y. M. C. A. last night, went on record in favor of legislation banning the sale and use of fireworks within the city limits.

A week ago the club also endorsed the proposed reduction in the mayor's salary. Both measures are to be considered at tonight's council meeting.

The Lions club is the second organization to declare in favor of a "safe and sane" fourth of July celebration, similar action having been taken by the McKinley Home and School association.

The Lions also completed plans for a survey of the lighting system of local school buildings. Short talks were made by Emmett Mylar whose subject was "Hobbies;" Dr. A. C. Shafer, who discussed membership work, and President Harry Brokaw, whose topic was "The Goat."

DOWNTOWN AND EAST END CHURCHES ANNOUNCE HOLY WEEK SERVICES

Union Meetings Will be Held in Evening, While Special Devotions are Planned on Good Friday.

Union services, in observance of Holy week, will be conducted in East Liverpool next week—one series of meetings being held in the downtown district and the other in East End.

Services will be held at 7:30 every evening with the exception of Saturday. The Good Friday service for the downtown churches, to be held in the First Methodist Episcopal church, will take the form of a musicale, at which a contata will be rendered by the choir.

In addition, special services will be held next week in the St. Aloysius and St. Ann Catholic churches and St. Stephen's Episcopal church.

Lenten services, preparatory to communion, which will be distributed Easter Sunday, will be held in St. John's Lutheran church at 7:45 o'clock next Thursday evening. Services on Good Friday will be held at 1:30 p. m. and 7:30 p. m., when Holy Communion will be distributed.

Schedule of union services in the downtown churches follows:

Monday—First Presbyterian church, Rev. C. B. Conn, preacher.

Tuesday—First Church of Christ, Rev. A. H. O'Brien, preacher.

Wednesday—First United Presby-

POLICE COMB CHICAGO FOR OUTLAWS WHO FLEE WITH $20,000 IN LOOT

Baggage Car of Lincoln Limited Entered by Masked Men as Flyer Moves Out of Joliet Last Night.

CONDUCTOR, CHEF, PORTER GAGGED

Express Messenger Forced to Open Safe, and Robbers Divide Currency and Negotiable Papers.

CHICAGO, April 7.—The southwestern fringe of Chicago was being combed today for two bandits who last night held up the Lincoln Limited, crack Chicago and Alton passenger train, and escaped with loot estimated as high as $20,000. Only the baggage car was entered. None of the passengers nor the engine crew was aware of the robbery.

HOUSE VOTES OHIO GASOLINE TAX INCREASE

Sullivan's Three-cent Measure Goes to Senate.

POLL IS 91 to 21

Proposal Expected to Add $7,000,000 to Yearly Revenue.

By C. H. HADDOX.

COLUMBUS, O., April 7.—The house of representatives today passed by a vote of 91 to 21, the Sullivan bill, increasing the state tax on gasoline from two to three cents per gallon.

The bill now goes to the senate.

It is estimated that an additional revenue of approximately $7,000,000 per annum will be yielded by the increased tax, all of which, under the terms of the measure, would be used for highway construction and reconstruction. Sixty per cent of the proceeds would be used for highway building or reconstruction in the state at large. The remaining 40 per cent, going to the counties for highway work, would be allotted on a basis of motor vehicle registration.

The house accepted two amendments to the Sullivan bill, submitted on the floor during general debate and rejected two proposed amendments.

Amendments agreed to were: By Representative Martin Dodd, Toledo, decreeing that none of the proposed one-cent gasoline tax increase could be spent except as may be provided for in appropriation measures to be passed by the legislature, and, by Representative R. W. Emmons, Columbiana county, increasing the maximum portion of this increase which may be expended for the elimination of railroad grade crossings on highways, from $300,000 to $1,000,000.

GAS EXPLOSION IN FISHER HOME

Furnace in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albion H. Fisher, McKinnon avenue, was damaged by a gas explosion at 8 o'clock last evening.

Firemen from the Central and Northside stations who answered the alarm were unable to ascertain the cause of the blast which occurred, it it claimed, while a fire was burning in the furnace. Top of the heater was blown off, but there was no damage to the house.

Members of the Fisher family summoned the fire department. Officials of the Manufacturers' Light & Heat company were asked by firemen to make an investigation.

Scaccuto Decision on May 9.

The court announced that no decision upon the application of Nick Scaccuto, of Wellsville, convicted of second degree murder in the death of Patrolman James Kenney, also of Wellsville, for a new trial, would be handed down until the St. Clairsville session which will be held during the week of May 9.

Scaccuto, who denies all knowledge of the crime, is now serving a life sentence in the penitentiary.

Kenney was shot to death while patrolling his beat in Wellsville on May 17, last.

Other rulings are expected to be announced late this afternoon.

Boy Found Dead On Railroad Tracks Believed Murdered

CLYDE, O., April 7.—The theory that Bobbie Wilson, 17, was murdered in a vacant house and his body then carried to the railroad tracks where it was found, was held by police here today.

The youth was killed under mysterious circumstances a week ago today.

Rewards totaling $2,100 have been offered for the capture and conviction of Wilson's supposed slayer.

Wellsville Woman Fined $300 After Liquor Seizure

Mrs. Rocco Richichi, proprietress of a grocery store in Third and Main streets, Wellsville, was arrested today by Wellsville police on a charge of possessing intoxicating liquor. Police said they found a gallon and a half of evidence.

At a hearing before Mayor W. L. Fogo, Mrs. Richichi pleaded guilty and was fined $200. She made arrangements to pay and was released.

MAYOR BENEDUM WARNS ROUND-UP WILL BEGIN IN CITY NEXT TUESDAY

Police Will be Instructed to Arrest Agents Who Attempt to Sell Gambling Chances on Major League Games, City Executive Says as Season's Opening Day Nears.

LAW ENFORCEMENT HEAD BELIEVES POSSESSION OF TICKETS IS EVIDENCE

Revocation of Poolroom Licenses in Event of Apprehension of Operators on Sale of Pasteboards is Hinted, But Suspected Offenders First Will be Notified.

War on dealers in baseball pools was declared by Mayor Ralph Benedum today as bookmakers began to lay plans for the opening of the major league season next Tuesday.

Police will be instructed, the mayor announced, to be on the lookout for men who are believed to be engaged in the sale of baseball chances. Charges of gambling will be filed against all offenders.

"We will not tolerate the sale of baseball pools if it can be stopped," Mayor Benedum said. "Police will be ordered to make every effort to apprehend pool sellers."

Possession of a book of baseball pools will be sufficient grounds for conviction, in the opinion of the law enforcement head. Municipal Judge Hanley recently fined a Walnut street man $100 for possession of gambling devices after police found cards, chips, card tables and other gambling paraphernalia in his home following a raid.

Police will be ordered to visit poolrooms, soft drink establishments and other places where baseball scores are received by innings.

Keep Eyes on Poolrooms.

Arrest of poolroom proprietors for selling pools will not constitute grounds for a suspension of license, the mayor said, inasmuch as no warning to this effect has been given. In the event of a conviction, however, poolroom operators will be notified a repetition of the offense will result in revocation of the owner's permit.

Five poolroom licenses were suspended several months ago after punchboards had been seized in a series of raids.

While pools on clearing house balances, football and basketball games have been sold here throughout the fall and winter, agents are most active during the baseball season, police assert.

TWO MOTORISTS TO FACE COURT

Lawrence Thomas, Jr., will face Municipal Judge J. C. Hanley at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning upon a charge of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

Thomas was arrested by Patrolman Leslie Curran at the corner of Sixth and Jefferson street at 7:45 o'clock last night shortly after he is alleged to have backed into another car. Because of the absence of Judge Hanley who is in Columbus today, he was released by the police this morning, his sedan being held as a guarantee for his appearance.

Paul Dailey, Chester, who was arrested by Patrolman Lister for parking in front of the American theatre last evening, deposited $6.80 for his appearance tomorrow morning upon a charge of violating the parking regulations.

U. S. Civil Service Board Recruits Men for Dry Jobs

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The country-wide campaign of the civil service commission to recruit eligibles for the 2,500 positions in the prohibition bureau which were classified under the civil service law by the last congress, was launched today.

Open competitive examinations will be made for one chief of the field division, which carries a salary of $6,000 a year, five prohibition zone supervisors, 24 prohibition administrators, 24 assistant assistant prohibition administrators for enforcement work; 24 assistant administrators for permissive work; 50 deputy administrators, 1,260 junior agents, 109 investigators, 228 agents, 74 attorneys and various other officials, ranging in salary down to $1,800 a year.

LIONS URGE FIREWORKS BAN

Club Previously Endorsed Plan to Cut Mayor's Pay.

Members of the Lions' club, at a dinner meeting in the banquet hall of the Y. M. C. A. last night, went on record in favor of legislation banning the sale and use of fireworks within the city limits.

A week ago the club also endorsed the proposed reduction in the mayor's salary. Both measures are to be considered at tonight's council meeting.

The Lions club is the second organization to declare in favor of a "safe and sane" fourth of July celebration, similar action having been taken by the McKinley Home and School association.

The Lions also completed plans for a survey of the lighting system of local school buildings. Short talks were made by Emmett Mylar whose subject was "Hobbies;" Dr. A. C. Shafer, who discussed membership work, and President Harry Brokaw, whose topic was "The Goat."

DOWNTOWN AND EAST END CHURCHES ANNOUNCE HOLY WEEK SERVICES

Union Meetings Will be Held in Evening, While Special Devotions are Planned on Good Friday.

Union services, in observance of Holy week, will be conducted in East Liverpool next week—one series of meetings being held in the downtown district and the other in East End.

Services will be held at 7:30 every evening with the exception of Saturday. The Good Friday service for the downtown churches, to be held in the First Methodist Episcopal church, will take the form of a musicale, at which a contata will be rendered by the choir.

In addition, special services will be held next week in the St. Aloysius and St. Ann Catholic churches and St. Stephen's Episcopal church.

Lenten services, preparatory to communion, which will be distributed Easter Sunday, will be held in St. John's Lutheran church at 7:45 o'clock next Thursday evening. Services on Good Friday will be held at 1:30 p. m. and 7:30 p. m., when Holy Communion will be distributed.

Schedule of union services in the downtown churches follows:

Monday—First Presbyterian church, Rev. C. B. Conn, preacher.

Tuesday—First Church of Christ, Rev. A. H. O'Brien, preacher.

Wednesday—First United Presby-

MEAT merchants, grocers, restaurant owners—those whose business depends on good refrigeration—say they never realized how much time and labor it took to keep their refrigerator cold before they installed Frigidaire. They say that Frigidaire is actually equal to an extra man. Frigidaire not only keeps perishable foods in perfect condition until they are sold, but its operating cost is actually less than the cost of ice.

Find out what Frigidaire will do for you. Phone, write or call at our sales room. Let us show you how others have increased their profits with Frigidaire and how easy the General Motors plan of deferred payments makes it for you to have the many advantages that only Frigidaire can give.

MAN CONFESSES TRIPLE MURDER

Henry Griffith Admits Slaying Three Persons Near Bluefield.

Henry Griffith, 49, of Richmond, Va., has confessed to the slaying of his wife, Mollie Griffith, 35, Matthew Lawson, 31, and Lawson's wife, Pearl Lawson, 30, according to Harry H. Couch, sheriff of Russell county, Va.

The bodies of the three persons were found in the Clinch river, three miles from Bluefield, W. Va., late Tuesday afternoon by a lineman who was striking wire through a tree on the river bank.

Griffith, who lives in Tazwell county, Sheriff Couch said, volunteered information in which he expressed belief that the body of one of the women was that of his wife, who he claimed had left him more than three weeks ago. He said friends had informed him that his wife was living with Mr. and Mrs. Lawson.

Griffith was placed under arrest and was taken to Lebanon by Sheriff Couch and R. N. Wilson, commonwealth's attorney of Russell county to see if he could identify the bodies.

Griffith is said to have identified all of the bodies, but denied any knowledge of the crime. Some two hours after Griffith had identified the bodies he is said to have confessed to the murder of the trio.

Griffith, according to the story told Sheriff Couch, killed Lawson first and then the two women. Griffith said the triple murder was committed at 2 o'clock on Sunday morning, March 27.

Griffith said he had heard the Lawson's were leaving the neighborhood and were taking his wife with them. He said he had been told they had intended to make their get-away at night. Griffith said he went in search of them and some 12 miles away from his home he met them on the railroad tracks.

Griffith said he asked his wife to return home with him and she refused. When Lawson asserted that Mrs. Griffith could not be taken back home the triple tragedy followed.

CONFEREES GIVEN ROAD BOND LAW

Drafting in its final form the road bond law which has been subject to controversy between the senate and house of delegates throughout the session, was given yesterday into the hands of three conferees from each body. Senators C. B. Highland, of Wetzel county; H. P. Henshaw, of Berkely county, and D. M. Willis, of Monongalia county, and Delegates J. H. Smith, of Preston county; C. L. Heaberlin, of Raleigh county, and N. F. Kendall, of Tyler county, were named by President White, of the senate, and Speaker Johnson, of the house, as members of the committee to settle the disagreement of the two branches.

Before naming the house members, however, that body adopted a motion presented by Delegate Robinson that they be instructed not to return any report unless two of the three house conferees agreed to it.

Another piece of road legislation also resumed headway in the legislative course, when the house adopted committee amendments to the measure permitting use of local funds on state routes. By the amendment these expenditures were limited to county or municipal special levies or bond issues and the bill was then sent to its final reading.

COLLEGE HEAD GIVES ADDRESS

"I doubt if the time will ever come when ever a person who graduates from college will be fully educated, and yet that is the end toward which we must work," declared Dr. Clozá Goodnight, president of Bethany college, yesterday in an address before the Bethany students and faculty members. "Education consists not only in so many semester hours of college work but it consists of those intangible and yet important things of refinement, poise, good morals and a susceptibility to finer spiritual values."

In discussing college students, Dr. Goodnight firmly stated that he was convinced that not every high school student should go to college. "Only those should go," he said, "who have a genuine desire for real education and true culture. And when there they should seek more than book knowledge and facts and college credits."

FOUNDRY BLAZE AT COUNTY SEAT

Plant of the Resistant Foundry company at New Cumberland was damaged by fire of unknown origin which broke out shortly after 10 o'clock last night in an adjoining one story frame building which was used to house patterns. The latter was totally destroyed. The plant will resume operations tomorrow.

Dwelling adjoining the foundry occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Murray and Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Long was saved by the efficient work of the Weirton fire department who responded to the alrams. Loss was not ascertained.

FAIR ARRANGED BY LODGES HERE

Plans are being arranged for a county fair to be held under the auspices of the I. O. O. F.-K. of P. lodges on May 11-12-13-14, in the lodge rooms, Fifth street and Carolina avenue.

Rebekahs and Pythian Sisters will conduct booths. Music will be featured each night.

AID SOCIETY TO HOLD MEET

Members of the Ladies' Aid society of the First Methodist Episcopal church will meet this evening in the tabernacle. Mrs. George Cook will preside.

Devotionals will be in charge of Mrs. W. L. Stevenson. Hostesses will be Mrs. Robert Faudree, Mrs. John Gardner, Mrs. Robert Grandstaff, Mrs. Albert Haney, Mrs. William Hepler and Mrs. Edwin Huff.

Wedding Announced.

Mrs. C. J. Johnson, of Chester, has received an announcement of the wedding of her nephew, Carl Howard, of Waverly, W. Va., and Miss Madge McKinley of Pullman, W. Va., which took place in the historical Church of Christ, Alexandria, Va., known as the church where George Washington and his family attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard will reside in Waverly.

Dog True to Dead Playmate.

It was with difficulty that a policeman was able to drag away a little rough-haired terrier which had kept a faithful vigil for more than 24 hours over the body of a dead companion in Acre-lane, Brixton, England, recently. The two dogs had been playing together when one—also a rough-haired terrier—was run over by a motor bus and died. Nothing, not even a dense, clammy fog, would move the survivor from the body of his dead playmate. Two other dogs, who would not take the hint when growled at, came in for a rough tussle on trying to make a personal investigation of the tragedy.

Dog True to Dead Playmate.

It was with difficulty that a policeman was able to drag away a little rough-haired terrier which had kept a faithful vigil for more than 24 hours over the body of a dead companion in Acre-lane, Brixton, England, recently. The two dogs had been playing together when one—also a rough-haired terrier—was run over by a motor bus and died. Nothing, not even a dense, clammy fog, would move the survivor from the body of his dead playmate. Two other dogs, who would not take the hint when growled at, came in for a rough tussle on trying to make a personal investigation of the tragedy.

The Ford Stores

The war between Ford and the Michigan Retail Merchants' association is over. It has been one of the most interesting chapters in Ford's history.

Ford started grocery and meat stores to reduce the cost of living to his own employees. It was evidently meant as a philanthropic enterprise, though Ford always objects to "philanthropy." He satisfied his business conscience by making a small profit on his turn-over, and sold the provisions as cheap as he could. That was very cheap, compared with current retail prices. Ford was able to buy far lower than his competitors on account of his buying in far larger quantity, and he applied to the distribution of the goods the same efficiency principles of standardization, specialized employment, economy of motion, etc., that he has carried out in his factories.

To groceries and meat, Ford eventually added many other things, so that he was virtually operating great department stores. And he extended his service to the entire public. That cut seriously into the business of established merchants, large and small. They have been protesting for some time. Now Ford has yielded to this extent—he will close his "commissaries," as he calls them, to the general public, serving only his own employees. It is merely the old "company store" idea, operated more ably and generously than usual.

The "business ethics" of such merchandising are naturally objected to by injured competitors. But Ford seems to have made a notable contribution to the economics of modern commerce. It is said that his employees by patronizing his "flivverized" stores are able to save $500 to $600 a year. If that is true, the merchandising methods he uses may have as much influence on future retailing as his manufacturing methods have had on industrial production.

Telepathic Censorship

If the wax caricature statute of President Coolidge in the exhibition in New York of the Society of Independent Artists was really broken, as is reported, by the telepathic efforts of a man in a distant state, nobody's statuary will be safe from now on.

A threatening letter had been received, the writer of which asserted his ability and intention to break the statute by absent treatment if it were not removed from the exhibition. He regarded it as a disrespectful statute. A day or so later it was found broken.

What we want to know is how the distant gentleman knew about the statue. Did he see pictures of it? Did he see it as he threatened to destroy it, by his telepathic power? Or was he at the exhibition, and was the letter a hoax?

It will go hard with freak artists if the general public begins to cultivate any such talents for long-distance destruction. It is probably a little too soon to begin worrying about anything of the sort, however. The public is likely to suffer a good deal more from the freak artists than they will ever suffer from the public.

Forestry In Tennessee

Reclamation work started by the Tennessee division of forestry in 1914 has resulted in the utilization of a large area of formerly waste farm land for black locust groves. Gullies, wood lots and outlying grass fields are set out to young trees. Country forestry associations are being formed throughout the state to crystallize as far as possible the interests of farm people in the foresting of their particular sections. A text book of forestry has been introduced in the public schools. Tennessee's timber and forest products have increased in the last 20 years from $21,000,000 to more than $35,000,000, and educational work is still going on.

All this is apropos of American Forest Week, proclaimed by President Coolidge for observance from April 24 to 30.

There cannot be too much of such reclamation work in any part of the country. More publicity about what any state or community is already doing in this line should be beneficial to all the rest of the country.

Years And Life

A wise thing was said the other day by Elbert H. Gary, head of the United States Steel Corporation. Asked why he continued his business activity at the age of 80, he replied that he wasn't interested in long life, but in living.

With many people, he suggested, the attainment of unusual age seemed to be merely a game of "hanging on," and he never cared for that sort of game.

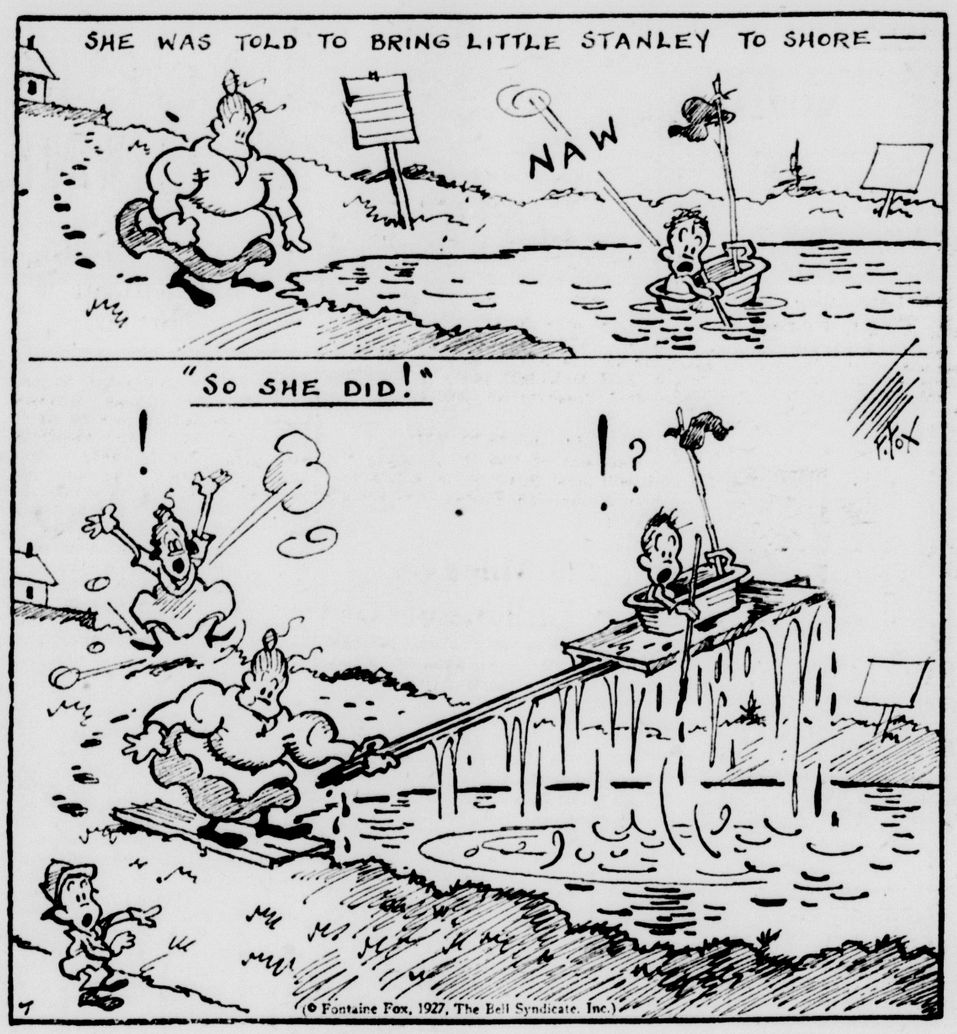

"One cannot live, to be sure, unless he keeps his body alive; nevertheless, keeping one's body alive is not life.

"Life consists of the things we do, the friends we make, the give and take which go to make up human organization; of business, co-operation, knowledge, work. These are the things that interest me, and I find myself as interested in them as ever."

Among other things, "flaming youth" is burning up a lot of old rubbish.

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY
By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, April 7.—Lenox Avenue, the main artery of Harlem's Black Belt, is a consistent wooer of Lady Luck. It is estimated sepia tinted ladies and ebony hued sheiks wager $75,000 nightly on the Clearing House lottery.

It is called "numbers" and is based on closing figures of the clearing house. The winning numbers often pay 600 to 1. A hundred and one lucky charms, ranging from the rabbit's foot to "concentrated goofer dust," are on sale in various small shops.

There are also "charm passers" who make a living mumbling mystic abracadabra to hopefuls in voodoo parlors. Gambling superstition here reaches its highest peak. Many men often have their left ear pierced in the light of the new moon, believing in its favorable potency.

"Numbers" is one of innumerable games of chance that flourish in the district. Another in high favor is euphoniously known as "zaka zam." Chances sell for a dollar each and the person who holds the number nearest to the total sales of shares in Wall street for the day wins $1,000. There is only a first prize.

Peculiarly enough, winners do not always go on spending sprees. Some make first payment down on a parcel of real estate and soaring values have resulted in several instances in an independence never dreamed.

As a result of the chance games, dice and other favorite gambling devices are almost extinct along Lenox Avenue. The danger of the group raid is not faced in the lottery schemes. Only the lottery seller is arrested.

The rake-off for the seller is often stupendous. His percentage is about 20 per cent and a former shoe shiner is reported to have amassed more than $200,000 last year.

An aging actress appeared in a cafe one evening recently with a snow-white transformation. A jealous lady, once a victim of her temperamental outburst, screeched across the room. "I suppose you got that way over night."

A former stevedore, who became a millionaire, indulges an odd luxury. Instead of having a private physician he has a private chiropodist whose task is matutinal. For years his heavy dock labors resulted in corns, bunions and other pedal aches. He is reported to pay him $7,000 a year.

The removal of the Metropolitan Opera House to 8th Avenue and 57th Street is another decided step in the northward Rialto migration. Only the Empire, Casino and Knickerbocker theatres are left in that district running southward from 42d Street to Herald Square. It was once the promenade ground for stage folk in the afternoon. Here it was not unusual to see David Belasco, Joe Weber, Lew Fields, David Warfield, Louis Mann and Lillian Russell in a few blocks' walk.

Present day players, it would seem, do not become so well-known to their public as the old timers did, nor does their vogue last so long. There are at least a dozen, starred five years ago, in obscurity today. It is doubtless because stardom is more easily achieved in this age. Most of the old timers rattled around in burlesque, toured the tanks for years before Broadway acclaimed them. Several stars of the day have never appeared west of Chicago.

A darkey just rapped at the door to inquire about washing the windows.

"When do you want to clean them?" he was asked.

"To suit your significance," he replied—which seems quite fair enough

HASKIN'S LETTER
By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Big Business.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 7.—Big business is big. There are now ten corporations in the United States that rank in the billion-dollar class. Their aggregate assets approximate $15,000,000,000. The market value of their securities as rated by a financial expert is somewhat in excess of $13,000,000,000. The value of their physical properties is around $8,500,000,000.

Their gross sales or revenues for the last year were in excess of $5,600,000,000. The net profits in the aggregate were slightly less than $1,000,000,000, and the dividends they paid were approximately half that amount. They are owned by 1,018,003 stockholders, the odd three being all the stockholders there are in the Ford Motor Company. Almost a million and a half workers are employed by these corporations and their payrolls, while not authoritatively compiled, have been estimated to exceed $2,500,000,000 annually.

Five of these giants of the financial world are railroads—the Southern Pacific, the Pennsylvania, the New York Central, the Union Pacific, and the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe. Two of the others have to do with transportation—General Motors and the Ford Company—and another deals in communications, the American Telephone & Telegraph Company. The other two are the United States Steel Corporation and the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, both of which are closely allied with transportation and communications.

Richest of them all is the Steel Corporation, with assets of $2,446,000,000 and physical properties valued at $1,692,000,000, but its gross sales or revenues are not so large as those of either the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey or the General Motors Corporation and its net pofits are not so great as those of the latter.

Billion Dollar Annual Business.

The oil and motor mammoths both do an annual business in excess of a billion dollars, while the steel trust has to worry along with only $928,000,000. The net profits of steel are $117,000,000 as compared with an estimated $180,000,000 for General Motors. As a dividend payer steel ranks below both the telephone company and General Motors, with $61,000,000 as compared with $81,000,000 and $70,000,000 for the other two, respectively. No one knows what dividends the Ford Motor Company pays.

The market value of the telephone company exceeds that of any of the others, being a bit above the two billion mark, exceeding that of its nearest rival, the steel corporation, by almost $300,000,000.

In the value of its physical properties, however, the telephone company ranks a bad tenth, with only $197,000,000, whereas the steel corporation has almost ten times that and the Southern Pacific, the Pennsylvania, and the New York Central are well above the billion level. It lags in annual revenues or gross sales, also, with $180,000,000, but it is fourth in net profits, yielding only to General Motors, U. S. Steel, and Standard Oil, and it is the banner dividend payer of them all. It likewise ranks first in the number of stockholders, with 362,000, and in the number of its employees, with 293,000. It is the only one of the big business group, by the way, that has more stockholders than it has employees.

If all its subsidiaries were included it is stated that the telephone company would outrank even the steel corporation in the value of its assets, with almost $3,000,000,000 as of January 1, 1926, and far more than that as of today. Since its physical properties are valued at less than a fifteenth of that amount it is obvious that this company gets into the billion dollar class because of its earning capacity.

It is rather surprising to learn that the Southern Pacific Railroad is the only corporation aside from the steel trust that has assets totalling more than $2,000,000,000. This is due, it is explained, to the fact that this railroad owns a vast amount of land and that no inconsiderable part of its domain is oil land.

Pennsylvania Ranks Third.

The Pennsylvania ranks third with assets of $1,819,000,0000, and third in the number of stockholders and employees. The New York Central stands fifth with respect to assets, and only the steel corporation and the Southern Pacific exceed it in the value of its physical properties.

The Standard Oil Company of New Jersey is the daddy of them all when it comes to volume of business. It has gross sales or revenues each year of $1,123,000,000. Its net profits are approximately ten per cent of that—$111,000,000—and it disburses $34,000,000 in dividends to some 80,000 stockholders. General Motors makes an estimated net profit of $180,000,000, which is 18 per cent on its gross sales, and it ranks second in making stockholders believe in Santa Claus, its dividend disbursements being $70,000,000.

Just what the big companies do with their profits aside from paying dividends is not disclosed, but it is

An aging actress appeared in a cafe one evening recently with a snow-white transformation. A jealous lady, once a victim of her temperamental outburst, screeched across the room. "I suppose you got that way over night."

A former stevedore, who became a millionaire, indulges an odd luxury. Instead of having a private physician he has a private chiropodist whose task is matutinal. For years his heavy dock labors resulted in corns, bunions and other pedal aches. He is reported to pay him $7,000 a year.

The removal of the Metropolitan Opera House to 8th Avenue and 57th Street is another decided step in the northward Rialto migration. Only the Empire, Casino and Knickerbocker theatres are left in that district running southward from 42d Street to Herald Square. It was once the promenade ground for stage folk in the afternoon. Here it was not unusual to see David Belasco, Joe Weber, Lew Fields, David Warfield, Louis Mann and Lillian Russell in a few blocks' walk.

Present day players, it would seem, do not become so well known to their public as the old timers did, nor does their vogue last so long. There are at least a dozen, starred five years ago, in obscurity today. It is doubtless because stardom is more easily achieved in this age. Most of the old timers rattled around in burlesque, toured the tanks for years before Broadway acclaimed them. Several stars of the day have never appeared west of Chicago.

A darkey just rapped at the door to inquire about washing the windows.

"When do you want to clean them?" he was asked.

"To suit your significance," he replied—which seems quite fair enough

HASKIN'S LETTER
By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Big Business.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 7.—Big business is big. There are now ten corporations in the United States that rank in the billion-dollar class. Their aggregate assets approximate $15,000,000,000. The market value of their securities as rated by a financial expert is somewhat in excess of $13,000,000,000. The value of their physical properties is around $8,500,000,000.

Their gross sales or revenues for the last year were in excess of $5,600,000,000. The net profits in the aggregate were slightly less than $1,000,000,000, and the dividends they paid were approximately half that amount. They are owned by 1,018,003 stockholders, the odd three being all the stockholders there are in the Ford Motor Company. Almost a million and a half workers are employed by these corporations and their payrolls, while not authoritatively compiled, have been estimated to exceed $2,500,000,000 annually.

Five of these giants of the financial world are railroads—the Southern Pacific, the Pennsylvania, the New York Central, the Union Pacific, and the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe. Two of the others have to do with transportation—General Motors and the Ford Company—and another deals in communications, the American Telephone & Telegraph Company. The other two are the United States Steel Corporation and the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, both of which are closely allied with transportation and communications.

Richest of them all is the Steel Corporation, with assets of $2,446,000,000 and physical properties valued at $1,692,000,000, but its gross sales or revenues are not so large as those of either the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey or the General Motors Corporation and its net pofits are not so great as those of the latter.

Billion Dollar Annual Business.

The oil and motor mammoths both do an annual business in excess of a billion dollars, while the steel trust has to worry along with only $928,000,000. The net profits of steel are $117,000,000 as compared with an estimated $180,000,000 for General Motors. As a dividend payer steel ranks below both the telephone company and General Motors, with $61,000,000 as compared with $81,000,000 and $70,000,000 for the other two, respectively. No one knows what dividends the Ford Motor Company pays.

The market value of the telephone company exceeds that of any of the others, being a bit above the two billion mark, exceeding that of its nearest rival, the steel corporation, by almost $300,000,000.

In the value of its physical properties, however, the telephone company ranks a bad tenth, with only $197,000,000, whereas the steel corporation has almost ten times that and the Southern Pacific, the Pennsylvania, and the New York Central are well above the billion level. It lags in annual revenues or gross sales, also, with $180,000,000, but it is fourth in net profits, yielding only to General Motors, U. S. Steel, and Standard Oil, and it is the banner dividend payer of them all. It likewise ranks first in the number of stockholders, with 362,000, and in the number of its employees, with 293,000. It is the only one of the big business group, by the way, that has more stockholders than it has employees.

If all its subsidiaries were included it is stated that the telephone company would outrank even the steel corporation in the value of its assets, with almost $3,000,000,000 as of January 1, 1926, and far more than that as of today. Since its physical properties are valued at less than a fifteenth of that amount it is obvious that this company gets into the billion dollar class because of its earning capacity.

It is rather surprising to learn that the Southern Pacific Railroad is the only corporation aside from the steel trust that has assets totalling more than $2,000,000,000. This is due, it is explained, to the fact that this railroad owns a vast amount of land and that no inconsiderable part of its domain is oil land.

Pennsylvania Ranks Third.

The Pennsylvania ranks third with assets of $1,819,000,0000, and third in the number of stockholders and employees. The New York Central stands fifth with respect to assets, and only the steel corporation and the Southern Pacific exceed it in the value of its physical properties.

The Standard Oil Company of New Jersey is the daddy of them all when it comes to volume of business. It has gross sales or revenues each year of $1,123,000,000. Its net profits are approximately ten per cent of that—$111,000,000—and it disburses $34,000,000 in dividends to some 80,000 stockholders. General Motors makes an estimated net profit of $180,000,000, which is 18 per cent on its gross sales, and it ranks second in making stockholders believe in Santa Claus, its dividend disbursements being $70,000,000.

Just what the big companies do with their profits aside from paying dividends is not disclosed, but it is

One Bottle Beats 16 Years of Baths

"Have been trying for 16 years to get my colon cleaned out. Have taken internal baths and used all kinds of medicines. Have taken a bottle of Adlerika, and am thankful that I have found something to restore my health."—Frank Ott.

Because Adlerika acts upon BOTH upper and lower bowel, it gives the system a REAL cleansing, and clears out old poisons which usually cause sour, gassy stomach, nervousness, sleeplessness, headache. Just ONE spoonful stops GAS, and relieves that full bloated feeling so that you can eat better and sleep better. Even if bowels move daily, Adlerika brings out much additional poison which you never guessed was in your system and which may have long caused trouble. No matter what you have tried for stomach and bowels, Adlerika will surprise you. At leading druggists. In East Liverpool at the Economy Drug Store and other Druggists.

Grandpa's Got "That Kruschen Feeling"

Are You In Form Today?

How often do you get up in the morning with that glorious feeling that you are ready to tackle anything and anybody.

How often do you carry that feeling with you throughout the day, knowing nothing of morning irritability, of after-lunch sleepiness, of five o'clock weariness, and utter dejection of body and mind?

How often do you return home fit to enjoy every moment of your hours of leisure, taking your recreation with all the greater zest because during the day you have got through a full-size man's job with a full-size man's keenness and efficiency?

How often? Once a week? Once a month?

Why not every day?

You can, you know, Kruschen will show you, as it has shown millions of others.

That little dose of Kruschen Salts you dissolve in your breakfast cup of coffee or tea every morning—you can't taste it, but it has a most amazing effect. It restores liver and kidneys to their proper state of efficiency and regularity, clears away all the impurities that have been clogging your system, and sends new, pure blood driving through your body.

You become, in fact, an entirely new being, cheery, energetic, self-reliant; and you look back upon the old days of tiredness and depression as upon a bad dream which the morning light has dispelled.

Kruschen Salts will keep you in form—always. 60 tablets—60 cents. Health and good spirits for trifle a day—all druggists.

Tasteless in Tea or Coffee

Drop 2 tablets in your breakfast cup every morning—1 tablet for children. It's the little daily dose that does it.

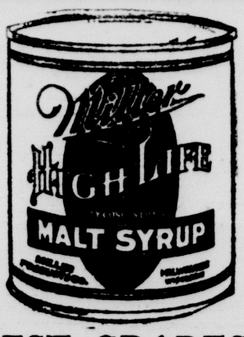

Kruschen Salts

It's the Little Daily Dose that Does It

60 tablets for 60 cents at all drug stores. Take two tablets in your morning cup of tea or coffee for a most invigorating daily tonic—it dissolves instantly—and you can't taste it. The medicinal dose for persons suffering from rheumatism, gout, lumbago, sciatica or habitual constipation is four tablets in a tumbler of hot water before breakfast. MIX PICTURE PROVES WINNER

"Canyon of Light," at American, is Thriller.

For sheer excitement, thrills and suspense, Fox Films "Canyon of Light," the feature picture which had its first showing at the American theatre today, will be hard to surpass. With Tom Mix in the star role and Dorothy Dwan in the feminine lead, plus a fine cast and an absorbing story and with Tony, the wonder horse, playing a prominent part, this is one western that is sure to please every type of theatre patron. Add to this the wild beauty of the backgrounds, for this picture was filmed in Yellowstone National Park, and the result is an entertainment long to be remembered.

The story deals with Tom Mills, played by Tom Mix, who at the opening of the World war, takes a troop of cowboys overseas, where he acts as captain of dispatch riders. The battle scenes in this part are a great deal more thrilling than in many so-called war pictures. While Tom and his men are away the western community from which they come, becomes a prey to a gang of desperadoes who are led by Ed Bardin, Tom's brother-in-law, and played by Carl Miller.

On his return Tom finds a band of vigilantes have captured Bardin and are preparing to hang him. Tom tries to save that worthy's neck for the sake of his sister and how the latter repays Tom's kindness makes a suspense holding story.

One of the most thrilling sequences in the picture is the wreck of an old boom town, a mere ghost city, the haunt of the desperadoes where Tom fights it out with the gang. Whole buildings are wrecked in the hand to hand battle that takes place amid scenes set the audience, who witness it, on the edge of their seats.

to be noted that while the ten billion-dollar businesses united earn net profits aggregating $846,000,000 their dividend account runs to less than $400,000,000. Evidently they invest some of their profits in umbrellas, as against the inevitable rainy day.

These big corporations, for all their prosperity are rather heavily obligated to the money lenders, their total funded debt being considerably in excess of $3,000,000,000. The Southern Pacific leads in this respect with $765,000,000 of funded debt and the New York Central comes next with $701,000,000. All of the railroads, in fact, have large funded debts, while three of the industrials—Standard Oil, General Motors, the Ford Company—have no funded debts whatever.

The Ford Company, by the way, carries off honors for being the mystery corporation of the billion dollar group. There is no authentic record that will show just what it is worth, what its net profits are, or what dividends it pays. All those items have to be estimated. Its total assets are placed at $800,000,000, its market value at $1,000,000,000, and its net profits at ten per cent of that amount. What dividends it pays is the big guess, but it is known that there are but three stockholders in the Company, hence there is likely to be little bickering as to whether net profits should be distributed in salaries or dividends or retained to build up an imposing surplus such as that of United States Steel.

It is known, also, that the Ford Company leads the world in the number of automobiles it produces, its record for last year being 1,448,000 as against 1,216,000 for General Motors.

General Motors is now branching out rather impressively in the manufactur of ice machines or refrigerators, while Ford is going in for airplanes.

QUIT GETTING UP NIGHTS

A Healthy Bladder Acts During the Day

C. N. Shuman, Republic, Ohio, says: "Before taking Lithiated Buchu (Keller Formula) had to get up six or seven times each night. Now I do not get up at all. You may use my name if it would benefit anyone with bladder trouble." Be careful not to take drugs that check the action of the bladder. You may have to continue its use. Lithiated Buchu (Keller Formula) increases the action during the day. It cleanses the bladder as epsom salts do the bowels driving out foreign matter, neutralizing excess acids, thereby relieving the irritation which causes "Getting Up Nights." The tablets cost 2c each at all drug stores or Keller Laboratory, Mechanicsburg, Ohio. Locally at J. D. Holloway, Druggist.

LEGISLATURE TO ADJOURN APRIL 29

Senate and house leaders will probably agree on a program to be carried out during the remainder of the legislative session which will close on Friday, April 29.

During the final three weeks consideration will be given to a number of important measures which were introduced at the initial session in January. Most of the business transacted by both houses since the long session opened has been along local lines in which favorite measures of members have been passed and sent to the governor.

HEALTH POSTER CONTEST LISTED

Exhibits for the annual health poster contest must be in the hands of officials of the Hancock County Tuberculosis society by April 18. The affair will be held in the Community house, New Cumberland, Friday, April 22.

Prizes amounting to $40 will be awarded exhibitors of the winning posters which will be used in the health seal campaign this year. The contest is open to rural and city grade pupils of the county.

Musicale Postponed.

Musicale scheduled for tonight in the First Presbyterian church under the auspices of the Ladies Missionary society has been postponed until April 14.

The Joy of Motherhood

JUST how to make motherhood a joy is one of the most important things in the world for you to know, right now, mother-to-be! Learn the great truth; use the simple method of an eminent physician who dedicated his life's work to this great accomplishment for your benefit!

"I was in labor only 25 minutes with my last child, but suffered agonies with three previous children," writes an enthusiastic mother who used Mother's Friend. Great has been the praise of Mother's Friend for over three generations!

Mother's Friend aids the skin and muscles to expand more easily during the constant readjustment of expectancy, month after month, right up to childbirth!

Mother's Friend is safe for you to use because it contains no harmful drugs and is applied externally.

Mother! Insist on Mother's Friend—the same as used by our mothers and grandmothers—don't wait—start using tonight—and meanwhile write Bradfield Regulator Co., Dept. 32, Atlanta, Ga., for free valuable booklet "Motherhood and the Coming Baby" (sent in plain envelope). It tells how Mother's Friend can help you during expectancy and at childbirth. This booklet also tells you many other things you want to know. "Mother's Friend" is sold by all druggists—everywhere.

to be noted that while the ten billion-dollar businesses united earn net profits aggregating $846,000,000 their dividend account runs to less than $400,000,000. Evidently they invest some of their profits in umbrellas, as against the inevitable rainy day.

These big corporations, for all their prosperity are rather heavily obligated to the money lenders, their total funded debt being considerably in excess of $3,000,000,000. The Southern Pacific leads in this respect with $765,000,000 of funded debt and the New York Central comes next with $701,000,000. All of the railroads, in fact, have large funded debts, while three of the industrials—Standard Oil, General Motors, the Ford Company—have no funded debts whatever.

The Ford Company, by the way, carries off honors for being the mystery corporation of the billion dollar group. There is no authentic record that will show just what it is worth, what its net profits are, or what dividends it pays. All those items have to be estimated. Its total assets are placed at $800,000,000, its market value at $1,000,000,000, and its net profits at ten per cent of that amount. What dividends it pays is the big guess, but it is known that there are but three stockholders in the Company, hence there is likely to be little bickering as to whether net profits should be distributed in salaries or dividends or retained to build up an imposing surplus such as that of United States Steel.

It is known, also, that the Ford Company leads the world in the number of automobiles it produces, its record for last year being 1,448,000 as against 1,216,000 for General Motors.

General Motors is now branching out rather impressively in the manufactur of ice machines or refrigerators, while Ford is going in for airplanes.

Field Work Retarded.

Work of improving the playing field of the Homer Laughlin baseball club has been retarded during the week by wet weather. Officials plan to make it one of the best in the Industrial league circuit.

QUIT GETTING UP NIGHTS

A Healthy Bladder Acts During the Day

C. N. Shuman, Republic, Ohio, says: "Before taking Lithiated Buchu (Keller Formula) had to get up six or seven times each night. Now I do not get up at all. You may use my name if it would benefit anyone with bladder trouble." Be careful not to take drugs that check the action of the bladder. You may have to continue its use. Lithiated Buchu (Keller Formula) increases the action during the day. It cleanses the bladder as epsom salts do the bowels driving out foreign matter, neutralizing excess acids, thereby relieving the irritation which causes "Getting Up Nights." The tablets cost 2c each at all drug stores or Keller Laboratory, Mechanicsburg, Ohio. Locally at J. D. Holloway, Druggist.

Mrs. Martha Broker And Howard Dickey Wed at Buffalo

Announcement was made today of the marriage of Mrs. Martha Broker of Buffalo, N. Y., and Howard Dickey, formerly of Newell, W. Va. The ceremony was performed Saturday, April 2, in Buffalo, where the bridegroom has been employed as a potter.

After April 9, Mr. and Mrs. Dickey will reside with the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Belle Dickey, Harrison street, Newell.

Time Turns Back As 50 Singers Give Ye Olden Concert

Time appreciably turned backward in its flight as in a benefit for the Ladies of G. A. R., 50 singers of the Orchard Grove Methodist Episcopal church gave a concert of "Ye Olden Songs and Readings," before a large audience in the Ceramic Cafeteria hall, Fifth street, last evening.

Fresh from a success of a similar performance at Pughtown, W. Va., Tuesday night and four former appearances in various sections of the city, the aggregation, directed by Mrs. H. Dan Smith as Temperance Primrose Prim, timeist and with Mrs. Samuel Crawford as Sophronia Sphinx, announcist, drew rounds of applause with numerous encores throughout the two-hour program.

In costumes of strange array, beribboned, long gowned, bonnets, generously feathered, a la four decades back, dresses bulging widely from hidden hoops with widened sleeves and high neck coiffures the women loomed a flareback from past generations to whom the men, mustached and whiskered, made excellent complements as with swallow-tailed coats, high silk hats, white vests and wide red cravats they completed the illusion of a former, distant day.

The organist was Mrs. A. M. Burns as Minerva Poundkeys, while Mr. Burns, as Professor Finnegan McBeonsky, realistically qualified as "fiddler."

Harry Thompson and Mrs. Charles Shope excelled in the role of minister and wife.

There was genuine pathos in Mrs. Harry Holmes' reading of "The New Church Organ;" tears, unrestrained, welled in many eyes as Mrs. Hattie Hapgood, carrying the part of Charity Anne Shoene, read impressively "Forty Years Ago," while Rev. E. A. Conn as Dr. Glouchester, drew peals of laughter in two numbers, "The Crack Mouthed Family" and "The Young Man Sat and Waited."

Clifford Smith, as Jack Pyle, appealingly sang "Carry Me Back To Old Virginny" and "Old Dog Way;" Miss Dorothy Holmes as Becky Meek drew encores in her vehicles of "Darling Nellie Gray" and "Love's Old Sweet Song" as did Mr. and Mrs. H. Dan Smith as Thankful Sommerville in "Old Fashioned Garden."

A medley of G. A. R. songs, made up of Civil war numbers, by Mr. Burns on "ye fiddle" evoked hilarious applause.

Particularly pleasing were xylophone numbers by Clarence Duff which consisted of "In the Garden of Tomorrow" and "Moonlight and Roses."

Exceedingly well received was the love ballad, "Pretty Sister Lou," by Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Heddleston. He, too, also sang, "The World Is Waiting for Sunrise."

The Village quartette consisting of Mr. and Mrs. H. Dan Smith, Charles A. Price and Mrs. Nieser contributed "Bohunker" fittingly.

The ensemble offerings, "Auld Lang Syne," "Comin' Thru the Rye," "Three Blind Mice," "Polly Wolly Doodle," "Jinkle Bells," "When the Bell in the White House Rings Ding Dong," "Zobo Chrous" and "Good Night Ladies" made possible many numerous reminiscent moves and acts by the singers.

Mrs. Edward Dunlap and Mrs. Carl Liebschner qualified as outstanding entertainers.

During the intermission young folk present were vividly shown how drink was dispensed in "Ye olden days" as H. Dan Smith "passed the water" from a wooden pail by the utilization of a tin "dipper."

The concert will be repeated later in the month at the First Presbyterian church in Chester, W. Va.

All-American Club Entertained.

Members of the All-American club were entertained last evening in the home of Mrs. Mary Orin, 1094 Pennsylvania avenue. A short business session was held, during which plans for a euchre and bake sale were discussed.

In costumes of strange array, beribboned, long gowned, bonnets, generously feathered, a la four decades back, dresses bulging widely from hidden hoops with widened sleeves and high neck coiffures the women loomed a flareback from past generations to whom the men, mustached and whiskered, made excellent complements as with swallow-tailed coats, high silk hats, white vests and wide red cravats they completed the illusion of a former, distant day.

The organist was Mrs. A. M. Burns as Minerva Poundkeys, while Mr. Burns, as Professor Finnegan McBeonsky, realistically qualified as "fiddler."

Harry Thompson and Mrs. Charles Shope excelled in the role of minister and wife.

There was genuine pathos in Mrs. Harry Holmes' reading of "The New Church Organ;" tears, unrestrained, welled in many eyes as Mrs. Hattie Hapgood, carrying the part of Charity Anne Shoene, read impressively "Forty Years Ago," while Rev. E. A. Conn as Dr. Glouchester, drew peals of laughter in two numbers, "The Crack Mouthed Family" and "The Young Man Sat and Waited."

Clifford Smith, as Jack Pyle, appealingly sang "Carry Me Back To Old Virginny" and "Old Dog Way;" Miss Dorothy Holmes as Becky Meek drew encores in her vehicles of "Darling Nellie Gray" and "Love's Old Sweet Song" as did Mr. and Mrs. H. Dan Smith as Thankful Sommerville in "Old Fashioned Garden."

A medley of G. A. R. songs, made up of Civil war numbers, by Mr. Burns on "ye fiddle" evoked hilarious applause.

Particularly pleasing were xylophone numbers by Clarence Duff which consisted of "In the Garden of Tomorrow" and "Moonlight and Roses."

Exceedingly well received was the love ballad, "Pretty Sister Lou," by Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Heddleston. He, too, also sang, "The World Is Waiting for Sunrise."

The Village quartette consisting of Mr. and Mrs. H. Dan Smith, Charles A. Price and Mrs. Nieser contributed "Bohunker" fittingly.

The ensemble offerings, "Auld Lang Syne," "Comin' Thru the Rye," "Three Blind Mice," "Polly Wolly Doodle," "Jinkle Bells," "When the Bell in the White House Rings Ding Dong," "Zobo Chrous" and "Good Night Ladies" made possible many numerous reminiscent moves and acts by the singers.

Mrs. Edward Dunlap and Mrs. Carl Liebschner qualified as outstanding entertainers.

During the intermission young folk present were vividly shown how drink was dispensed in "Ye olden days" as H. Dan Smith "passed the water" from a wooden pail by the utilization of a tin "dipper."

The concert will be repeated later in the month at the First Presbyterian church in Chester, W. Va.

SENATE PREPARES TO ACT ON STATE BUDGET BILL

HOUSE PASSES NORTON ROAD BUREAU PLAN

Minor Changes Made in Williamson Measure.

OTHER PROPOSALS

Upper Branch Approves Move to Increase Judges' Salaries.

By C. H. Haddox.

COLUMBUS, April 7.—Action is expected to be taken today by the Ohio senate on the Williamson appropriation bill and the Norton highway recodification bill, both of which passed the house late Wednesday by votes of 113 to 4 and of 90 to 24, respectively.

The Williamson bill, providing for appropriations of state funds approximating $51,000,000 is designed to take care of the major costs of state governmental activities during the 18-month's fiscal period beginning July 1, next.

The Norton bill contains provisions for separation of the state highway department and that of public works, established the office of state highway director, to be appointed by the governor, reduced special assessments for road improvements, a comprehensive plan for grade crossing elimination, and relieves counties and townships of all assessments for state road construction.

Despite numerous futile efforts on the part of various house members to cut out large items of expenditure for buildings, and by Rep. W. C. Wendt, Columbus, to add more than $750,000 to the appropriations for the state welfare department, the Williamson bill passed the lower legislative branch without being materially altered.

Recommend Chappelear Bill.

Such changes as were made were flatly minor ones, with a net reduction of $18,750 in the total appropriations.

The house health committee has recommended passage of the Chappelear bill, which requires a physical examination of all applicants for marriage and authorizes sterilization, and the house codes committee has taken similar action relative to the Comings bill, providing for sexual sterilization of mental defectives and certain classes of criminals. Both bills passed the senate.

The house is asked to concur in the action of the senate which passed bills and adopted resolutions including: By Senator Robert Rohe, Tiffin, providing for repair of road and memorial building in Speigel Grove State park, Fremont, and for labeling trees and constructing a fence there; by Kumbler, Preble county, memorializing congress to accord emergency army officers disabled in the World war the same retirement privileges given regular army officers; by Wise, of Stark, authorizing the lighting of state and county roads; by Lewis, Belmont, to apply delinquent penalty to taxes not paid when first half-year is due; by Marshall, Cuyahoga, to restrict loan sharks in "buying up" salaries by placing such transactions under provisions of usuary laws; by Rebman, Hamilton, declaring void and contrary to public policy any contracts whereby employes agree to refrain from union membership and employers agree to stay our of employers' associations; by Marshall, of Greene, requiring the mailing of notices of proposed state, county and township road improvements.

The senate passed the Ott bill, raising salaries of state supreme, appellate and common pleas court judges, the counties to pay the increases on all except supreme court judges, and concurred in house amendments to the Gillen-Burnett bill, transferring control of state schools for the deaf and blind from the state welfare department to the state educational department. Both bills now go to the governor.

Following the public hearing held Wednesday night the senate county affairs committee today reserved decision on the question of reporting out the bill by Representative H. E. Hill, Marion, already passed in the house, which seeks to prohibit public dancing and roller skating entertainment on Sunday. The session Wednesday night was attended by both opponents and proponents of the bill.

Senator J. E. Roberts, Youngstown, declared he intended to seek an amendment to the bill on the floor of the house, if it was reported out, so as to include automobile riding and golf and other forms of recreation.

Later, it was a pile of ashes. At present it is the most progressive of the four big cities in the United States, with the possible exception of Detroit. It has one thousand millionaires, listed as such on income tax returns, and 30 citizens declaring incomes of over a million a year each.

THE best of it is that Chicago men, proud of the city they have helped to build, stay in Chicago after they have made their money and spend in Chicago what they made there.

They even think that Chicago has the finest climate in the world, which shows you what local pride can do, mixed with imagination.

No boy is a complete failure until he runs away from the battle of life, then he is a failure.

Every man that runs away from a battle probably has a good excuse in his own mind, but every one is a coward. If boys would get that fact into their heads there would be fewer youthful suicides.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, April 7—Higher prices for the railroad and specialty stocks were recorded in extremely active trading in the first hour today. New York Central was the rallying ground for the bulls in the rail shares, the stock jumping more than 2 points at the opening, and selling in volume around 149, the highest price in the history of the company.

Advances in other rail shares were held up by a large amount of profit taking, but Pere Marquette, Western Maryland and Erie made further gains.

Durant's "startling" statement had been quite accurately forecasted, and was without significance in the stock market. Though retiring from directorates, he retains his stock in important companies, nor does he liquidate his speculative holdings of stocks from which he won enormous profits in the last few years.

Continental banking made further improvement, the stock advancing to 47, up 8 points from yesterday's low. Texas Gulf Sulphur, Colorado Fuel and Houston Oil featured the specialties. Oils were steady, in spite of a new 15-cent cut in Mid Continent crude, bringing prices to less than half of last fall's posted schedule. Independent steel stocks encountered considerable selling at the higher price levels. Copper stocks were firm and sugars inactive.

Call money was in supply at 4 per cent. Commodity markets were generally quiet, with few improvement price changes.

W. K. VANDERBILT MATRIMONIAL RIFT IN COURT

Action for Divorce or Separation Filed in Paris.

WIFE LEAVES U. S.

Reports Say Husband Plans to Wed Divorcee.

Copyright, 1927, International News Service.

PARIS, April 7.—The matrimonial difficulties of Mr. and Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, II., have reached the Paris divorce courts, it was learned today.

Action for a divorce or separation for the Vanderbilts has been filed with the Seine tribunal.

The exact scope of the action is not yet determined. It is not known whether it is a divorce action or merely a separation action, although it is generally believed to be a divorce action.

In accordance with the French laws the utmost secrecy is being maintained at the Palais de Justice regarding the case.

Conciliation Tribunal Call.

The court has ordered the appearance of both parties or their lawyers before a conciliation tribunal. This formal effort to reconcile the two parties is set for next week, and is the usual French legal proceedure prior to the actual granting of a decree. In the event of the conciliation tribunal failing in its efforts a decree may be expected within the course of two or three weeks.

Mrs. Vanderbilt, who was formerly Virginia Fair, is reported to be enroute to Paris and Vanderbilt has been cruising in the Mediterranean for several weeks and is frequently in French Riviera ports. It is understood that both parties will be in Paris when their action comes before the courts.

Vanderbilt on arriving in France several weeks ago denied that he contemplated any action, although admitting that he and his wife had been separated for some time.

In social circles it has long been understood that Vanderbilt desired a divorce in order that he might marry Mrs. Rosamond Lancaster Warburton, who was divorced some months ago in Paris from Barclay Warburton, Jr., of Philadelphia. Mrs. Warburton is understood to have been a guest recently in a yachting party given by Vanderbilt.

Financial Settlement Arranged.

Mrs. Vanderbilt is a Catholic and it has been said that she has opposed a divorce because of religious scruples and there have been reports that she would seek an annulment of her marriage by the rota tribunal.

It is understood that the action was brought by Vanderbilt, out of respect to Mrs. Vanderbilt's religious scruples.

Mrs. Vanderbilt, it is reported, will maintain the name of Virginia Fair Vanderbilt. Mrs. Vanderbilt was the daughter of one of the owners of the famous Comstock lode with John W. Mackay, father of Clarence H. Mackay.

Social gossip has it that Vanderbilt has already arranged a financial settlement for his wife, even though she is independently wealthy.

President Names Two District Court Judges and Marshal

WASHINGTON, April 7.—President Coolidge today appointed Elliott Northcott, of Huntington, W. Va., as judge of the United States circuit court for the fourth circuit.

He succeeds the late Judge John C. Rose. The circuit comprises Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, North and South Carolina.

William C. Coleman of Baltimore was appointed federal district judge for Maryland.

Martin Brown was appointed United States marshal for the western district of Michigan.

Two Youths Fined For Disturbance in Laurel Hill School

Earl Brooks, 21, and John Gallimore, also 21, both of Maplewood, were fined $10 and costs by Justice M. K. Zimerman, Lisbon, today upon charges of disturbing the Laurel Hill school, St. Clair township, on March 30.

The accused lads, with three other youths, are alleged to have visited the school and raised a disturbance. Warrants were issued after a conference between Ira F. Hassler, county attendance officer, and Prosecuting Attorney Robert Brookes. The two lads were arrested by Deputy Sheriff E. J. Fitzgerald.

They were released after arrangements had been made to pay the fines.

CHINESE MOB WOUNDS JAP

Lawlessness at Hankow Growing, U. S. Consul Reports.

PEKING, April 7.—Another Japanese has been wounded by a Chinese mob at Hankow, it was reported today by American Consul Lockhart. After being shot in the head the Japanese was rescued and taken aboard the United States gunboat Pigeon.

Consul Lockhart sent word that general lawlessness at Hankow is growing. All Americans remaining there are being urged to leave.

German residents have chartered an American ship for the evacuation of 100 German residents.

The Japanese, evidently, intend to defend the Japanese concession at Hankow with their warcraft—two cruisers, four destroyers and a gunboat.

Ships for Returning Americans.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Passenger lines will be utilized by the government to return those Americans from China that wish to come home, and also to transport the regiment of marines now mobilizing at San Diego to China.

Arrangements have been completed between the government and Pacific lines for "emergency facilities," it was said at the navy department today. These arrangements were necessary because the government has exhausted its regular transport service by the quick dispatch of thousands of marines to the Far East.

The transport Henderson is sailing from San Diego today with the recreated sixth marines. The transport Chaumont is now on the other side, having transported a regiment. The Chateau Thierry is unavailable for immediate service and the Thomas is said to be similarly unavailable.

Automobile Theft Ring Unveiled in Cincinnati Probe

CINCINNATI, O., April 7.—The ramifications of a national automobile theft ring, hidden behind spurious bills of sale and coded letters, with headquarters in Chicago and marketing points in nearly all major cities, were being slowly unveiled by department of justice agents today.

James Usher, 29, a Cincinnati contractor, was declared by Cincinnati police who were working with federal operatives, to have admitted today that he sold more than 50 cars stolen mostly from Indianapolis and Chicago.

Elton Siemer, a garage proprietor of Mt. Healthy, a Cincinnati suburb, was taken into custody by police today in connection with the far reaching investigation.

According to the stories alleged to have been obtained from Usher and Rupert Potthorff, 33, an Indianapolis mechanic, Chicago was the headquarters of the gigantic ring.

Coolidge Denies Filipinos Vote On Independence

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Philippine independence, the goal toward which Filipino leaders have been struggling for years, is yet a long way off.

President Coolidge has vetoed the resolution of the Filipino legislature, providing for a plebiscite on independence, and in so doing bluntly informed the island people they are not ready for self-government.

THIRD VENIRE IS CALLED IN MURDER TRIAL

Seek Jury to Hear Case of Boy at Jefferson.

DOUBLE TRAGEDY

Eleven Persons are Tentatively Seated in Hewitt Hearing.

JEFFERSON, O., April 7.—A third venire of prospective jurors was called today in the trial of Floyd Hewitt, 16 year old youth, charged with the slaying of Fred Brown, Jr., 5, and under indictment charged with killing the boy's mother, Mrs. Fred Brown. The second venire was exhausted Wednesday, with 11 tentative jurors seated.

In answer to a question as to whether they had formed any opinion regarding the crime, a majority of those examined replied in the affirmative, and great difficulty is being experienced in selecting a twelfth tentative juror.

Throughout the proceedings, Hewitt sits seemingly undisturbed, at times acting as if he wondered "what it's all about." The most pathetic figure in the courtroom is Fred Brown, Sr., husband and father of the victims of the brutal clubbing in Conneaut, last February 14. Sobbing almost constantly, he threatens to break down under the heavy burden of his grief and sorrow.

Alienists may be called upon by both defense and prosecution during the trial, according to reports here today. The defense, it is said, will be based upon testimony of doctors who are expected to declare that Hewitt is of sub-normal mind. Prosecutor C. B. Cook said today he would probably take steps to have psychiatrists examine Hewitt in an effort to prove he is mentally capable.

Red Cross Chapter Dinner is Planned Here Monday Night

Miss Julia Groscup, national field secretary of the American Red Cross with headquarters in Columbus, will address members of the executive board of the Red Cross chapter at a dinner meeting in the banquet hall of the Y. M. C. A. at 6 o'clock next Monday evening.

The purpose of Miss Groscup's visit is to consider plans for enlarging the scope of Red Cross activities here. She will spend both Monday and Tuesday in East Liverpool, during which time she will confer with local leaders.

Fire Damages Reformatory Barn.

MANSFIELD, O., April 7.—Belief that the fire which destroyed a state reformatory barn here last night, was of incendiary origin was expressed today, by Superintendent T. C. Jenkins. Six horses and two mules were cremated in the flames entailing a total loss of $10,000.

When Henry VIII was given by a stock company at Hobart, Tasmania, recently, it was the first time that the Shakespearean play was ever produced in Australia.

Two Autos Stolen Last Night; Third Job Frustrated

Two automobiles were reported to have been stolen here last night, while an attempt to steal a third car was frustrated.

Carl Hyatt, taxicab operator had one of his machines parked in Summit lane about 9:30 oclock when one of his drivers heard a noise in the layye. As he stepped from the garage two youths ran toward Fifth street. One of the lads had been in the car, apparently, trying to start the motor.

Danks Cochran, theatre musician, reported at 11:20 o'clock that his Jewett touring car had been stolen from its parking place near the corner of Sixth and Broadway. It carried license number 387-779.

Chevrolet touring car, carrying license number 389-309, was stolen while parked in front of the Ceramic Motor company's garage and sales rooms, West Fifth street.

Police were advised at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon that the Cochran car had been destroyed by fire on what is known as Gravel Hill near Smith's Ferry.

King Ferdinand Reported Better; Roumania is Quiet

VIENNA, April 7.—Official announcement was made at Bucharest today that King Ferdinand, of Roumania is much better, said a dispatch from the Roumanian capital today.

The dispatch pointed out, however, that no one outside the palace gates knows the actual state of the monarch.

Ferdinand is said to be seeing members of the royal family a few hours each day, especially enjoying the visits of little Michael, son of Carol, former Roumanian crown prince.

The stricken monarch can take only liquid food and very little of that.

Roumania is quiet politically.

TWO MEN AWAIT DEATH MARCH

COLUMBUS, O., April 7.—Hope for a stay of execution faded here today for George Thoma, 23, Mansfield, condemned to die tomorrow night for the killing of his sweetheart's foster parents, in November, 1926, when the state board of clemency and Gov. Donahey refused to interfere.

Two men will be led from the death house to the electric chair tomorrow night between 8 o'clock and midnight, Warden Thomas declared today. The other man is James Lyon, 27, Havana, Huron county, who was convicted of killing Frank McGrath, Cleveland detective, Feb. 18, 1926.

Thoma has prepared himself for death, while Lyon remains indifferent and whiles away his last hours smoking cigarettes and strumming a makeshift mandolin.

AARON SAPIRO INCOME NEARS $750,000 MARK

Earnings of "Wheat King" Traced in Libel Suit.

REED GETS FACTS

Ford's Chief Counsel Cross-examines Chicagoan.

FEDERAL BUILDING, DETROIT, April 7.—Revelations of the gross income paid Aaron Sapiro, so-called co-operative king by American farmers in the last decade, neared the $750,000 mark today at the trial of the Ford-Sapiro libel suit.

Senator James A. Reed, chief of Ford's counsel traced Sapiro's income from his amazing activities in the farm world dollar by dollar. Reed devoted hours of cross-examination to Sapiro's connection with fruit growers. The cooperative king testified he received $20,250 in fees since 1921 from the Federated Fruit Growers, Inc., alone.

There are lots of things said about buying a home — maybe too much. Everybody has a right to trade where he pleases, but it strikes us that the average person prefers to trade at home if he can do so well. It's simply a matter, therefore, of giving the home merchant first chance. See what he can offer before buying elsewhere.

SENATE PREPARES TO ACT ON STATE BUDGET BILL

HOUSE PASSES NORTON ROAD BUREAU PLAN

Minor Changes Made in Williamson Measure.

OTHER PROPOSALS

Upper Branch Approves Move to Increase Judges' Salaries.

By C. H. Haddox.

COLUMBUS, April 7.—Action is expected to be taken today by the Ohio senate on the Williamson appropriation bill and the Norton highway recodification bill, both of which passed the house late Wednesday by votes of 113 to 4 and of 99 to 24, respectively.

The Williamson bill, providing for appropriations of state funds approximating $51,000,000 is designed to take care of the major costs of state governmental activities during the 18-month's fiscal period beginning July 1, next.

The Norton bill contains provisions for separation of the state highway department and that of public works, established the office of state highway director, to be appointed by the governor, reduced special assessments for road improvements, a comprehensive plan for grade crossing elimination, and relieves counties and townships of all assessments for state road construction.

Despite numerous futile efforts on the part of various house members to cut out large items of expenditure for buildings, and by Rep. W. C. Wendt, Columbus, to add more than $750,000 to the appropriations for the state welfare department, the Williamson bill passed the lower legislative branch without being materially altered.

Recommend Chappelear Bill.

Such changes as were made were flatly minor ones, with a net reduction of $18,750 in the total appropriations.

The house health committee has recommended passage of the Chappelear bill, which requires a physical examination of all applicants for marriage and authorizes sterilization, and the house codes committee has taken similar action relative to the Comings bill, providing for sexual sterilization of mental defectives and certain classes of criminals. Both bills passed the senate.

The house is asked to concur in the action of the senate which passed bills and adopted resolutions including: By Senator Robert Rohe, Tiffin, providing for repair of road and memorial building in Speigel Grove State park, Fremont, and for labeling trees and constructing a fence there; by Kumbler, Preble county, memorializing congress to accord emergency army officers disabled in the World war the same retirement privileges given regular army officers; by Wise, of Stark, authorizing the lighting of state and county roads; by Lewis, Belmont, to apply delinquent penalty to taxes not paid when first half-year is due; by Marshall, Cuyahoga, to restrict loan sharks in "buying up" salaries by placing such transactions under provisions of usuary laws; by Rebman, Hamilton, declaring void and contrary to public policy any contracts whereby employes agree to refrain from union membership and employers agree to stay our of employers' associations; by Marshall, of Greene, requiring the mailing of notices of proposed state, county and township road improvements.

The senate passed the Ott bill, raising salaries of state supreme, appellate and common pleas court judges, the counties to pay the increases on all except supreme court judges, and concurred in house amendments to the Gillen-Burnett bill, transferring control of state schools for the deaf and blind from the state welfare department to the state educational department. Both bills now go to the governor.

Following the public hearing held Wednesday night the senate county affairs committee today reserved decision on the question of reporting out the bill by Representative H. E. Hill, Marion, already passed in the house, which seeks to prohibit public dancing and roller skating entertainment on Sunday. The session Wednesday night was attended by both opponents and proponents of the bill.

Senator J. E. Roberts, Youngstown, declared he intended to seek an amendment to the bill on the floor of the house, if it was reported out, so as to include automobile riding and golf and other forms of recreation.

Later, it was a pile of ashes. At present it is the most progressive of the four big cities in the United States, with the possible exception of Detroit. It has one thousand millionaires, listed as such on income tax returns, and 30 citizens declaring incomes of over a million a year each.

THE best of it is that Chicago men, proud of the city they have helped to build, stay in Chicago after they have made their money and spend in Chicago what they made there.

They even think that Chicago has the finest climate in the world, which shows you what local pride can do, mixed with imagination.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, April 7—Higher prices for the railroad and specialty stocks were recorded in extremely active trading in the first hour today. New York Central was the rallying ground for the bulls in the rail shares, the stock jumping more than 2 points at the opening, and selling in volume around 149, the highest price in the history of the company.

Advances in other rail shares were held up by a large amount of profit taking, but Pere Marquette, Western Maryland and Erie made further gains.

Durant's "startling" statement had been quite accurately forecasted, and was without significance in the stock market. Though retiring from directorates, he retains his stock in important companies, nor does he liquidate his speculative holdings of stocks from which he won enormous profits in the last few years.

Continental banking made further improvement, the stock advancing to 47, up 8 points from yesterday's low. Texas Gulf Sulphur, Colorado Fuel and Houston Oil featured the specialties. Oils were steady, in spite of a new 15-cent cut in Mid Continent crude, bringing prices to less than half of last fall's posted schedule. Independent steel stocks encountered considerable selling at the higher price levels. Copper stocks were firm and sugars inactive.

Call money was in supply at 4 per cent. Commodity markets were generally quiet, with few improvement price changes.

W. K. VANDERBILT MATRIMONIAL RIFT IN COURT

Action for Divorce or Separation Filed in Paris.

WIFE LEAVES U. S.

Reports Say Husband Plans to Wed Divorcee.

Copyright, 1927, International News Service.

PARIS, April 7.—The matrimonial difficulties of Mr. and Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, II., have reached the Paris divorce courts, it was learned today.

Action for a divorce or separation for the Vanderbilts has been filed with the Seine tribunal.

The exact scope of the action is not yet determined. It is not known whether it is a divorce action or merely a separation action, although it is generally believed to be a divorce action.

In accordance with the French laws the utmost secrecy is being maintained at the Palais de Justice regarding the case.

Conciliation Tribunal Call.

The court has ordered the appearance of both parties or their lawyers before a conciliation tribunal. This formal effort to reconcile the two parties is set for next week, and is the usual French legal proceedure prior to the actual granting of a decree. In the event of the conciliation tribunal failing in its efforts a decree may be expected within the course of two or three weeks.

Mrs. Vanderbilt, who was formerly Virginia Fair, is reported to be enroute to Paris and Vanderbilt has been cruising in the Mediterranean for several weeks and is frequently in French Riviera ports. It is understood that both parties will be in Paris when their action comes before the courts.

Vanderbilt on arriving in France several weeks ago denied that he contemplated any action, although admitting that he and his wife had been separated for some time.

In social circles it has long been understood that Vanderbilt desired a divorce in order that he might marry Mrs. Rosamond Lancaster Warburton, who was divorced some months ago in Paris from Barclay Warburton, Jr., of Philadelphia. Mrs. Warburton is understood to have been a guest recently in a yachting party given by Vanderbilt.

Financial Settlement Arranged.

Mrs. Vanderbilt is a Catholic and it has been said that she has opposed a divorce because of religious scruples and there have been reports that she would seek an annulment of her marriage by the rota tribunal.

It is understood that the action was brought by Vanderbilt, out of respect to Mrs. Vanderbilt's religious scruples.

Mrs. Vanderbilt, it is reported, will maintain the name of Virginia Fair Vanderbilt. Mrs. Vanderbilt was the daughter of one of the owners of the famous Comstock lode with John W. Mackay, father of Clarence H. Mackay.

Social gossip has it that Vanderbilt has already arranged a financial settlement for his wife, even though she is independently wealthy.

President Names Two District Court Judges and Marshal

WASHINGTON, April 7.—President Coolidge today appointed Elliott Northcott, of Huntington, W. Va., as Judge of the United States circuit court for the fourth circuit.

He succeeds the late Judge John C. Rose. The circuit comprises Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, North and South Carolina.

William C. Coleman of Baltimore was appointed federal district judge for Maryland.

Martin Brown was appointed United States marshal for the western district of Michigan.

Two Youths Fined For Disturbance in Laurel Hill School

Earl Brooks, 21, and John Gallimore, also 21, both of Maplewood, were fined $10 and costs by Justice M. K. Zimerman, Lisbon, today upon charges of disturbing the Laurel Hill school, St. Clair township, on March 30.

The accused lads, with three other youths, are alleged to have visited the school and raised a disturbance. Warrants were issued after a conference between Ira F. Hassler, county attendance officer, and Prosecuting Attorney Robert Brookes. The two lads were arrested by Deputy Sheriff E. J. Fitzgerald.

They were released after arrangements had been made to pay the fines.

CHINESE MOB WOUNDS JAP

Lawlessness at Hankow Growing, U. S. Consul Reports.

PEKING, April 7.—Another Japanese has been wounded by a Chinese mob at Hankow, it was reported today by American Consul Lockhart. After being shot in the head the Japanese was rescued and taken aboard the United States gunboat Pigeon.

Consul Lockhart sent word that general lawlessness at Hankow is growing. All Americans remaining there are being urged to leave.

German residents have chartered an American ship for the evacuation of 100 German residents.

The Japanese, evidently, intend to defend the Japanese concession at Hankow with their warcraft—two cruisers, four destroyers and a gunboat.

Ships for Returning Americans.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Passenger lines will be utilized by the government to return those Americans from China that wish to come home, and also to transport the regiment of marines now mobilizing at San Diego to China.

Arrangements have been completed between the government and Pacific lines for "emergency facilities," it was said at the navy department today. These arrangements were necessary because the government has exhausted its regular transport service by the quick dispatch of thousands of marines to the Far East.

The transport Henderson is sailing from San Diego today with the recreated sixth marines. The transport Chaumont is now on the other side, having transported a regiment. The Chateau Theirry is unavailable for immediate service and the Thomas is said to be similarly unavailable.

Automobile Theft Ring Unveiled in Cincinnati Probe

CINCINNATI, O., April 7.—The ramifications of a national automobile theft ring, hidden behind spurious bills of sale and coded letters, with headquarters in Chicago and marketing points in nearly all major cities, were being slowly unveiled by department of justice agents today.

James Usher, 29, a Cincinnati contractor, was declared by Cincinnati police who were working with federal operatives, to have admitted today that he sold more than 50 cars stolen mostly from Indianapolis and Chicago.

Elton Siemer, a garage proprietor of Mt. Healthy, a Cincinnati suburb, was taken into custody by police today in connection with the far reaching investigation.

According to the stories alleged to have been obtained from Usher and Rupert Potthorff, 33, an Indianapolis mechanic, Chicago was the headquarters of the gigantic ring.

Coolidge Denies Filipinos Vote On Independence

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Philippine independence, the goal toward which Filipino leaders have been struggling for years, is yet a long way off.

President Coolidge has vetoed the resolution of the Filipino legislature, providing for a plebiscite on independence, and in so doing bluntly informed the island people they are not ready for self-government.

THIRD VENIRE IS CALLED IN MURDER TRIAL

Seek Jury to Hear Case of Boy at Jefferson.

DOUBLE TRAGEDY

Eleven Persons are Tentatively Seated in Hewitt Hearing.

JEFFERSON, O., April 7.—A third venire of prospective jurors was called today in the trial of Floyd Hewitt, 16 year old youth, charged with the slaying of Fred Brown, Jr., 5, and under indictment charged with killing the boy's mother, Mrs. Fred Brown. The second venire was exhausted Wednesday, with 11 tentative jurors seated.

In answer to a question as to whether they had formed any opinion regarding the crime, a majority of those examined replied in the affirmative, and great difficulty is being experienced in selecting a twelfth tentative juror.

Throughout the proceedings, Hewitt sits seemingly undisturbed, at times acting as if he wondered "what it's all about." The purpose of Miss Groscup's visit is to consider plans for enlarging the scope of Red Cross activities here. She will spend both Monday and Tuesday in East Liverpool, during which time she will confer with local leaders.

Fire Damages Reformatory Barn.

MANSFIELD, O., April 7.—Belief that the fire which destroyed a state reformatory barn here last night, was of incendiary origin was expressed today, by Superintendent T. C. Jenkins. Six horses and two mules were cremated in the flames entailing a total loss of $10,000.

When Henry VIII was given by a stock company at Hobart, Tasmania, recently, it was the first time that the Shakespearean play was ever produced in Australia.

Two Autos Stolen Last Night; Third Job Frustrated

Two automobiles were reported to have been stolen here last night, while an attempt to steal a third car was frustrated.

Carl Hyatt, taxicab operator had one of his machines parked in Summit lane about 9:30 oclock when one of his drivers heard a noise in the layye. As he stepped from the garage two youths ran toward Fifth street. One of the lads had been in the car, apparently, trying to start the motor.

Danks Cochran, theatre musician, reported at 11:20 o'clock that his Jewett touring car had been stolen from its parking place near the corner of Sixth and Broadway. It carried license number 387-779.

Chevrolet touring car, carrying license number 389-309, was stolen while parked in front of the Ceramic Motor company's garage and sales rooms, West Fifth street.

Police were advised at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon that the Cochran car had been destroyed by fire on what is known as Gravel Hill near Smith's Ferry.

King Ferdinand Reported Better; Roumania is Quiet

VIENNA, April 7.—Official announcement was made at Bucharest today that King Ferdinand, of Roumania is much better, said a dispatch from the Roumanian capital today.

The dispatch pointed out, however, that no one outside the palace gates knows the actual state of the monarch.

Ferdinand is said to be seeing members of the royal family a few hours each day, especially enjoying the visits of little Michael, son of Carol, former Roumanian crown prince.

The stricken monarch can take only liquid food and very little of that.

Roumania is quiet politically.

TWO MEN AWAIT DEATH MARCH

COLUMBUS, O., April 7.—Hope for a stay of execution faded here today for George Thoma, 23, Mansfield, condemned to die tomorrow night for the killing of his sweetheart's foster parents, in November, 1926, when the state board of clemency and Gov. Donahey refused to interfere.

Two men will be led from the death house to the electric chair tomorrow night between 8 o'clock and midnight, Warden Thomas declared today. The other man is James Lyon, 27, Havana, Huron county, who was convicted of killing Frank McGrath, Cleveland detective, Feb. 18, 1926.

Thoma has prepared himself for death, while Lyon remains indifferent and whiles away his last hours smoking cigarettes and strumming a makeshift mandolin.

AARON SAPIRO INCOME NEARS $750,000 MARK

Earnings of "Wheat King" Traced in Libel Suit.

REED GETS FACTS

Ford's Chief Counsel Cross-examines Chicagoan.

FEDERAL BUILDING, DETROIT, April 7.—Revelations of the gross income paid Aaron Sapiro, so-called co-operative king by American farmers in the last decade, neared the $750,000 mark today at the trial of the Ford-Sapiro libel suit.

Senator James A. Reed, chief of Ford's counsel traced Sapiro's income from his amazing activities in the farm world dollar by dollar. Reed devoted hours of cross-examination to Sapiro's connection with fruit growers. The cooperative king testified he received $20,250 in fees since 1921 from the Federated Fruit Growers, Inc., alone.

"Where'd you get that cigar? Somebody married?"
"Nope, just paid my grocery bill."

They recently cured a drunkard in New York city by removing a bone that was pressing against the brain. And we've also heard that many others have been cured by the removal of a brass rail that was pressing against the foot.

We heard of a man the other day who said he couldn't eat peaches because the seeds hurt his stomach! Can you beat that?

Ain't nature peculiar? The caterpillar crawls around on his own stomach, but the bed bug ain't so particular.

There are some mighty good lumber dealers in East Liverpool. Also there are mighty fine people. We know them. Eliminating ourselves from the suggestion — if you wish — we think the home dealer should have a chance to estimate and quote his prices before you buy out of town. That's only fair.

There are lots of things said about buying a home — maybe too much. Everybody has a right to trade where he pleases, but it strikes us that the average person prefers to trade at home if he can do so well. It's simply a matter, therefore, of giving the home merchant first chance. See what he can offer before buying elsewhere.

"SINCLAIR NOT IN JAIL YET," SAY WISEACRES OF CAPITAL

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Although the cynic who said, "You can't convict a million dollars," has been proved wrong—for weren't Harry F. Sinclair and his millions convicted of contempt of the United States senate?—it remains to be seen whether or not jail yawns for any such amount of money.

HARRY F SINCLAIR

Even the Sinclair prosecution admits there may be several slip-ups between the verdict against Harry and the day when prison doors slam, with the oil magnate inside 'em.

It's more than three years already since Sinclair turned a deaf ear to questions of the senate public lands and surveys committee concerning the means by which his Mammoth Oil company got its lease to the navy's Teapot Dome petroleum reserve. Nobody imagines it will be less than another couple of years, at the soonest before the federal supreme court passes on the contempt case, with the term behind the bars that goes with it.

When that time comes, maybe the cynic above referred to will still be in a position to say, "You can't beat a million dollars on appeal anyway."

AT that, the consensus of Washington legal opinion is that Sinclair's two heavyweight lawyers, Martin W. Littleton and George P. Hoover, haven't much to congratulate themselves on, in that they didn't get their client off as well as Attorney Frank J. Hogan did for his customer, E. L. Doheny.

Doheny had hard luck with his civil suit, to hang onto his Elk Hills oil lands, but they didn't stick him on a criminal charge, at all events.

It's true that Sinclair's stretch won't be very long, at the worst. Yet the energy of his counsel's fight to show the legal limit on his possible stay in the hoosegow is only one month, and not four, hinted that he'd have preferred none whatever.

THE judgment of court officials who watched both the Fall-Doheny and Sinclair trials, is that Doheny in particular, and to some extent Fall, got the benefit of considerable human sympathy that didn't go out so warmly to Sinclair.

Doheny, on the witness stand, got in some popular licks about his early days in the Wild West, his experiences as a hasher in a cheap restaurant, his adventures as a mule skinner and his wanderings as a "desert rat," with an empty canteen and bad Indians and rattlesnakes "laying" for him back of every sage bush and cactus plant.

It was romantic and exciting. And here he was—a "poor old man" of 70, with his arm in a sling, and all that kind of stuff!

Fall wasn't so effective, but he profited some by the overflow.

Sinclair, on the contrary, gives the impression of "soft hands and a hard face" — referred to by the late Col Roosevelt.

Hogan made the most of Doheny as a regular old pioneer, which Littleton and Hoover couldn't do to such good advantage with Sinclair, because he wasn't one. He was a druggist.

ANOTHER thing Sinclair's friends have complained bitterly about from the first was that darned name—Teapot Dome.

If the thing had simply been referred to as Naval Oil Reserve No. So-and-so, they say the case never would have had any such popular appeal as it did have.

But "Teapot Dome" lent itself to every paragrapher and cartoonist in the whole country and the publicity they gave it did the business.

Livingstone's Home Saved.

The home of David Livingstone, the great African explorer, is to be included in the national memorial that is to be established in Scotland. Of the $60,000 required for the plan, nearly one-half has been subscribed, according to the report of the committee in charge. The committee plans to spend $35,000 in the purchase and alteration of the explorer's former home at Blantyre, and will use the balance of the subscription funds in memorials in other parts of the country. It expects to have the improvements to the building completed before Fall. The Glasgow Rotary club is taking an active part.

When the fire brigade of Eton college, England, recently gave an exhibition some of the students went through the fire drills wearing the traditional high silk hat of the institution.

During a terrific windstorm recently a stampede of a circus audience at Shepparton, Australia, was averted when the band played the national anthem until the "big top" could be lowered.

Doctors and good pharmacists know that Cod Liver Oil is full of vitamines that make flesh, create appetite, build up the power to resist disease and puts good solid flesh on skinny men and women.

But it's repulsive in taste and smell and nearly every stomach rebels against it.

So now men and women who keep up with the times are taking McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets — rich in flesh producing, health building, strength creating vitamines and as easy to take as candy.

Try them for 30 days if you want to fill out those scrawny hollows in chest, cheeks and neck and gain strength and vigor. And bear this in mind if they don't help you in that time any druggist anywhere will return your money. But demand McCoy's 60 tablets 60 cents.

DYNAMO NOW RUNS FORDS

Milwaukee, Wisc.—A recent invention has accomplished the impossible by harnessing the power of a Dynamo to a Ford. The inventor, through the Dynamo Company 426 1025 Eleventh St., Milwaukee, Wisc., has already installed this device on thousands of Ford cars with remarkable success. The invention does away with the old timer, makes cars run smoother, increases the power, saves gasoline, causes instant starting and quick pickup. So many Ford owners want this device that it is impossible for the Dynamo Company to take care of the business direct. Therefore, they want men everywhere to help them and will furnish free sample and full particulars of a $5000 a year job Write them today.—Adv.

PASTOR TALKS ON WORTH AND NEED OF PRAYER

Revival Services in First Evangelical Church.

MEETING TONIGHT

Special Sermons Arranged for Sunday Services.

First week of revival services in the Evangelical church will close tomorrow night with an address by Rev. L. C. Andre, pastor of the Free Methodist church.

The services will be resumed Sunday with meetings morning and night and will continue during next week.

Sunday morning's sermon subject will be "The Family That Had to Move." In the evening the sermon topic will be "The Conquest of the Cross."

"The Destiny of the Wicked" will be the theme of an address tonight by Rev. E. L. Zachman, pastor, who last night spoke on "The Three Prayers of Jesus."

Rev. Zachman said in part: "The three prayers of Jesus are recorded in the seventeenth chapter of St. John. The first prayer was for Himself, the second for his disciples and the third for us. It's a great source of comfort that we are remembered by some one in prayer. We will never be able to comprehend the real worth of a prayer until after we receive our eternal reward. Then we will see what prayer did and what it meant to us in this life.

"A prayerless life is useless and will mean the loss of all things. One thing is certain, no one ever attained eternal life without prayer and much less retained the spiritual life without prayer.

"What Jesus prayed for His disciples. He prayed for us who have believed: 'I pray not for them alone but for all that shall believe on me through their word.'"

WILL CONTINUE REVIVAL MEETS

Revival services in the Free Methodist church, Seventeenth street, will continue the remainder of the week, with meetings tonight, Friday and Saturday, Rev. L. C. Andre, pastor, announced today.

The services will be in charge of Rev. William Ward, who preached last night on the subject, "Christian Armor." Rev. Ward will preach each evening during the remainder of the week.

LOCAL GIRL WEDS KITTANNING MAN

Announcement has been made here of the marriage of Miss Edith Holliday, niece of Mrs. W. C. Holliday, of Washington avenue, to George Snyder, of Kittanning, Pa., which was solemnized recently in the Belmont Methodist Episcopal church, Pittsburgh, by the pastor, Rev. J. V. Stewart.

They will make their home in Sebring where the bridegroom is employer as a carpneter. The bride has been employed for some time as a stenographer in a Sebring pottery.

MASONS PLAN TWO DANCES

Arrange Friday Night Event, May Party Next Month.

Plans for two more dance events, which will close the winter and spring series, were announced today by officials of Wellsville lodge No. 180, F. & A. M.

The first of the closing dances will be held tomorrow night in the Masonic temple, in Main street, and the second, which will take the form of a May party, will be staged on Friday night, May 6.

Members of the local chapter of the Eastern Star will serve lunch at each of the dances.

DeMar Miller's orchestra will provide the music.

License Plate Fund Apportioned by County Auditor.

East Liverpool has received $1,201.04 from the sale of 449 sets of automobile license plates issued during March, the apportionment having been made by County Auditor Elmer E. Walker. With the exception of East Palestine, given $1,575.70 from 346 sets of plates, East Liverpool received the largest amount.

Collections throughout the county totaled $11,088.65, of which the state received $5,537.37, the corporations, $4,009.14, and the county road fund, $1,542.14. The total number of licenses issued [illegible] 1,218 went to residents of corporations and 550 to persons living outside the municipalities.

The distribution was as follows: Wellsville, 131 licenses, $288.75; Salem, 90 licenses, $274.95; Leetonia, 72 licenses, $195.85; Lisbon, 57 licenses, $181.55; Columbiana, 23 licenses, $82.10; Salineville, 38 licenses, $97.50; Rogers, two licenses, $12, Hanoverton, three licenses, $11.70; New Waterford, 20 licenses, $52; Washingtonville, 17 licenses, $36.

ODD FELLOWS PLAN OUTING EARLY IN JUNE

Ten Thousand Will Attend Rock Springs Park.

TRI-STATE EVENT

Athletic Program and Beauty Contests Slated.

Approximately 10,000 visitors from western Pennsylvania, eastern Ohio and the Panhandle district of West Virginia are expected to attend an Odd Fellows' picnic, which will be held at Rock Springs park, on Saturday, June 5.

Invitations have been addressed to about 300 lodges as far east as Wilmerding, Pa., west as Cleveland and Wooster and south as Wheeling. Many of the lodges have accepted the invitation, among them Steubenville, Bellevue, Pa., and others.

Grand masters of Ohio, West Virginia and Pennsylvania have been invited. Otway Gunnoe, of Gauley Bridge, W. Va., grand master of West Virginia has already advised the general committee that he will be present while S. N. Young, Toledo, grand master of Ohio and Herbert Marks Oil City, Pa., grand master of West Virginia, have promised to attend if at all possible to do so.

The visitors will come mainly in automobiles. Because of freight congestion on the Cleveland & Pittsburgh railroad, no excursion will be operated on the Ohio side of the river.

The day's program will include athletics and speech-making. A prize list is being arranged for the sports contests. There will be a baseball game, and an added feature will be a beauty contest. Park Manager C. C. Macdonald has offered a silver cup to the winner of the latter event.

Plans of the affair are in charge of a committee from East Liverpool lodge, No. 379, of which Charles Kidd is recording secretary. Other members of the general com[illegible]

MOTORIST ASKS $584 DAMAGES

City Court Suit Aftermath of Crash on November 8.

As an aftermath of an automobile accident which occurred near Walkers on the Wellsville East Liverpool road November 8, 1926, suit for $584 damages has been instituted in municipal court by Thomas Reed, 1008 Dresden avenue, against Matthew Andrews, Gaston Place.

Reed claims that he was driving a Ford coupe toward Wellsville, trailing a truck owned by Andrews. He charges that the driver of the truck, without warning, suddenly stopped the machine, which, he asserts, carried no lights. He alleges that his car was practically demolished when it crashed into the rear end of the truck. He is represented by Cochran and Crawford.

The Milliron Transfer & Storage company, through Brookes and Thompson, has filed an action to recover $558.23 from the Standard Porcelain company, of Leetonia. The money is claimed to be due for hauling, use of trucks and labor.

G. S. Thompson, Brookes building attorney, has sued Edward McVey, West Fifth street, for $500 alleged to represent the balance on a promissory note given to the Ohio Motor Sales company, April 23, 1926. The plaintiff is represented by Attorney P. V. Mackall.

The First National Bank has named George R. Lutton, Drury lane, and J. C. Lutton, Minerva street, defendants in a suit to collect $290 alleged to be due on a promissory note. Attorney P. V. Mackall is counsel for the plaintiff.

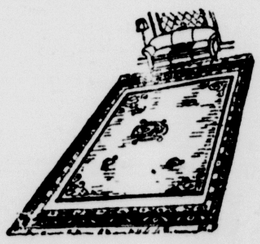

W. E. McCoy, Gus Burgess, Lee Copenhaver, William Long, R. D. Perrin, Ora Frank, William Peterson, Alexander Kidd and William Ridge. Sub-committees will be appointed.

To Stop Pedigree Fakers.

Efforts are being made in England to stop pedigree fakers that have been making big money swindling American visitors. It is said that scores of tourists returned home last year carrying fake family trees for which they paid large sums of money. The method of the pedigree faker is to hunt up some ancient family of the same name as the client, and supply their pedigree as his. The College of Heralds in London is constantly asked to check family trees which often turn out to be obvious fakes, but it is almost impossible to prove any case against the pedigree faker.

WELLSVILLE BOY SCOUTS FACE COURT OF HONOR

100 AWARDED MERIT BADGES AT CITY MEET

One Passes First Class Exam; 16 in Second Class.

45 LADS ATTEND

Five Troops Represented at Session Held Last Night.

One Boy Scout successfully passed the first class examination, 16 qualified as second class Scouts and more than a hundred were awarded merit badges for performances along the lines of Scout endeavor in Wellsville last night in one of the biggest court of honor meetings ever held in the county.

Approximately 45 Boy Scouts, members of five troops, including four Wellsville organizations and one from Yellow Creek township, attended the court of honor session.

The members of the court were Dr. William J. Smith, Charles Satow, D. P. Morrison and H. H. Whitacre.

Wellsville troops are those from the Methodist Protestant church, No. 22, the Methodist Episcopal church No. 20, the United Presbyterian church, No. 19, and the Immaculate Conception church, No. 21.

During the session the court of honor ruled that hereafter, no more than five badges shall be awarded at one meeting.

PASTOR TALKS ON WORTH AND NEED OF PRAYER

Revival Services in First Evangelical Church.

MEETING TONIGHT

Special Sermons Arranged for Sunday Services.

First week of revival services in the Evangelical church will close tomorrow night with an address by Rev. L. C. Andre, pastor of the Free Methodist church.

The services will be resumed Sunday with meetings morning and night and will continue during next week.

Sunday morning's sermon subject will be "The Family That Had to Move." In the evening the sermon topic will be "The Conquest of the Cross."

"The Destiny of the Wicked" will be the theme of an address tonight by Rev. E. L. Zachman, pastor, who last night spoke on "The Three Prayers of Jesus."

Rev. Zachman said in part: "The three prayers of Jesus are recorded in the seventeenth chapter of St. John. The first prayer was for Himself, the second for his disciples and the third for us. It's a great source of comfort that we are remembered by some one in prayer. We will never be able to comprehend the real worth of a prayer until after we receive our eternal reward. Then we will see what prayer did and what it meant to us in this life.

"A prayerless life is useless and will mean the loss of all things. One thing is certain, no one ever attained eternal life without prayer and much less retained the spiritual life without prayer.

"What Jesus prayed for His disciples. He prayed for us who have believed: 'I pray not for them alone but for all that shall believe on me through their word.'"

WILL CONTINUE REVIVAL MEETS

Revival services in the Free Methodist church, Seventeenth street, will continue the remainder of the week, with meetings tonight, Friday and Saturday, Rev. L. C. Andre, pastor, announced today.

The services will be in charge of Rev. William Ward, who preached last night on the subject, "Christian Armor." Rev. Ward will preach each evening during the remainder of the week.

LOCAL GIRL WEDS KITTANNING MAN

Announcement has been made here of the marriage of Miss Edith Holliday, niece of Mrs. W. C. Holliday, of Washington avenue, to George Snyder, of Kittanning, Pa., which was solemnized recently in the Belmont Methodist Episcopal church, Pittsburgh, by the pastor, Rev. J. V. Stewart.

They will make their home in Sebring where the bridegroom is employer as a carpeter. The bride has been employed for some time as a stenographer in a Sebring pottery.

MASONS PLAN TWO DANCES

Arrange Friday Night Event, May Party Next Month.

Plans for two more dance events, which will close the winter and spring series, were announced today by officials of Wellsville lodge No. 180, F. & A. M.

The first of the closing dances will be held tomorrow night in the Masonic temple, in Main street, and the second, which will take the form of a May party, will be staged on Friday night, May 6.

Members of the local chapter of the Eastern Star will serve lunch at each of the dances.

DeMar Miller's orchestra will provide the music.

License Plate Fund Apportioned by County Auditor.

East Liverpool has received $1,201.04 from the sale of 449 sets of automobile license plates issued during March, the apportionment having been made by County Auditor Elmer E. Walker. With the exception of East Palestine, given $1,575.70 from 346 sets of plates, East Liverpool received the largest amount.

Collections throughout the county totaled $11,088.65, of which the state received $5,537.37, the corporations, $4,009.14, and the county road fund, $1,542.14. The total number of licenses issued ... 1,248 went to residents of corporations and 550 to persons living outside the municipalities.

The distribution was as follows: Wellsville, 131 licenses, $288.75; Salem, 90 licenses, $274.95; Leetonia, 72 licenses, $195.85; Lisbon, 57 licenses, $181.55; Columbiana, 23 licenses, $82.10; Salineville, 38 licenses, $97.50; Rogers, two licenses, $12; Hanoverton, three licenses, $11.70; New Waterford, 20 licenses, $52; Washingtonville, 17 licenses, $36.

ODD FELLOWS PLAN OUTING EARLY IN JUNE

Ten Thousand Will Attend Rock Springs Park.

TRI-STATE EVENT

Athletic Program and Beauty Contests Slated.

Approximately 10,000 visitors from western Pennsylvania, eastern Ohio and the Panhandle district of West Virginia are expected to attend an Odd Fellows' picnic, which will be held at Rock Springs park, on Saturday, June 5.

Invitations have been addressed to about 300 lodges as far east as Wilmerding, Pa., west as Cleveland and Wooster and south as Wheeling. Many of the lodges have accepted the invitation, among them Steubenville, Bellevue, Pa., and others.

Grand masters of Ohio, West Virginia and Pennsylvania have been invited. Otway Gunnoe, of Gauley Bridge, W. Va., grand master of West Virginia has already advised the general committee that he will be present while S. N. Young, Toledo, grand master of Ohio and Herbert Marks Oil City, Pa., grand master of West Virginia, have promised to attend if at all possible to do so.

The visitors will come mainly in automobiles. Because of freight congestion on the Cleveland & Pittsburgh railroad, no excursion will be operated on the Ohio side of the river.

The day's program will include athletics and speech-making. A prize list is being arranged for the sports contests. There will be a baseball game, and an added feature will be a beauty contest. Park Manager C. C. Macdonald has offered a silver cup to the winner of the latter event.

Plans of the affair are in charge of a committee from East Liverpool lodge, No. 379, of which Charles Kidd is recording secretary. Other members of the general committee, ... W. E. McCoy, Gus Burgess, Lee Copenhaver, William Long, R. D. Perrin, Ora Frank, William Peterson, Alexander Kidd and William Ridge. Sub-committees will be appointed.

MOTORIST ASKS $584 DAMAGES

City Court Suit Aftermath of Crash on November 8.

As an aftermath of an automobile accident which occurred near Walkers on the Wellsville East Liverpool road November 8, 1926, suit for $584 damages has been instituted in municipal court by Thomas Reed, 1008 Dresden avenue, against Matthew Andrews, Gaston Place.

Reed claims that he was driving a Ford coupe toward Wellsville, trailing a truck owned by Andrews. He charges that the driver of the truck, without warning, suddenly stopped the machine, which, he asserts, carried no lights. He alleges that his car was practically demolished when it crashed into the rear end of the truck. He is represented by Cochran and Crawford.

The Milliron Transfer & Storage company, through Brookes and Thompson, has filed an action to recover $558.23 from the Standard Porcelain company, of Leetonia. The money is claimed to be due for hauling, use of trucks and labor.

G. S. Thompson, Brookes building attorney, has sued Edward McVey, West Fifth street, for $500 alleged to represent the balance on a promissory note given to the Ohio Motor Sales company, April 23, 1926. The plaintiff is represented by Attorney P. V. Mackall.

The First National Bank has named George R. Lutton, Drury lane, and J. C. Lutton, Minerva street, defendants in a suit to collect $290 alleged to be due on a promissory note. Attorney P. V. Mackall is counsel for the plaintiff.

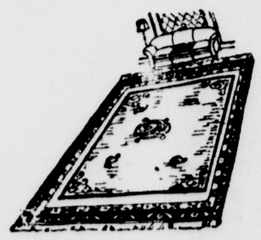

To Stop Pedigree Fakers.

Efforts are being made in England to stop pedigree fakers that have been making big money swindling American visitors. It is said that scores of tourists returned home last year carrying fake family trees for which they paid large sums of money. The method of the pedigre faker is to hunt up some ancient family of the same name as the client, and supply their pedigree as his. The College of Heralds in London is constantly asked to check family trees which often turn out to be obvious fakes, but it is almost impossible to prove any case against the pedigree faker.

HATTIE

By Samuel Merwin

SYNOPSIS.

HATTIE JOHNSON, just 17, is a somewhat colorless little girl, who works in the mailing room of a printing and bookbinding establishment. She and the office boy have been seen holding hands—otherwise there has been no romance in her life. One day a girl who had formerly worked in the mailing room comes to call. Her name is

LUCILLE OVERMAN, and she is now working in pictures. She takes Hattie to the studio where she, Lucille, is to have a screen test. Hattie there is seen by the famous director,

DE BRISSAC, who makes a screen test of her and offers her a contract. Hattie lives with her married sister,

ALICE, and her baby daughter, Emily, and

GRANDMA, a querulous semi-invalid. They all start for California with De Brissac, who suggests books for Hattie to read to "form her mind." On the train she meets

HENRY O'MALLEY, De Brissac's head camera man. They arrive at Beverly. Hattie goes to the studio to find De Brissac, and he kisses her. Clandestinely, so that De Brissac will not know, Hattie and O'Malley meet and go out together. A dark little girls comes to Hattie's dressing room, saying it used to be hers. De Brissac wants Hattie to go away for a week with him on his yacht. The little dark girl comes to his office while Hattie is there and tries to throw acid on her, but De Brissac prevents her, although his hand is burned.

CHAPTER SIXTEEN.

Alice was awakened that night by the sound of a door opening, then closing. She lay for a brief time in breathless quiet, thinking of burglars. Then, cautiously, fearful at once of meeting danger in the hall and of waking Emily, she got out of bed, drew on her old lavender wrapper and peered out at her door. There was no one in the hall. She moved out there. The sound of a voice came, Hattie's voice. She stood a moment outside Hattie's door. The girl was certainly talking. Alice, puzzled, hesitatingly, carefully opened the door.

Hattie, standing before her mirror, turned with a start. She was in her nightgown, feet bare. Apparently she had been staring and talking at her image in the mirror.

"What's the matter with you?" Alice asked, rather sharply.

"I—nothing."

"But you're . . . ." Alice concluded this sentence with a nervous wave of the hand.

"I couldn't sleep."

"But talking like this! Are you out of your head?"

"Of course I'm not."

Alice stepped within and closed the door. "Anyhow, there's no good in waking Gran'ma. I'd like to know what's ailing you, Hattie. You haven't acted like yourself for weeks."

Hattie regarded her with fright in her eyes. Finally she said—"I can't go back to that place."

"Can't go back? You mean . . ."

"On the lot."

"But that's silly. Of course you'll go back.

"You don't know how I feel."

"What's that got to do with it?" A pause. "What's the matter? Something's happened.

"Why . . . no, it isn't that, exactly. But it's such a drive. I'm tired, Alice."

"What of it? Maybe you think I haven't been tired. How about those days back in New York when I had to dress Emily and cook the breakfast and be at the store at half-past eight and work until half-past five and then hurry home in the subway and cook supper." The thought had carried her back to a groove that was worn ineradicably across her nerves; she was talking rapidly, monotonously in a rush of feeling that was by no means normal. "Maybe you think I don't know what it is to lie awake at night and dread the morning. Maybe you think I haven't tossed and worried and fought again to the point of giving up the whole business and then set my teeth and gone straight on with it because there wasn't anything else to do."

Hattie was dressed and waiting when the morning paper came.

She seated herself on the bed. Hattie leaned back against the dresser, gazing moodily at her.

"Certainly you'll go back. You'll go back for the same reason I always did, because it's the only thing to do. You'll live up to your contract. Three years of it! That's what you'll do."

"Three years!" Hattie breathed.

"Oh, you needn't think I'm enjoying the situation any more than you are. You dragged us into this. Here we are, now. Perhaps we're ditched—I don't know. I can't figure the thing out. I've been going over our bills. One thing I'm sure of, it's costing too much to live."

"I have to have clothes," faltered Hattie.

"You have to have a lot of things. So do the rest of us. Right now I've got to spend something on Emily, and I haven't got it. She's in rags. A hundred a week sounds like quite a little money, but it doesn't seem to get us anywhere in Beverly. Four mouths to feed, and the rent of this place, and all Gran'ma's expenses, and keeping up your position. You're all drawn up at the studio?"

Hattie soberly inclined her head. "Drawn up to the end of this month."

Alice spread her hands. "There you are! And we're broke again. Mr. de Brissac seems to believe in you, perhaps he'd lend you something."

Hattie quickly shook her head.

"Well . . maybe you think I haven't been facing this thing out. Somehow we're not right. We're not even headed right. You can't break your contract. And if you could we wouldn't have the money even to get us back to New York. No, there's only one thing."

"What's that?" Hattie asked, nervously alert.

"I've seen it coming. I'm going at it in the morning?"

"But what?"

"Going into L. A. and make the rounds of the big stores. There'll be one of 'em sooner or later that'll be glad to pick up an experienced saleswoman."

Hattie's eyes filled with tears. "Oh no, Alice, I don't want you—"

Alice spread her hands again. "What else is there? If it's going to cost us more to live, we've simply got to earn more. What other way is there? And at that it'll give me something to do. Maybe you think I enjoy sitting around here all day trying to keep up Gran'ma' spirits. It's getting on my nerves, I tell you. . . . No, young lady, the thing for you to do is to get some sleep. Then in the morning you'll go back to the lot and do your job. You can't afford to indulge in temperament. Not yet awhile. And as soon as I've washed the breakfast dishes I'll take the trolley into L. A."

Hattie was dressed and waiting when the morning paper came. In a state of mind near to horror she stared at the headlines, but there was nothing on the front page. Nothing inside anywhere. She couldn't believe her eyes, and went to it again, page by page; but found not a word about herself or de Brissac, no hint of a scandal. They hadn't got it yet. The afternoon papers would have it. . . . .

HATTIE

By Samuel Merwin

SYNOPSIS.

HATTIE JOHNSON, just 17, is a somewhat colorless little girl, who works in the mailing room of a printing and bookbinding establishment. She and the office boy have been seen holding hands—otherwise there has been no romance in her life. One day a girl who had formerly worked in the mailing room comes to call. Her name is

LUCILLE OVERMAN, and she is now working in pictures. She takes Hattie to the studio where she, Lucille, is to have a screen test. Hattie there is seen by the famous director, DE BRISSAC, who makes a screen test of her and offers her a contract. Hattie lives with her married sister,

ALICE, and her baby daughter, Emily, and

GRANDMA, a querulous semi-invalid. They all start for California with De Brissac, who suggests books for Hattie to read to "form her mind." On the train she meets

HENRY O'MALLEY, De Brissac's head camera man. They arrive at Beverly. Hattie goes to the studio to find De Brissac, and he kisses her. Clandestinely, so that De Brissac will not know, Hattie and O'Malley meet and go out together. A dark little girls comes to Hattie's dressing room, saying it used to be hers. De Brissac wants Hattie to go away for a week with him on his yacht. The little dark girl comes to his office while Hattie is there and tries to throw acid on her, but De Brissac prevents her, although his hand is burned.

The usual result of the first ride—

"MUSCLES ALL TIED UP IN HARD KNOTS"

Limbers up quickly after hard ride

"After several years' absence from the saddle, I took a hard horseback ride, and the next day my muscles were all tied up in hard knots. I applied Sloan's Liniment. Right away the tenseness in the muscles began to relax and in an hour or so, they felt as limber as ever."

The makers of this wonderful liniment have received many thousands of letters like this telling of the amazing relief that Sloan's gives to every kind of muscular pain.

Sloan's gives real and lasting help because it doesn't just deaden the pain. It gets at the cause. Right to the place that hurts it brings a healing stream of fresh, new blood. And stiff muscles quickly relax, and pain stops as the healing stream carries off the "fatigue poisons." Get a bottle today. All druggists—35 cents.

FRIGIDAIRE—Low Cost Refrigeration

This does an extra man's work by eliminating outside ice supply

This Frigidaire "frost coil" placed in the ice compartment of your refrigerator is equal to 35 tons of ice a year.

TO BE able to buy perishables in larger quantities and to be sure that they will keep in perfect condition until they are sold—to keep your refrigerator at a uniformly low temperature without the daily necessity of reicing—these considerations would make Frigidaire show a profit for you. And in addition, Frigidaire's operating cost is actually less than the cost of ice. Grocers, meat merchants, druggists, hotel and restaurant owners, florists and confectioners have found that Frigidaire will cut their costs and increase their profits. Over 300,000 users will testify to the efficiency, economy and year-in, year-out dependability of Frigidaire. Find out what Frigidaire will do for you.

6 GOOD REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD BUY THE

ERSKINE SIX

CUSTOM FOUR-DOOR SEDAN

$995 F.O.B. FACTORY

1 All steel body, custom design, with deep drawn steel stampings forming beautiful curved lines at the back, and curved side members carried over the top, constituting the finest possible body construction. Body trimming of Bedford cord and broadcloth. Novel instrument board in duotone colors, with cigarette and glove boxes built in, gasoline gauge and customary instruments. Fine hardware and interior decoration. Entire body much superior to any competitive $1,000 job ever offered in America. Comparisons are urgently invited and will prove convincing.

2 Chassis of modern simplified design. Material and workmanship of Studebaker quality throughout, comparable to the finest obtainable. Self-energizing four-wheel brakes, nickel plated bumpers front and rear, motometer, beautiful crown fenders, and numerous other quality features never before furnished in a $1,000 car.

3 Beauty and smartness characterize the car. The body, fenders and general outlines were designed by R. H. Dietrich, one of the foremost custom body designers of the country. The car has irresistible style appeal. It created a sensation at all of the European automobile shows and the shows in this country, where it was viewed by over two million people.

4 The performance of the car is remarkably efficient and much superior to most, if not all, cars in the $1,000 field. It will accelerate from 5 to 25 miles in 8½ seconds; climb an 11% grade in high gear and develop 60 miles per hour. It is free from mechanical defects and will stay out of the repair shop.

5 The car is well balanced, with scientific spring suspension and seat cushioning. The result is the superior riding qualities of the big, high priced cars. In riding comfort, the car is equaled by few, if any, small cars on the market.

6 The price of $995 f. o. b. Detroit is low compared with half a dozen other Sixes selling for more money. Actual comparisons with such cars, ranged alongside an Erskine, will demonstrate the truth of this assertion.

If you appreciate quality and value, examine and drive an* ERSKINE SIX *before you buy any car this Spring

FRIGIDAIRE—Low Cost Refrigeration

This does an extra man's work by eliminating outside ice supply

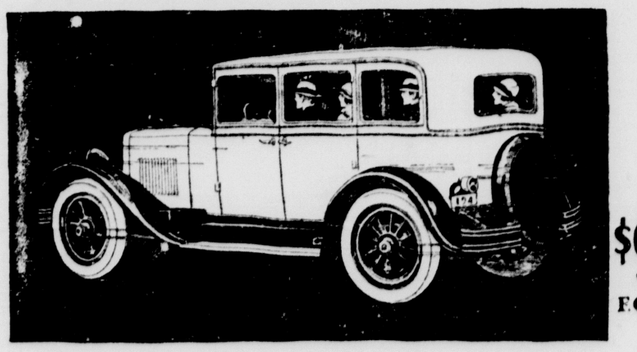

This Frigidaire "frost coil" placed in the ice compartment of your refrigerator is equal to 35 tons of ice a year.

TO BE able to buy perishables in larger quantities and to be sure that they will keep in perfect condition until they are sold—to keep your refrigerator at a uniformly low temperature without the daily necessity of reicing—these considerations would make Frigidaire show a profit for you. And in addition, Frigidaire's operating cost is actually less than the cost of ice. Grocers, meat merchants, druggists, hotel and restaurant owners, florists and confectioners have found that Frigidaire will cut their costs and increase their profits. Over 300,000 users will testify to the efficiency, economy and year-in, year-out dependability of Frigidaire. Find out what Frigidaire will do for you.

6 GOOD REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD BUY THE ERSKINE SIX CUSTOM FOUR-DOOR SEDAN

$995 F.O.B. FACTORY

1 All steel body, custom design, with deep drawn steel stampings forming beautiful curved lines at the back, and curved side members carried over the top, constituting the finest possible body construction. Body trimming of Bedford cord and broadcloth. Novel instrument board in duotone colors, with cigarette and glove boxes built in, gasoline gauge and customary instruments. Fine hardware and interior decoration. Entire body much superior to any competitive $1,000 job ever offered in America. Comparisons are urgently invited and will prove convincing.

2 Chassis of modern simplified design. Material and workmanship of Studebaker quality throughout, comparable to the finest obtainable. Self-energizing four-wheel brakes, nickel plated bumpers front and rear, motometer, beautiful crown fenders, and numerous other quality features never before furnished in a $1,000 car.

3 Beauty and smartness characterize the car. The body, fenders and general outlines were designed by R. H. Dietrich, one of the foremost custom body designers of the country. The car has irresistible style appeal. It created a sensation at all of the European automobile shows and the shows in this country, where it was viewed by over two million people.

4 The performance of the car is remarkably efficient and much superior to most, if not all, cars in the $1,000 field. It will accelerate from 5 to 25 miles in 8½ seconds; climb an 11% grade in high gear and develop 60 miles per hour. It is free from mechanical defects and will stay out of the repair shop.

5 The car is well balanced, with scientific spring suspension and seat cushioning. The result is the superior riding qualities of the big, high priced cars. In riding comfort, the car is equaled by few, if any, small cars on the market.

6 The price of $995 f. o. b. Detroit is low compared with half a dozen other Sixes selling for more money. Actual comparisons with such cars, ranged alongside an Erskine, will demonstrate the truth of this assertion.

If you appreciate quality and value, examine and drive an ERSKINE SIX before you buy any car this Spring

Other models are the Tourer, seating five, $945; the Custom Coupe with dickey seat, seating four, $995; and the Business Coupe seating two, $945 f. o. b. factory, with excise tax and freight to be added.

Antlers' Court Season To Be Extended For Two More Games

Battle Enoch Rauhs In Feature Contest Here Saturday Night

Nate Lippe, Who, as Member of Pittsburgh Aggregation, Was Voted Most Valuable Player in Allegheny Loop, Will Line up With Elks; Benefit Tilt With Midland Will End Campaign.

Like old friends who fain would never part, the East Liverpool Elks club and the current basketball season will not sever relations, for a few days, at least, it was indicated today with the announcement by officials of the B. P. O. E. organization that the Elks will tangle with the Enoch Rauh club of the Allegheny county loop on Saturday night at the high school auditorium.

And, in addition to this, arrangements were completed today for another game with Midland as a benefit performance for Frank Neilson, injured pottery worker, who is unable to support his family of eight children. This engagement will be staged next Friday night on the high school court here.

With two such attractions as these lined up, district basketball followers probably will be quite willing to run the season over a little. Games of this variety are not every day occurrences.

The Elks have had a taste of Allegheny league basketball in their series with the Lafayettes and have found it pretty stringent, although there are more than a few here who still retain the belief, after seeing the two games, that the Elks, with Ray Wilde in there, could lick the Lafayettes in four games out of every five.

Now then, the Rauhs finished second in the Allegheny county circuit this season, giving the Duquesne passers more trouble than the rest of the loop combined.

In scheduling the contest a difficult choice was left to Nate Lippe, who has played forward for the Elks and the same position for the Rauhs during the season.

Nate finally has decided to cast his lot with the East Liverpool aggregation and will do his mightiest to topple his old teammates in the clash here Saturday night.

The Rauhs, however, was well fortified in reserve strength and while unable to fill Lippe's place with a man of his own caliber, will have a good substitute.

CELTICS LAND SERIES OPENER

Win From Rosenblums by Score of 29-21.

CLEVELAND, April 7.—Cleveland will try to square accounts with the Brooklyn Celtics here tonight in the second game of the world's basketball series.

The Celtics won the first game here last night, 29 to 21. At the end of the first half the score was tied—14-14.

Holman and Lopschick for Brooklyn and Tusta for Cleveland were individual stars.

The Celtics, living up to their well known reputation, displayed a swift, split-second passing game which kept the Clevelanders dizzy at times. Cleveland led the way, point by point, to the end of the first half when the Shamrocks breezed alongside and from then on it was nothing but Brooklyn. Husta was unable to do any damage in the last period because of Banks' wonderful interference. The Ohioans apparently lost their aim comp' tely in the second half.

Following the second game of the three-out-of-five series the teams will leave for New York to continue the battle.

Tribe in Good Shape.

NEW ORLEANS, April 7.—Following a practice session here today the Cleveland Indians will leave for Tuscalcosa, Ala., where they will play an exhibition game against the University of Alabama team Friday. All members of the tribe are in good shape, according to Manager McCallister, except Lutzke, who has strained back muscles. Doctors say he will be in shape to start the regular season, however.

CHESTER CLUB MEET FRIDAY

Manager Riley Calls Session for City Hall.

Manager Frank Riley of the Chester City Industrial Baseball League club has called a meeting of players for tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the city hall, Fourth street.

The Chesterites, who won the bunting a couple of years ago and lost the flag to Laughlin last season, will discuss plans for the 1927 campaign.

Pete Cebula, who recently returned from High Point, N. C., where he worked out, along with his brother, Mike, with the Piedmont leaguers, probably will be seen in the Chester infield again.

Yanks Trim Cards.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., April 7.—With New York one up, the final game of the Yankee-Cardinal spring series will be played here today. The Yanks' 5 to 4 victory over the Cards in ten innings at Chattanooga yesterday was featured by Wiley Moore's pitching and Dugan's homer with the bases loaded.

PLAN BEAGLE FIELD TRIALS

Hounds to Run Saturday on Brennaman Farm.

Final arrangements for the field trials to be held by the Ohio Valley Beagle club will be completed at a meeting of the organization tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the Camarda building, West Fifth street.

The field trials will be staged Saturday on the Herbert Brennaman farm, back of Congo, the first of a series of similiar events to be held during the season.

There will be at least three classes of hounds in the trials and a couple of pack races as added feature.

A large number of entries are expected for the inaugural event.

Reiselt Regains Billiard Honors

Wins 300-point Match With Augie Kieckhefer.

CHICAGO, April 7.—Otto Reiselt, of Philadelphia, today was back on his throne as three-cushion billiard champion of the world.

Reiselt regained his title by winning his 300-point championship match with Augie Kieckhefer, of Chicago, defending champion. The final 60 point block was played last night.

The match score was 300 to 240. Reiselt ran out his final 60 points in 58 innings. His high run for the match was 6, against Kieckhefer's 5.

Cubs Lose To Kansas City.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 7.—The Cubs were eager to redeem themselves today in the second game of the series with the Kansas City Blues. The Bruins lost yesterday, 2 to 1.

Tunney Not Bound To Tex's Contract

New Ruling Says Dates and Foes Must be Named.

NEW YORK, April 7. — So-called "boxing monopolies" can no longer exist in New York state as a result of the action of the New York state athletic commission in adopting a ruling against "blanket" contracts—agreements covering options on services of boxers for stated limits—except where opponents and dates are specified.

The ruling means that promoters cannot hold boxers to such agreements if they desire to break away and sign with other promoters. It was pointed out that Gene Tunney, for instance, is not bound to the contract he signed with Promoter Tex Rickard in St. Louis last January because neither the champion's next opponent nor the date and location of the bout is named.

Although the ruling gives other promoters an equal chance against Rickard, the leading impressario in these parts, it was not believed that Tex would lose the next heavyweight championship bout. Promoter Humbert Fugazy, for one, declared he was not interested in signing Tunney, although it was reported that Fugazy is dickering for a match between Paolino Uzcudun and Harry Wills and also for a match involving Jack Sharkey, Boston heavyweight.

Sox Get 17 Drives.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 7.—Inspired by their 8 to 1 victory over the Memphis Chicks here yesterday, the White Sox took the field today determined to make it "two in a row." The Sox flattened the Southern leaguers yesterday under an avalanche of 17 safe hits. Barrett led with four.

Play Atlanta Again.

ATLANTA, Ga., April 7. — The Brooklyn Dodgers play Atlanta here again today. The Crackers won yesterday's game, 3 to 1, behind the pitching of Ray Francis, former Yankee hurler. Brooklyn has released Infielder Billy Rheill to the Crackers.

Approximately 1,000,000 miners in Great Britain mined 5,267,000 tons of coal in a recent week.

TUNNEY 1 TO 10 SHOT IN FIELD

Fight Critic, However, Rates Old Dempsey as His Peer.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, April 7.—It may be of fleeting interest to Gene Tunney to know that his ex-friend and now severest critic without a contest, Tima Mara, regards the champion as a cake walk, a 1 to 10 shot, against the field of heavyweight contenders as they stand today. Mara is a successful race track bookmaker, so the quoting of odds with him is not idle converse; he is a professional football promoter. Hence to him money is no object, provided it is someone else's; and he is one of a most select few who rode with Tunney against Dempsey, therefore his words are wisdom until such time as bigger and better ones turn up.

He, however, named Tunney as a standout today with at least one reservation to the effect that all bets were off if Dempsey succeeded in coming back to his 1923 form, it being his contention that Jack Kearns and not Gene Tunney beat the ex-champion. Lacking definite knowledge of Dempsey's condition, Mara intimated that he was forced to regard Jack Sharkey and Jimmy Maloney as the best of the contenders and here again another reservation was interpolated.

Loughran Best of Field.

It was to the effect that Tommy Loughran, Philadelphia light heavyweight, must now be considered a member of the field.

"I think Loughran can beat all of them except Tunney," Mara said. "He's too fast and too smart for the rest of these fellows and I think they know it. Anyhow, I notice that none of them is giving him a tumble.

"Against Delaney for the light heavyweight title, I'd regard Loughran as a sure thing and bet that way. However, if Dempsey could come back like old Jack, he would beat them all, Tunney included. I figured Kearns would break him down with legal worries bet heavily on the idea and at Philadelphia I saw Kearns win that fight, instead of Tunney. Still, you can't consider Dempsey until he shows something besides a hospital bill and a lot of skin eruptions."

Five Clubs Line Up For Soft Ball Loop

Laughlin, Bulgers, Printers, Y. M. C. A. and High School in; Ohio Power, K. of C., and Heimies Other Possible Entries.

WITH five clubs definitely lined up already and several others checking up on their forces before the plunge, indications today pointed to the successful organization of a city recreation or "soft ball" league.

The proposed league is really a new venture here, although a number of teams have played the game in recent years, and the majority are taking to it with considerable interest.

Joe Dickey, at the Newell Homer Laughlin plant, is in with a club, which ought to be a formidable contender, if in keeping with the caliber of the Laughlin City league baseball team. The Laughlins have a lot near the plant and are open for practice games already.

Ted Scheffer is engaged in lining up a Y. M. C. A. aggregation and should be able to bring together a good squad.

The Printers, who played a couple of games toward the close of last summer, will probably be able to muster a strong outfit.

N. F. Lorah, athletic coach at the high school, will combine teachers and students to form another good entry.

The Bulger Drugs, who recently closed a good basketball campaign, can be counted on for some real talent and already are pretty well along in their organization work.

The Knights of Columbus, managed by Joseph A. McKenna, Washington street, while not entered definitely yet, are expected to come in in the next few days and the Ohio Power company, which boasted a baseball club last season, is another possibility, along with a team from Heimie's.

A meeting will be called in the near future to complete the organization.

K.-C. CAGE FOES CLASH TONIGHT

Benedicts and Bachelors Battle on M. E. Court.

Basketball history is expected to be made at 7 o'clock tonight, when the benedicts and bachelors of the Knights of Columbus, several of them old-time cage stars, will clash in the Methodist Episcopal church gymnasium, Fifth and Monroe streets.

Both Francis Doherty, manager of the married men's quintet, and Paul Callahan, pilot of Cupid's sidesteppers, predicted victory today. They said plenty of reserves would be available in the event of emergencies.

Probable lineups are:

Benedicts—Duffy and Sullivan, forwards; McKenna, center; Holt and McNicol, guards; Coleman and Gem, reserves.

Bachelors—Kinney and McCarron, forwards; Smith, center; Gibas and Callahan, guards; Bulger and Johnston, reserves.

Richard Dugan, of New York city, will referee the game.

Last Night's Fights.

AT PHILADELPHIA—Tommy Loughran, Philadelphia, defeated Tom Kirby, Boston, 10 rounds.

Al Bader, of Philadelphia, defeated Ted Coolidge, 6 rounds.

AT ROCHESTER, N. Y.—Joe Tripp of Rochester knocked out Paris Cangey, of New Castle, Pa., second round.

Otto Ziendorf of Syracuse drew with Mike Marcells of Rochester, 6 rounds.

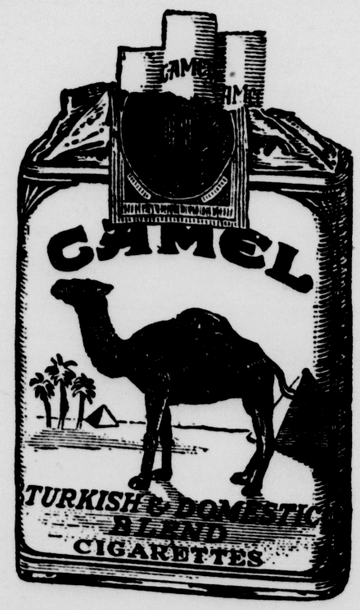

Art Wander of Buffalo drew with Joey Manuel of Rochester, 6 rounds.

Wins 300-point Match With Augie Kieckhefer.

CHICAGO, April 7.—Otto Reiselt, of Philadelphia, today was back on his throne as three-cushion billiard champion of the world.

Reiselt regained his title by winning his 300-point championship match with Augie Kieckhefer, of Chicago, defending champion. The final 60 point block was played last night.

The match score was 300 to 240. Reiselt ran out his final 60 points in 58 innings. His high run for the match was 6, against Kieckhefer's 5.

Cubs Lose To Kansas City.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 7.—The Cubs were eager to redeem themselves today in the second game of the series with the Kansas City Blues. The Bruins lost yesterday, 2 to 1.

Tunney Not Bound To Tex's Contract

New Ruling Says Dates and Foes Must be Named.

NEW YORK, April 7. — So-called "boxing monopolies" can no longer exist in New York state as a result of the action of the New York state athletic commission in adopting a ruling against "blanket" contracts—agreements covering options on services of boxers for stated limits—except where opponents and dates are specified.

The ruling means that promoters cannot hold boxers to such agreements if they desire to break away and sign with other promoters. It was pointed out that Gene Tunney, for instance, is not bound to the contract he signed with Promoter Tex Rickard in St. Louis last January because neither the champion's next opponent nor the date and location of the bout is named.

Although the ruling gives other promoters an equal chance against Rickard, the leading impressario in these parts, it was not believed that Tex would lose the next heavyweight championship bout. Promoter Humbert Fugazy, for one, declared he was not interested in signing Tunney, although it was reported that Fugazy is dickering for a match between Paolino Uzcudun and Harry Wills and also for a match involving Jack Sharkey, Boston heavyweight.

Sox Get 17 Drives.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 7. — Inspired by their 8 to 1 victory over the Memphis Chicks here yesterday, the White Sox took the field today determined to make it "two in a row." The Sox flattened the Southern leaguers yesterday under an avalanche of 17 safe hits. Barrett led with four.

Play Atlanta Again.

ATLANTA, Ga., April 7. — The Brooklyn Dodgers play Atlanta here again today. The Crackers won yesterday's game, 3 to 1, behind the pitching of Ray Francis, former Yankee hurler. Brooklyn has released Infielder Billy Rheill to the Crackers.

Approximately 1,000,000 miners in Great Britain mined 5,267,000 tons of coal in a recent week.

TUNNEY 1 TO 10 SHOT IN FIELD

Fight Critic, However, Rates Old Dempsey as His Peer.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, April 7.—It may be of fleeting interest to Gene Tunney to know that his ex-friend and now severest critic without a contest, Tima Mara, regards the champion as a cake walk, a 1 to 10 shot, against the field of heavyweight contenders as they stand today. Mara is a successful race track bookmaker, so the quoting of odds with him is not idle converse; he is a professional football promoter. Hence to him money is no object, provided it is someone else's; and he is one of a most select few who rode with Tunney against Dempsey, therefore his words are wisdom until such time as bigger and better ones turn up.

He, however, named Tunney as a standout today with at least one reservation to the effect that all bets were off if Dempsey succeeded in coming back to his 1923 form, it being his contention that Jack Kearns and not Gene Tunney beat the ex-champion. Lacking definite knowledge of Dempsey's condition, Mara intimated that he was forced to regard Jack Sharkey and Jimmy Maloney as the best of the contenders and here again another reservation was interpolated.

Loughran Best of Field.

It was to the effect that Tommy Loughran, Philadelphia light heavyweight, must now be considered a member of the field.

"I think Loughran can beat all of them except Tunney," Mara said. "He's too fast and too smart for the rest of these fellows and I think they know it. Anyhow, I notice that none of them is giving him a tumble.

"Against Delaney for the light heavyweight title, I'd regard Loughran as a sure thing and bet that way. However, if Dempsey could come back like old Jack, he would beat them all, Tunney included. I figured Kearns would break him down with legal worries, bet heavily on the idea and at Philadelphia I saw Kearns win that fight, instead of Tunney. Still, you can't consider Dempsey until he shows something besides a hospital bill and a lot of skin eruptions."

Five Clubs Line Up For Soft Ball Loop

Laughlin, Bulgers, Printers, Y. M. C. A. and High School in; Ohio Power, K. of C., and Heimies Other Possible Entries.

WITH five clubs definitely lined up already and several others checking up on their forces before the plunge, indications today pointed to the successful organization of a city recreation or "soft ball" league.

The proposed league is really a new venture here, although a number of teams have played the game in recent years, and the majority are taking to it with considerable interest.

Joe Dickey, at the Newell Homer Laughlin plant, is in with a club, which ought to be a formidable contender, if in keeping with the caliber of the Laughlin City league baseball team. The Laughlins have a lot near the plant and are open for practice games already.

Ted Scheffer is engaged in lining up a Y. M. C. A. aggregation and should be able to bring together a good squad.

The Printers, who played a couple of games toward the close of last summer, will probably be able to muster a strong outfit.

N. F. Lorah, athletic coach at the high school, will combine teachers and students to form another good entry.

The Bulger Drugs, who recently closed a good basketball campaign, can be counted on for some real talent and already are pretty well along in their organization work.

The Knights of Columbus, managed by Joseph A. McKenna, Washington street, while not entered definitely yet, are expected to come in in the next few days and the Ohio Power company, which boasted a baseball club last season, is another possibility, along with a team from Heimie's.

A meeting will be called in the near future to complete the organization.

K.-C. CAGE FOES CLASH TONIGHT

Benedicts and Bachelors Battle on M. E. Court.

Basketball history is expected to be made at 7 o'clock tonight, when the benedicts and bachelors of the Knights of Columbus, several of them old-time cage stars, will clash in the Methodist Episcopal church gymnasium, Fifth and Monroe streets.

Both Francis Doherty, manager of the married men's quintet, and Paul Callahan, pilot of Cupid's sidesteppers, predicted victory today. They said plenty of reserves would be available in the event of emergencies.

Probable lineups are:

Benedicts—Duffy and Sullivan, forwards; McKenna, center; Holt and McNicol, guards; Coleman and Green, reserves.

Bachelors—Kinney and McCarron, forwards; Smith, center; Gibas and Callahan, guards; Bulger and Johnston, reserves.

Richard Dugan, of New York city, will referee the game.

Last Night's Fights.

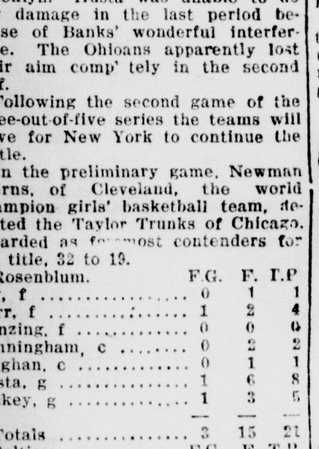

AT PHILADELPHIA—Tommy Loughran, Philadelphia, defeated Tom Kirby, Boston, 10 rounds.

Al Bader, of Philadelphia, defeated Ted Coolidge, 6 rounds.

AT ROCHESTER, N. Y.—Joe Tripp of Rochester knocked out Paris Cangey, of New Castle, Pa., second round.

Otto Ziendorf of Syracuse drew with Mike Marcells of Rochester, 6 rounds.

Art Wander of Buffalo drew with Joey Manuel of Rochester, 6 rounds.

"Beau Geste," French Legion Picture, Opens Run At Ceramic

Ronald Colman, Noah Beery, William Powell, Alice Joyce, Mary Brian and Other Stars in Cast.

"Beau Geste" arrived at the Ceramic theatre today for a three-day engagement.

This has been filmed from the immensely popular book by Major Percival Christopher Wren, under Herbert Brenon's direction.

A fine cast will appear, headed by Ronald Colman, Neil Hamilton and Ralph Forbes as the three brothers, Noah Beery as Sergeant Le Jaune, Norman Trevor, William Powell, Alice Joyce, Mary Brian and numerous others in the lesser roles.

The East Liverpool showing will include a special musical setting composed by Dr. Hugo Riesenfeld and played by an orchestra and a special scenic presentation.

Of all the comments on "Beau Geste" those of Frederick Lonsdale, the playwright, seem to give as good an idea of the film as any. Mr. Lonsdale feels that this is "one of the most significant of recent motion pictures, and its tremendous success at the Criterion theatre in New York indicates that the public will accept the pictures which seem to violate the artificial conventions of screen popularity. That is, 'Beau Geste' tells a story in which the conventional love element is signally missing. Moreover, the hero dies, and, as a matter of fact in violation of all screen stencils, the villain is one of the most interesting characters of the piece. The success of 'Beau Geste' which by the way has been beautifully directed, is distinctly encouraging to any writer."

OHIOAN IS SHOT TO DEATH

We Don't Need It
Don't Gamble, Please
Money, Stars, Sunshine
A $4,000 Chevrolet

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

[The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune.]

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE thinks the United States is big enough to handle its own Chinese affairs without help from other countries. He tells our representatives in China to demand apology and indemnification for injury to American lives and property, and will take no joint action with Britain and japan.

So for, so good. We don't need a Chinese war.

DID you sell stocks when some brokers said the time had come to "sell on moderate bulges?" Men with their noses so close to Wall Street's ticker that they can't see anything west of Hoboken or east of Sandy Hook are not good advisers just now.

You read today "money easy at four per cent," "new peak for the year recorded in prices of railroad and pivotal industries," "much heavier trading, bonding continuing to rise in active dealings," etc.

Don't gamble, it's silly and ruinous, but whatever you do, don't sell the United States, or anything in it, short, unless you are sure it is worthless. Even then you can't be safe.

Andrew Caregie wouldn't take common or preferred stock in the biggest steel company as a gift. He said it was air, not even water. Look at it now.

FOUR British film companies form a "great merger, amounting to $12,500,000." Don't laugh, the British are serious.

Here we might capitalize one moving picture actor for $12,500,000. But if you tried to unite our four greatest moving picture concerns it would amount to a dizzy sum.

The British used to sing, "We've got the men, we've got the ships, we've got the money, too."

The American moving picture industry, Punch points out, can sing, "We've got the money, we've got the stars, we've got the sunshine, too." Also, it has the brains, more important than money, sunshine or stars. Brains create money, develop stars, and get along without sunshine.

CIVILIZATION'S problem is cheap distribution of life's necessities, giving citizens full value for their dollars. This doesn't mean business men shouldn't make the profit to which they are entitled. It means modern business tends more and more to "low profit, big volume."

The quart of milk that a farmer sells for four cents, the city mother buys for 15 cents. If General Motors were run on that basis a Chevrolet would cost $4,000.

THE city of Chicago was a mud flat along the lake, with a fort where white people might hide from Indians.

FREMONT MAN'S BODY FOUND IN TOLEDO; POLICE HINT MURDER

Henry Clauss, 55, of Cutlery Company, is Victim.

GUN PICKED UP

Vacant Building is Scene of Mysterious Tragedy.

TOLEDO, O., April 7.—With a bullet wound through the heart, the body of Henry Clauss, 55, member of a prominent Fremont family of cutlery manufacturers, was found here today at the foot of a flight of stairs in a vacant building.

Coroner Says It's Suicide.

According to police the man was murdered, but Coroner Henzler is of the belief that Clauss committed suicide. The police base their theory on the reported absence of powder marks on the body and the finding of a second bullet which they claim was imbedded in a spindle of the stairway banister.

A revolver was found near the body. Four bullets of .38 calibre were still in the cylinder. Two blank shells were found on the steps.

Clauss, who also had business connections at Tipton, Ind., was identified through papers and checks found on his person.

Wife and Daughter Notified.

CLEVELAND, O., April 7.—Mrs. Henry Clauss, and daughter, left here today for Toledo to claim the body of Henry Clauss, who was found dead there this morning. Mrs. Clauss, before leaving, stated she knew of no enemies who could have killed her husband. She said she knew of no motive to prompt her husband to commit suicide and declared: "It must have been a robber who did it."

Florence Clauss, the daughter, has been attending school in this city. The mother and daughter came to Cleveland from Fremont, O., last fall.

Walter Habenicht, 34, Potter, Dies; Funeral Saturday

Walter R. Habenicht, 34, of 340 Norton street, died today in the City hospital.

Mr. Habenicht, who resided here for 20 years, was employed at plant No. 5 of the Homer Laughlin China company, Newell. He was a member of the Lutheran church and the Tribe of Ben Hur.

He is survived by his widow and his mother, Mrs. Minnie Habenicht, and one brother, Fred Habenicht.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon in St. John's Lutheran church, in charge of Rev. Dr. J. G. Reinartz. Burial will be made in Riverview cemetery.

Seek Cleveland Clubber.

CLEVELAND, O., April 7.—New evidence concerning the murder of Miss Katherine Madden, pretty Cleveland nurse, acquired by city detectives, will result in a speedy solution of the crime, authorities predicted today.

The young woman was clubbed and left unconscious on the street the night of March 30. Three days later she died in a hospital without regaining consciousness.

WAR DECLARED ON BASEBALL POOLS

POLICE COMB CHICAGO FOR OUTLAWS WHO FLEE WITH $20,000 IN LOOT

Baggage Car of Lincoln Limited Entered by Masked Men as Flyer Moves Out of Joliet Last Night.

Express Messenger Forced to Open Safe, and Robbers Divide Currency and Negotiable Papers.

CHICAGO, April 7.—The southwestern fringe of Chicago was being combed today for two bandits who last night held up the Lincoln Limited, crack Chicago and Alton passenger train, and escaped with loot estimated as high as $20,000. Only the baggage car was entered. None of the passengers nor the engine crew was aware of the robbery.

The bandits boarded the train as it moved out of Joliet at 9:30 last night. One wore an army overcoat. They donned black net masks, drew revolvers and pushed their way into the baggage car.

There they encountered conductor James Connery and A. A. Gotthoff, express messenger. Connery was bound and gagged and rolled in a corner.

Before Gotthoff could execute their order to open the safe, Frank Wenglass, diner chef, and George Mitchell, a porter, walked into the car.

Search Victims' Pockets.

Undismayed, the bandits tied up Wenglass and Mitchell and rolled them in the corner with Connery. Gotthoff was then forced to open the safe. The bandits took the entire contents and sorted it carefully. Currency and negotiable papers were divided equally between them.

All other papers, including none-negotiable bonds, were piled on the floor of the car and burned. The bandits then trussed up Gotthoff and rolled him against the others. After going through their victims' pockets, obtaining about $150 more, the bandits left the train.

One swung off at Western avenue and the other at Halsted street.

Entire Contents of Safe Taken.

The robbery was discovered when the diner steward came to see what was detaining his chef. He had sent the chef to the safe with the diner's evening receipts.

First reports received by local police stated the loss was "less than $200," listing only the money taken from members of the train crew.

While express company officials refused to estimate the loss, Gotthoff told Lieut. Andrew Howard of the Union station police, that the entire contents of the safe were taken or destroyed, and stated their value would probably exceed $20,000.

Soil of Prosperity Grows Bumper Crop Of Millionaires

WASHINGTON, April 7. — A bumper crop of millionaire incomes is being grown this year in the fertile soil of national prosperity, according to all advance indications marked down by the United States treasury.

Unless the dollar-seers of the treasury are far off in their predictions, the number of persons who have just paid taxes on incomes of more than a million dollars during 1926 will reach the astounding total of 250. The number of people paying taxes on incomes ranging downward from one million dollars a year to a quarter of a million is expected to correspondingly increase.

HOUSE VOTES OHIO GASOLINE TAX INCREASE

Sullivan's Three-cent Measure Goes to Senate.

POLL IS 91 to 21

Proposal Expected to Add $7,000,000 to Yearly Revenue.

By C. H. HADDOX.

COLUMBUS, O., April 7.—The house of representatives today passed by a vote of 91 to 21, the Sullivan bill, increasing the state tax on gasoline from two to three cents per gallon.

The bill now goes to the senate.

It is estimated that an additional revenue of approximately $7,000,000 per annum will be yielded by the increased tax, all of which, under the terms of the measure, would be used for highway construction and reconstruction. Sixty per cent of the proceeds would be used for highway building or reconstruction in the state at large. The remaining 40 per cent, going to the counties for highway work, would be allotted on a basis of motor vehicle registration.

The house accepted two amendments to the Sullivan bill, submitted on the floor during general debate and rejected two proposed amendments.

Amendments agreed to were: By Representative Martin Dodd, Toledo, decreeing that none of the proposed one-cent gasoline tax increase could be spent except as may be provided for in appropriation measures to be passed by the legislature, and, by Representative R. W. Emmons, Columbiana county, increasing the maximum portion of this increase which may be expended for the elimination of railroad grade crossings on highways, from $300,000 to $1,000,000.

GAS EXPLOSION IN FISHER HOME

Furnace in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albion H. Fisher, McKinnon avenue, was damaged by a gas explosion at 8 o'clock last evening.

Firemen from the Central and Northside stations who answered the alarm were unable to ascertain the cause of the blast which occurred, it it claimed, while a fire was burning in the furnace. Top of the heater was blown off, but there was no damage to the house.

Members of the Fisher family summoned the fire department. Officials of the Manufacturers' Light & Heat company were asked by firemen to make an investigation.

Miss Laughlin, 78, Dies in Her Home In Third Street

Miss Amanda Laughlin, 78, died last night in her home, 515 East Third street, after a short illness of complication of diseases.

Miss Laughlin, who spent most of her life in Fredericktown, is survived by two brothers and three sisters: Joseph Laughlin, Beaver, Pa.; William T. Laughlin, Oakland, Cal.; Mrs. Martha Fisher and Mrs. W. W. Harker, of this city, and Miss Mary Laughlin with whom she resided.

She was a member of the Calucuta United Presbyterian church.

APPEALS COURT AFFIRMS BAN ON AWARD OF SURFACING JOB

City Loses Injunction Fight Over Fourth Street Contract.

BIDS THROWN OUT

Ruling on Scaccuto Murder Trial is Deferred.

The city of East Liverpool today lost its appeal from the decision of the Columbiana county common pleas court which granted Frank Swaney, of the Ohio Willite company, an injunction, restraining Service Director John W. Moore from awarding a contract for the resurfacing of Fourth street.

The appellate court, in a ruling at Lisbon, affirmed the judgment of the lower court which sustained Swaney's contention that the specifications for the proposed improvement conflicted with the resolution enacted by the city council.

George B. Patterson, Wellsville contractor, was the low bidder for the job.

The ruling means that the city must re-advertise for bids.

Scaccuto Decision on May 9.

The court announced that no decision upon the application of Nick Scaccuto, of Wellsville, convicted of second degree murder in the death of Patrolman James Kenney, also of Wellsville, for a new trial, would be handed down until the St. Clairsville session which will be held during the week of May 9.

Scaccuto, who denies all knowledge of the crime, is now serving a life sentence in the penitentiary.

Kenney was shot to death while patrolling his beat in Wellsville on May 17, last.

Other rulings are expected to be announced late this afternoon.

Boy Found Dead On Railroad Tracks Believed Murdered

CLYDE, O., April 7.—The theory that Bobbie Wilson, 17, was murdered in a vacant house and his body then carried to the railroad tracks where it was found, was held by police here today.

The youth was killed under mysterious circumstances a week ago today.

Rewards totaling $2,100 have been offered for the capture and conviction of Wilson's supposed slayer.

Wellsville Woman Fined $300 After Liquor Seizure

Mrs. Rocco Richichi, proprietress of a grocery store in Third and Main streets, Wellsville, was arrested today by Wellsville police on a charge of possessing intoxicating liquor. Police said they found a gallon and a half of evidence.

At a hearing before Mayor W. L. Fogo, Mrs. Richichi pleaded guilty and was fined $200. She made arrangements to pay and was released.

MAYOR BENEDUM WARNS ROUND-UP WILL BEGIN IN CITY NEXT TUESDAY

Police Will be Instructed to Arrest Agents Who Attempt to Sell Gambling Chances on Major League Games, City Executive Says as Season's Opening Day Nears.

LAW ENFORCEMENT HEAD BELIEVES POSSESSION OF TICKETS IS EVIDENCE

Revocation of Poolroom Licenses in Event of Apprehension of Operators on Sale of Pasteboards is Hinted, But Suspected Offenders First Will be Notified.

War on dealers in baseball pools was declared by Mayor Ralph Benedum today as bookmakers began to lay plans for the opening of the major league season next Tuesday.

Police will be instructed, the mayor announced, to be on the lookout for men who are believed to be engaged in the sale of baseball chances. Charges of gambling will be filed against all offenders.

"We will not tolerate the sale of baseball pools if it can be stopped," Mayor Benedum said. "Police will be ordered to make every effort to apprehend pool sellers."

Possession of a book of baseball pools will be sufficient grounds for conviction, in the opinion of the law enforcement head. Municipal Judge Hanley recently fined a Walnut street man $100 for possession of gambling devices after police found cards, chips, card tables and other gambling paraphernalia in his home following a raid.

Police will be ordered to visit poolrooms, soft drink establishments and other places where baseball scores are received by innings.

Keep Eyes on Poolrooms.

Arrest of poolroom proprietors for selling pools will not constitute grounds for a suspension of license, the mayor said, inasmuch as no warning to this effect has been given. In the event of a conviction, however, poolroom operators will be notified a repetition of the offense will result in revocation of the owner's permit.

Five poolroom licenses were suspended several months ago after punchboards had been seized in a series of raids.

While pools on clearing house balances, football and basketball games have been sold here throughout the fall and winter, agents are most active during the baseball season, police assert.

TWO MOTORISTS TO FACE COURT

Lawrence Thomas, Jr., will face Municipal Judge J. C. Hanley at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning upon a charge of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

Thomas was arrested by Patrolman Leslie Curran at the corner of Sixth and Jefferson street at 7:45 o'clock last night shortly after he is alleged to have backed into another car. Because of the absence of Judge Hanley who is in Columbus today, he was released by the police this morning, his sedan being held as a guarantee for his appearance.

Paul Dailey, Chester, who was arrested by Patrolman Lister for parking in front of the American theatre last evening, deposited $6.80 for his appearance tomorrow morning upon a charge of violating the parking regulations.

U. S. Civil Service Board Recruits Men for Dry Jobs

WASHINGTON, April 7.—The country-wide campaign of the civil service commission to recruit eligibles for the 2,500 positions in the prohibition bureau which were classified under the civil service law by the last congress, was launched today.

Open competitive examinations will be made for one chief of the field division, which carries a salary of $6,000 a year, five prohibition zone supervisors, 24 prohibition administrators, 24 assistant assistant prohibition administrators for enforcement work; 24 assistant administrators for permissive work; 50 deputy administrators, 1,260 junior agents, 109 investigators, 228 agents, 74 attorneys and various other officials, ranging in salary down to $1,800 a year.

LIONS URGE FIREWORKS BAN

Club Previously Endorsed Plan to Cut Mayor's Pay.

Members of the Lions' club, at a dinner meeting in the banquet hall of the Y. M. C. A. last night, went on record in favor of legislation banning the sale and use of fireworks within the city limits.

A week ago the club also endorsed the proposed reduction in the mayor's salary. Both measures are to be considered at tonight's council meeting.

The Lions club is the second organization to declare in favor of a "safe and sane" fourth of July celebration, similar action having been taken by the McKinley Home and School association.

The Lions also completed plans for a survey of the lighting system of local school buildings. Short talks were made by Emmett Mylar whose subject was "Hobbies;" Dr. A. C. Shafer, who discussed membership work, and President Harry Brokaw, whose topic was "The Goat."

DOWNTOWN AND EAST END CHURCHES ANNOUNCE HOLY WEEK SERVICES

Union Meetings Will be Held in Evening, While Special Devotions are Planned on Good Friday.

Union services, in observance of Holy week, will be conducted in East Liverpool next week—one series of meetings being held in the downtown district and the other in East End.

Services will be held at 7:30 every evening with the exception of Saturday. The Good Friday service for the downtown churches, to be held in the First Methodist Episcopal church, will take the form of a musicale, at which a contata will be rendered by the choir.

In addition, special services will be held next week in the St. Aloysius and St. Ann Catholic churches and St. Stephen's Episcopal church.

Lenten services, preparatory to communion, which will be distributed Easter Sunday, will be held in St. John's Lutheran church at 7:45 o'clock next Thursday evening. Services on Good Friday will be held at 1:30 p. m. and 7:30 p. m., when Holy Communion will be distributed.

Schedule of union services in the downtown churches follows:

Monday—First Presbyterian church, Rev. C. B. Conn, preacher.

Tuesday—First Church of Christ, Rev. A. H. O'Brien, preacher.

Wednesday—First United Presby-

MAN CONFESSES TRIPLE MURDER

Henry Griffith Admits Slaying Three Persons Near Bluefield.

Henry Griffith, 49, of Richmond, Va., has confessed to the slaying of his wife, Mollie Griffith, 35, Matthew Lawson, 31, and Lawson's wife, Pearl Lawson, 30, according to Harry H. Couch, sheriff of Russell county, Va.

The bodies of the three persons were found in the Clinch river, three miles from Bluefield, W. Va., late Tuesday afternoon by a lineman who was striking wire through a tree on the river bank.

Griffith, who lives in Tazwell county, Sheriff Couch said, volunteered information in which he expressed belief that the body of one of the women was that of his wife, who he claimed had left him more than three weeks ago. He said friends had informed him that his wife was living with Mr. and Mrs. Lawson.

Griffith was placed under arrest and was taken to Lebanon by Sheriff Couch and R. N. Wilson, commonwealth's attorney of Russell county to see if he could identify the bodies.

Griffith is said to have identified all of the bodies, but denied any knowledge of the crime. Some two hours after Griffith had identified the bodies he is said to have confessed to the murder of the trio.

Griffith, according to the story told Sheriff Couch, killed Lawson first and then the two women. Griffith said the triple murder was committed at 2 o'clock on Sunday morning, March 27.

Griffith said he had heard the Lawson's were leaving the neighborhood and were taking his wife with them. He said he had been told they had intended to make their get-away at night. Griffith said he went in search of them and some 12 miles away from his home he met them on the railroad tracks.

Griffith said he asked his wife to return home with him and she refused. When Lawson asserted that Mrs. Griffith could not be taken back home the triple tragedy followed.

CONFEREES GIVEN ROAD BOND LAW

Drafting in its final form the road bond law which has been subject to controversy between the senate and house of delegates throughout the session, was given yesterday into the hands of three conferees from each body. Senators C. B. Highland, of Wetzel county; H. P. Henshaw, of Berkely county, and D. M. Willis, of Monongalia county, and Delegates J. H. Smith, of Preston county; C. L. Heaberlin, of Raleigh county, and N. F. Kendall, of Tyler county, were named by President White, of the senate, and Speaker Johnson, of the house, as members of the committee to settle the disagreement of the two branches.

Before naming the house members, however, that body adopted a motion presented by Delegate Robinson that they be instructed not to return any report unless two of the three house conferees agreed to it.

Another piece of road legislation also resumed headway in the legislative course, when the house adopted committee amendments to the measure permitting use of local funds on state routes. By the amendment these expenditures were limited to county or municipal special levies or bond issues and the bill was then sent to its final reading.

COLLEGE HEAD GIVES ADDRESS

"I doubt if the time will ever come when ever a person who graduates from college will be fully educated, and yet that is the end toward which we must work," declared Dr. Cloyd Goodnight, president of Bethany college, yesterday in an address before the Bethany students and faculty members. "Education consists not only in so many semester hours of college work but it consists of those intangible and yet important things of refinement, poise, good morals and a susceptibility to finer spiritual values."

In discussing college students, Dr. Goodnight firmly stated that he was convinced that not every high school student should go to college. "Only those should go," he said, "who have a genuine desire for real education and true culture. And when there they should seek more than book knowledge and facts and college credits."

FOUNDRY BLAZE AT COUNTY SEAT

Plant of the Resistant Foundry company at New Cumberland was damaged by fire of unknown origin which broke out shortly after 10 o'clock last night in an adjoining one story frame building which was used to house patterns. The latter was totally destroyed. The plant will resume operations tomorrow.

Dwelling adjoining the foundry occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Murray and Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Long was saved by the efficient work of the Weirton fire department who responded to the alrams. Loss was not ascertained.

Dog True to Dead Playmate.

It was with difficulty that a policeman was able to drag away a little rough-haired terrier which had kept a faithful vigil for more than 24 hours over the body of a dead companion in Acre-lane, Brixton, England, recently. The two dogs had been playing together when one—also a rough-haired terrier—was run over by a motor bus and died. Nothing, not even a dense, clammy fog, would move the survivor from the body of his dead playmate. Two other dogs, who would not take the hint when growled at, came in for a rough tussle on trying to make a personal investigation of the tragedy.

The Ford Stores

The war between Ford and the Michigan Retail Merchants' association is over. It has been one of the most interesting chapters in Ford's history.

Ford started grocery and meat stores to reduce the cost of living to his own employees. It was evidently meant as a philanthropic enterprise, though Ford always objects to "philanthropy." He satisfied his business conscience by making a small profit on his turn-over, and sold the provisions as cheap as he could. That was very cheap, compared with current retail prices. Ford was able to buy far lower than his competitors on account of his buying in far larger quantity, and he applied to the distribution of the goods the same efficiency principles of standardization, specialized employment, economy of motion, etc., that he has carried out in his factories.

To groceries and meat, Ford eventually added many other things, so that he was virtually operating great department stores. And he extended his service to the entire public. That cut seriously into the business of established merchants, large and small. They have been protesting for some time. Now Ford has yielded to this extent—he will close his "commissaries," as he calls them, to the general public, serving only his own employees. It is merely the old "company store" idea, operated more ably and generously than usual.

The "business ethics" of such merchandising are naturally objected to by injured competitors. But Ford seems to have made a notable contribution to the economics of modern commerce. It is said that his employees by patronizing his "flivverized" stores are able to save $500 to $600 a year. If that is true, the merchandising methods he uses may have as much influence on future retailing as his manufacturing methods have had on industrial production.

Telepathic Censorship

If the wax caricature statute of President Coolidge in the exhibition in New York of the Society of Independent Artists was really broken, as is reported, by the telepathic efforts of a man in a distant state, nobody's statuary will be safe from now on.

A threatening letter had been received, the writer of which asserted his ability and intention to break the statute by absent treatment if it were not removed from the exhibition. He regarded it as a disrespectful statute. A day or so later it was found broken.

What we want to know is how the distant gentleman knew about the statue. Did he see pictures of it? Did he see it as he threatened to destroy it, by his telepathic power? Or was he at the exhibition, and was the letter a hoax?

It will go hard with freak artists if the general public begins to cultivate any such talents for long-distance destruction. It is probably a little too soon to begin worrying about anything of the sort, however. The public is likely to suffer a good deal more from the freak artists than they will ever suffer from the public.

Forestry In Tennessee

Reclamation work started by the Tennessee division of forestry in 1914 has resulted in the utilization of a large area of formerly waste farm land for black locust groves. Gullies, wood lots and outlying grass fields are set out to young trees. Country forestry associations are being formed throughout the state to crystallize as far as possible the interests of farm people in the foresting of their particular sections. A text book of forestry has been introduced in the public schools. Tennessee's timber and forest products have increased in the last 20 years from $21,000,000 to more than $35,000,000, and educational work is still going on.

All this is apropos of American Forest Week, proclaimed by President Coolidge for observance from April 24 to 30.

There cannot be too much of such reclamation work in any part of the country. More publicity about what any state or community is already doing in this line should be beneficial to all the rest of the country.

Years And Life

A wise thing was said the other day by Elbert H. Gary, head of the United States Steel Corporation. Asked why he continued his business activity at the age of 80, he replied that he wasn't interested in long life, but in living.

With many people, he suggested, the attainment of unusual age seemed to be merely a game of "hanging on," and he never cared for that sort of game.

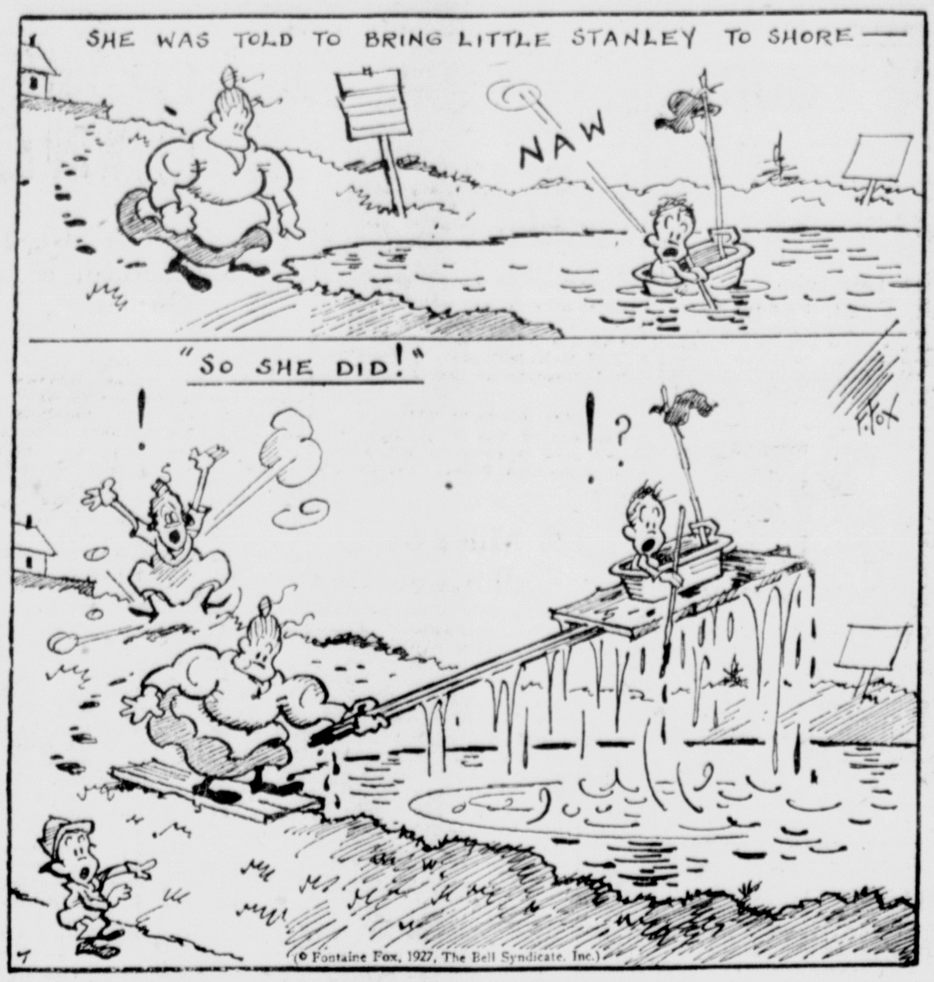

"One cannot live, to be sure, unless he keeps his body alive; nevertheless, keeping one's body alive is not life.

"Life consists of the things we do, the friends we make, the give and take which go to make up human organization; of business, co-operation, knowledge, work. These are the things that interest me, and I find myself as interested in them as ever."

Among other things, "flaming youth" is burning up a lot of old rubbish.

THE PROPER AMMUNITION

Finey Peter Dunne, creator of Mr. Dooley, was dining with a friend at a restaurant. Rice-birds were served. The tiny cadavers were brought in on large slices of toast.

"Poor little things!" said the host. "Seems a shame to murder 'em—doesn't it? How do you suppose they ever get enough rice-birds to make a mess?"

Dunne turned over an infinitesimal specimen with his fork.

"I don't know," he said, "unless they use insect powder!"

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY
By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, April 7.—Lenox Avenue, the main artery of Harlem's Black Belt, is a consistent wooer of Lady Luck. It is estimated sepia tinted ladies and ebony hued sheiks wager $75,000 nightly on the Clearing House lottery.

It is called "numbers" and is based on closing figures of the clearing house. The winning numbers often pay 600 to 1. A hundred and one lucky charms, ranging from the rabbit's foot to "concentrated goofer dust," are on sale in various small shops.

There are also "charm passers" who make a living mumbling mystic abracadabra to hopefuls in voodoo parlors. Gambling superstition here reaches its highest peak. Many men often have their left ear pierced in the light of the new moon, believing in its favorable potency.

"Numbers" is one of innumerable games of chance that flourish in the district. Another in high favor is euphoniously known as "zaka zam." Chances sell for a dollar each and the person who holds the number nearest to the total sales of shares in Wall street for the day wins $1,000. There is only a first prize.

Peculiarly enough, winners do not always go on spending sprees. Some make first payment down on a parcel of real estate and soaring values have resulted in several instances in an independence never dreamed.

As a result of the chance games, dice and other favorite gambling devices are almost extinct along Lenox Avenue. The danger of the group raid is not faced in the lottery schemes. Only the lottery seller is arrested.

The rake-off for the seller is often stupendous. His percentage is about 20 per cent and a former shoe shiner is reported to have amassed more than $200,000 last year.

An aging actress appeared in a cafe one evening recently with a snow-white transformation. A jealous lady, once a victim of her temperamental outburst, screeched across the room. "I suppose you got that way over night."

A former stevedore, who became a millionaire, indulges an odd luxury. Instead of having a private physician he has a private chiropodist whose task is matutinal. For years his heavy dock labors resulted in corns, bunions and other pedal aches. He is reported to pay him $7,000 a year.

The removal of the Metropolitan Opera House to 8th Avenue and 57th Street is another decided step in the northward Rialto migration. Only the Empire, Casino and Knickerbocker theatres are left in that district running southward from 42d Street to Herald Square. It was once the promenade ground for stage folk in the afternoon. Here it was not unusual to see David Belasco, Joe Weber, Lew Fields, David Warfield, Louis Mann and Lillian Russell in a few blocks' walk.

Present day players, it would seem, do not become so well-known to their public as the old timers did, nor does their vogue last so long. There are at least a dozen, starred five years ago, in obscurity today. It is doubtless because stardom is more easily achieved in this age. Most of the old timers rattled around in burlesque, toured the tanks for years before Broadway acclaimed them. Several stars of the day have never appeared west of Chicago.

A darkey just rapped at the door to inquire about washing the windows.

"When do you want to clean them?" he was asked.

"To suit your significance," he replied—which seems quite fair enough

HASKIN'S LETTER
By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Big Business.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 7.—Big business is big. There are now ten corporations in the United States that rank in the billion-dollar class. Their aggregate assets approximate $15,000,000,000. The market value of their securities as rated by a financial expert is somewhat in excess of $13,000,000,000. The value of their physical properties is around $8,500,000,000.

Their gross sales or revenues for the last year were in excess of $5,600,000,000. The net profits in the aggregate were slightly less than $1,000,000,000, and the dividends they paid were approximately half that amount. They are owned by 1,018,003 stockholders, the odd three being all the stockholders there are in the Ford Motor Company. Almost a million and a half workers are employed by these corporations and their payrolls, while not authoritatively compiled, have been estimated to exceed $2,500,000,000 annually.

Five of these giants of the financial world are railroads—the Southern Pacific, the Pennsylvania, the New York Central, the Union Pacific, and the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe. Two of the others have to do with transportation—General Motors and the Ford Company—and another deals in communications, the American Telephone & Telegraph Company. The other two are the United States Steel Corporation and the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, both of which are closely allied with transportation and communications.

Richest of them all is the Steel Corporation, with assets of $2,446,000,000 and physical properties valued at $1,692,000,000, but its gross sales or revenues are not so large as those of either the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey or the General Motors Corporation and its net profits are not so great as those of the latter.

Billion Dollar Annual Business.

The oil and motor mammoths both do an annual business in excess of a billion dollars, while the steel trust has to worry along with only $928,000,000. The net profits of steel are $117,000,000 as compared with an estimated $180,000,000 for General Motors. As a dividend payer steel ranks below both the telephone company and General Motors, with $61,000,000 as compared with $81,000,000 and $70,000,000 for the other two, respectively. No one knows what dividends the Ford Motor Company pays.

The market value of the telephone company exceeds that of any of the others, being a bit above the two billion mark, exceeding that of its nearest rival, the steel corporation, by almost $300,000,000.

In the value of its physical properties, however, the telephone company ranks a bad tenth, with only $197,000,000, whereas the steel corporation has almost ten times that and the Southern Pacific, the Pennsylvania, and the New York Central are well above the billion level. It lags in annual revenues or gross sales, also, with $180,000,000, but it is fourth in net profits, yielding only to General Motors, U. S. Steel, and Standard Oil, and it is the banner dividend payer of them all. It likewise ranks first in the number of stockholders, with 362,000, and in the number of its employees, with 293,000. It is the only one of the big business group, by the way, that has more stockholders than it has employees.

If all its subsidiaries were included it is stated that the telephone company would outrank even the steel corporation in the value of its assets, with almost $3,000,000,000 as of January 1, 1926, and far more than that as of today. Since its physical properties are valued at less than a fifteenth of that amount it is obvious that this company gets into the billion dollar class because of its earning capacity.

It is rather surprising to learn that the Southern Pacific Railroad is the only corporation aside from the steel trust that has assets totalling more than $2,000,000,000. This is due, it is explained, to the fact that this railroad owns a vast amount of land and that no inconsiderable part of its domain is oil land.

Pennsylvania Ranks Third.

The Pennsylvania ranks third with assets of $1,819,000,0000, and third in the number of stockholders and employees. The New York Central stands fifth with respect to assets, and only the steel corporation and the Southern Pacific exceed it in the value of its physical properties.

The Standard Oil Company of New Jersey is the daddy of them all when it comes to volume of business. It has gross sales or revenues each year of $1,123,000,000. Its net profits are approximately ten per cent of that—$111,000,000—and it disburses $34,000,000 in dividends to some 80,000 stockholders. General Motors makes an estimated net profit of $180,000,000, which is 18 per cent on its gross sales, and it ranks second in making stockholders believe in Santa Claus, its dividend disbursements being $70,000,000.

Just what the big companies do with their profits aside from paying dividends is not disclosed, but it is

Grandpa's Got "That Kruschen Feeling"

Are You In Form Today?

How often do you get up in the morning with that glorious feeling that you are ready to tackle anything and anybody.

How often do you carry that feeling with you throughout the day, knowing nothing of morning irritability, of after-lunch sleepiness, of five o'clock weariness, and utter dejection of body and mind?

How often do you return home fit to enjoy every moment of your hours of leisure, taking your recreation with all the greater zest because during the day you have got through a full-size man's job with a full-size man's keenness and efficiency?

How often? Once a week? Once a month?

Why not every day?

You can, you know, Kruschen will show you, as it has shown millions of others.

That little dose of Kruschen Salts you dissolve in your breakfast cup of coffee or tea every morning—you can't taste it, but it has a most amazing effect. It restores liver and kidneys to their proper state of efficiency and regularity, clears away all the impurities that have been clogging your system, and sends new, pure blood driving through your body.

You become, in fact, an entirely new being, cheery, energetic, self-reliant; and you look back upon the old days of tiredness and depression as upon a bad dream which the morning light has dispelled.

Kruschen Salts will keep you in form—always. 60 tablets—60 cents. Health and good spirits for trifle a day—all druggists.

Tasteless in Tea or Coffee

Drop 2 tablets in your breakfast cup every morning — 1 tablet for children. It's the little daily dose that does it.

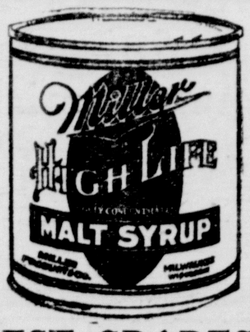

Kruschen Salts

It's the Little Daily Dose that Does It

60 tablets for 60 cents at all drug stores. Take two tablets in your morning cup of tea or coffee for a most invigorating daily tonic—it dissolves instantly—and you can't taste it. The medicinal dose for persons suffering from rheumatism, gout, lumbago, sciatica or habitual constipation is four tablets in a tumbler of hot water before breakfast. Kruschen Salts is the biggest selling proprietory medicine in Great Britain and Germany.

"Canyon of Light," at American, is Thriller.

For sheer excitement, thrills and suspense, Fox Films "Canyon of Light," the feature picture which had its first showing at the American theatre today, will be hard to surpass. With Tom Mix in the star role and Dorothy Dwan in the feminine lead, plus a fine cast and an absorbing story and with Tony, the wonder horse, playing a prominent part, this is one western that is sure to please every type of theatre patron. Add to this the wild beauty of the backgrounds, for this picture was filmed in Yellowstone National Park, and the result is an entertainment long to be remembered.

The story deals with Tom Mills, played by Tom Mix, who at the opening of the World war, takes a troop of cowboys overseas, where he acts as captain of dispatch riders. The battle scenes in this part are a great deal more thrilling than in many so-called war pictures. While Tom and his men are away the western community from which they come, becomes a prey to a gang of desperadoes who are led by Ed Bardin, Tom's brother-in-law, and played by Carl Miller.

On his return Tom finds a band of vigilantes have captured Bardin and are preparing to hang him. Tom tries to save that worthy's neck for the sake of his sister and how the latter repays Tom's kindness makes a suspense holding story.

One of the most thrilling sequences in the picture is the wreck of an old boom town, a mere ghost city, the haunt of the desperadoes where Tom fights it out with the gang. Whole buildings are wrecked in the hand to hand battle that takes place amid scenes set the audience, who witness it, on the edge of their seats.

Haskell Institute Unit Composed of 29 Full Blooded Indian Tribes

LAWRENCE, Kans.—The Haskell Institute unit of the Kansas National Guard, known officially as Troop C, 114th Cavalry, has 29 tribes of full blooded Indians represented on its rolls. These Indians, from 20 states, include 13 Cherokees, 11 Sioux, six Pimas, five Navajos, four Utes, two each of the following, Seminole, Shawnee, Pueblo, Apache, Arapaho, Choctaw, Snohmoish, Creek, Seneca, Chippewa and Menominee, and one each from the tribes of Pomo, Stockbridge, Sac, and Fox, Shoshone, Omaha, Wichital, Pawnee, Piute, Bannack, Klamarth, Cheyenne, Arickaree and Qnelda.

The outfit is known as one of the "show" troops of the National Guard and has presented exhibition drills in many parts of the country.

Maybe the Chinks are still sore because America, once upon a time, boycotted tea.—Zanesville Signal.

to be noted that while the ten billion-dollar businesses united earn net profits aggregating $846,000,000 their dividend account runs to less than $400,000,000. Evidently they invest some of their profits in umbrellas, as against the inevitable rainy day.

These big corporations, for all their prosperity are rather heavily obligated to the money lenders, their total funded debt being considerably in excess of $3,000,000,000. The Southern Pacific leads in this respect with $765,000,000 of funded debt and the New York Central comes next with $701,000,000. All of the railroads, in fact, have large funded debts, while three of the industrials—Standard Oil, General Motors, the Ford Company—have no funded debts whatever.

The Ford Company, by the way, carries off honors for being the mystery corporation of the billion dollar group. There is no authentic record that will show just what it is worth, what its net profits are, or what dividends it pays. All those items have to be estimated. Its total assets are placed at $800,000,000, its market value at $1,000,000,000, and its net profits at ten per cent of that amount. What dividends it pays is the big guess, but it is known that there are but three stockholders in the Company, hence there is likely to be little bickering as to whether net profits should be distributed in salaries or dividends or retained to build up an imposing surplus such as that of United States Steel.

It is known, also, that the Ford Company leads the world in the number of automobiles it produces, its record for last year being 1,448,000 as against 1,216,000 for General Motors.

General Motors is now branching out rather impressively in the manufactur of ice machines or refrigerators, while Ford is going in for airplanes.

Field Work Retarded.

Work of improving the playing field of the Homer Laughlin baseball club has been retarded during the week by wet weather. Officials plan to make it one of the best in the Industrial league circuit.

QUIT GETTING UP NIGHTS

A Healthy Bladder Acts During the Day

C. N. Shuman, Republic, Ohio, says: "Before taking Lithiated Buchu (Keller Formula) had to get up six or seven times each night. Now I do not get up at all. You may use my name if it would benefit anyone with bladder trouble." Be careful not to take drugs that check the action of the bladder. You may have to continue its use. Lithiated Buchu (Keller Formula) increases the action during the day. It cleanses the bladder as epsom salts do the bowels driving out foreign matter, neutralizing excess acids, thereby relieving the irritation which causes "Getting Up Nights." The tablets cost 2c each at all drug stores or Keller Laboratory, Mechanicsburg, Ohio. Locally at J. D. Holloway, Druggist.

LEGISLATURE TO ADJOURN APRIL 29

Senate and house leaders will probably agree on a program to be carried out during the remainder of the legislative session which will close on Friday, April 29.

During the final three weeks consideration will be given to a number of important measures which were introduced at the initial session in January. Most of the business transacted by both houses since the long session opened has been along local lines in which favorite measures of members have been passed and sent to the governor.

HEALTH POSTER CONTEST LISTED

Exhibits for the annual health poster contest must be in the hands of officials of the Hancock County Tuberculosis society by April 18. The affair will be held in the Community house, New Cumberland, Friday, April 22.

Prizes amounting to $40 will be awarded exhibitors of the winning posters which will be used in the health seal campaign this year. The contest is open to rural and city grade pupils of the county.

Musicale Postponed.

Musicale scheduled for tonight in the First Presbyterian church under the auspices of the Ladies Missionary society has been postponed until April 14.

The Joy of Motherhood

JUST how to make motherhood a joy is one of the most important things in the world for you to know, right now, mother-to-be! Learn the great truth; use the simple method of an eminent physician who dedicated his life's work to this great accomplishment for your benefit!

"I was in labor only 25 minutes with my last child, but suffered agonies with three previous children," writes an enthusiastic mother who used Mother's Friend. Great has been the praise of Mother's Friend for over three generations!

Mother's Friend aids the skin and muscles to expand more easily during the constant readjustment of expectancy, month after month, right up to childbirth!

Mother's Friend is safe for you to use because it contains no harmful drugs and is applied externally.

Mother! Insist on Mother's Friend—the same as used by our mothers and grandmothers—don't wait—start using tonight—and meanwhile write Bradfield Regulator Co., Dept. 32, Atlanta, Ga., for free valuable booklet "Motherhood and the Coming Baby" (sent in plain envelope). It tells how Mother's Friend can help you during expectancy and at childbirth. This booklet also tells you many other things you want to know. "Mother's Friend" is sold by all druggists—everywhere.

Time Turns Back As 50 Singers Give Ye Olden Concert

Time appreciably turned backward in its flight as in a benefit for the Ladies of G. A. R., 50 singers of the Orchard Grove Methodist Episcopal church gave a concert of "Ye Olden Songs and Readings," before a large audience in the Ceramic Cafeteria hall, Fifth street, last evening.

Fresh from a success of a similar performance at Pughtown, W. Va., Tuesday night and four former appearances in various sections of the city, the aggregation, directed by Mrs. H. Dan Smith as Temperance Primrose Prim, timeist and with Mrs. Samuel Crawford as Sophronia Sphinx, announcist, drew rounds of applause with numerous encores throughout the two-hour program.

In costumes of strange array, beribboned, long gowned, bonnets, generously feathered, a la four decades back, dresses bulging widely from hidden hoops with widened sleeves and high neck coiffures the women loomed a flareback from past generations to whom the men, mustached and whiskered, made excellent complements as with swallow-tailed coats, high silk hats, white vests and wide red cravats they completed the illusion of a former, distant day.

The organist was Mrs. A. M. Burns as Minerva Poundkeys, while Mr. Burns, as Professor Finnegan McBeonsky, realistically qualified as "fiddler."

Harry Thompson and Mrs. Charles Shope excelled in the role of minister and wife.

There was genuine pathos in Mrs. Harry Holmes' reading of "The New Church Organ;" tears, unrestrained, welled in many eyes as Mrs. Hattie Hapgood, carrying the part of Charity Anne Shoene, read impressively "Forty Years Ago," while Rev. E. A. Conn as Dr. Glouchester, drew peals of laughter in two numbers, "The Crack Mouthed Family" and "The Young Man Sat and Waited."

Clifford Smith, as Jack Pyle, appealingly sang "Carry Me Back To Old Virginny" and "Old Dog Way;" Miss Dorothy Holmes as Becky Meek drew encores in her vehicles of "Darling Nellie Gray" and "Love's Old Sweet Song" as did Mr. and Mrs. H. Dan Smith as Thankful Sommerville in "Old Fashioned Garden."

A medley of G. A. R. songs, made up of Civil war numbers, by Mr. Burns on "ye fiddle" evoked hilarious applause.

Particularly pleasing were xylophone numbers by Clarence Duff which consisted of "In the Garden of Tomorrow" and "Moonlight and Roses."

Exceedingly well received was the love ballad, "Pretty Sister Lou," by Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Heddleston. He, too, also sang, "The World Is Waiting for Sunrise."

The Village quartette consisting of Mr. and Mrs. H. Dan Smith, Charles A. Price and Mrs. Nieser contributed "Bohunker" fittingly.

The ensemble offerings, "Auld Lang Syne," "Comin' Thru the Rye," "Three Blind Mice," "Polly Wolly Doodle," "Jinkle Bells," "When the Bell in the White House Rings Ding Dong," "Zobo Chrous" and "Good Night Ladies" made possible many numerous reminiscent moves and acts by the singers.

Mrs. Edward Dunlap and Mrs. Carl Liebschner qualified as outstanding entertainers.

During the intermission young folk present were vividly shown how drink was dispensed in "Ye olden days" as H. Dan Smith "passed the water" from a wooden pail by the utilization of a tin "dipper."

The concert will be repeated later in the month at the First Presbyterian church in Chester, W. Va.

SENATE PREPARES TO ACT ON STATE BUDGET BILL

HOUSE PASSES NORTON ROAD BUREAU PLAN

Minor Changes Made in Williamson Measure.

OTHER PROPOSALS

Upper Branch Approves Move to Increase Judges' Salaries.

By C. H. Haddox.

COLUMBUS, April 7.—Action is expected to be taken today by the Ohio senate on the Williamson appropriation bill and the Norton highway recodification bill, both of which passed the house late Wednesday by votes of 113 to 4 and of 90 to 24, respectively.

The Williamson bill, providing for appropriations of state funds approximating $51,000,000 is designed to take care of the major costs of state governmental activities during the 18-month's fiscal period beginning July 1, next.

The Norton bill contains provisions for separation of the state highway department and that of public works, established the office of state highway director, to be appointed by the governor, reduced special assessments for road improvements, a comprehensive plan for grade crossing elimination, and relieves counties and townships of all assessments for state road construction.

Despite numerous futile efforts on the part of various house members to cut out large items of expenditure for buildings, and by Rep. W. C. Wendt, Columbus, to add more than $750,000 to the appropriations for the state welfare department, the Williamson bill passed the lower legislative branch without being materially altered.

Recommend Chappelear Bill.

Such changes as were made were flatly minor ones, with a net reduction of $18,750 in the total appropriations.

The house health committee has recommended passage of the Chappelear bill, which requires a physical examination of all applicants for marriage and authorizes sterilization, and the house codes committee has taken similar action relative to the Comings bill, providing for sexual sterilization of mental defectives and certain classes of criminals. Both bills passed the senate.

The house is asked to concur in the action of the senate which passed bills and adopted resolutions including: By Senator Robert Rohe, Tiffin, providing for repair of road and memorial building in Speigel Grove State park, Fremont, and for labeling trees and constructing a fence there; by Kumbler, Preble county, memorializing congress to accord emergency army officers disabled in the World war the same retirement privileges given regular army officers; by Wise, of Stark, authorizing the lighting of state and county roads; by Lewis, Belmont, to apply delinquent penalty to taxes not paid when first half-year is due; by Marshall, Cuyahoga, to restrict loan sharks in "buying up" salaries by placing such transactions under provisions of usuary laws; by Rebman, Hamilton, declaring void and contrary to public policy any contracts whereby employes agree to refrain from union membership and employers agree to stay our of employers' associations; by Marshall, of Greene, requiring the mailing of notices of proposed state, county and township road improvements.

The senate passed the Ott bill, raising salaries of state supreme, appellate and common pleas court judges, the counties to pay the increases on all except supreme court judges, and concurred in house amendments to the Gillen-Burnett bill, transferring control of state schools for the deaf and blind from the state welfare department to the state educational department. Both bills now go to the governor.

Following the public hearing held Wednesday night the senate county affairs committee today reserved decision on the question of reporting out the bill by Representative H. E. Hill, Marion, already passed in the house, which seeks to prohibit public dancing and roller skating entertainment on Sunday. The session Wednesday night was attended by both opponents and proponents of the bill.

Senator J. E. Roberts, Youngstown, declared he intended to seek an amendment to the bill on the floor of the house, if it was reported out, so as to include automobile riding and golf and other forms of recreation.

TODAY

Later, it was a pile of ashes. At present it is the most progressive of the four big cities in the United States, with the possible exception of Detroit. It has one thousand millionaires, listed as such on income tax returns, and 30 citizens declaring incomes of over a million a year each.

THE best of it is that Chicago men, proud of the city they have helped to build, stay in Chicago after they have made their money and spend in Chicago what they made there.

They even think that Chicago has the finest climate in the world, which shows you what local pride can do, mixed with imagination.

ANOTHER high school boy kills himself asking his father's and mother's forgiveness, writing: "I have been a complete failure," in his last message.

No boy is a complete failure until he runs away from the battle of life, then he is a failure.

Every man that runs away from a battle probably has a good excuse in his own mind, but every one is a coward. If boys would get that fact into their heads there would be fewer youthful suicides.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, April 7—Higher prices for the railroad and specialty stocks were recorded in extremely active trading in the first hour today. New York Central was the rallying ground for the bulls in the rail shares, the stock jumping more than 2 points at the opening, and selling in volume around 149, the highest price in the history of the company.

Advances in other rail shares were held up by a large amount of profit taking, but Pere Marquette, Western Maryland and Erie made further gains.

Durant's "startling" statement had been quite accurately forecasted, and was without significance in the stock market. Though retiring from directorates, he retains his stock in important companies, nor does he liquidate his speculative holdings of stocks from which he won enormous profits in the last few years.

Continental banking made further improvement, the stock advancing to 47, up 8 points from yesterday's low. Texas Gulf Sulphur, Colorado Fuel and Houston Oil featured the specialties. Oils were steady, in spite of a new 15-cent cut in Mid Continent crude, bringing prices to less than half of last fall's posted schedule, independent steel stocks encountered considerable selling at the higher price levels. Copper stocks were firm and sugars inactive.

Call money was in supply at 4 per cent. Commodity markets were generally quiet, with few improvement price changes.

W. K. VANDERBILT MATRIMONIAL RIFT IN COURT

Action for Divorce or Separation Filed in Paris.

WIFE LEAVES U. S.

Reports Say Husband Plans to Wed Divorcee.

Copyright, 1927, International News Service.

PARIS, April 7.—The matrimonial difficulties of Mr. and Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, II., have reached the Paris divorce courts, it was learned today.

Action for a divorce or separation for the Vanderbilts has been filed with the Seine tribunal.

The exact scope of the action is not yet determined. It is not known whether it is a divorce action or merely a separation action, although it is generally believed to be a divorce action.

In accordance with the French laws the utmost secrecy is being maintained at the Palais de Justice regarding the case.

Conciliation Tribunal Call.

The court has ordered the appearance of both parties or their lawyers before a conciliation tribunal. This formal effort to reconcile the two parties is set for next week, and is the usual French legal proceedure prior to the actual granting of a decree. In the event of the conciliation tribunal failing in its efforts a decree may be expected within the course of two or three weeks.

Mrs. Vanderbilt, who was formerly Virginia Fair, is reported to be enroute to Paris and Vanderbilt has been cruising in the Mediterranean for several weeks and is frequently in French Riviera ports. It is understood that both parties will be in Paris when their action comes before the courts.

Vanderbilt on arriving in France several weeks ago denied that he contemplated any action, although admitting that he and his wife had been separated for some time.

In social circles it has long been understood that Vanderbilt desired a divorce in order that he might marry Mrs. Rosamond Lancaster Warburton, who was divorced some months ago in Paris from Barclay Warburton, Jr., of Philadelphia. Mrs. Warburton is understood to have been a guest recently in a yachting party given by Vanderbilt.

Financial Settlement Arranged.

Mrs. Vanderbilt is a Catholic and it has been said that she has opposed a divorce because of religious scruples and there have been reports that she would seek an annulment of her marriage by the rota tribunal.

It is understood that the action was brought by Vanderbilt, out of respect to Mrs. Vanderbilt's religious scruples.

Mrs. Vanderbilt, it is reported, will maintain the name of Virginia Fair Vanderbilt. Mrs. Vanderbilt was the daughter of one of the owners of the famous Comstock lode with John W. Mackay, father of Clarence H. Mackay.

Social gossip has it that Vanderbilt has already arranged a financial settlement for his wife, even though she is independently wealthy.

President Names Two District Court Judges and Marshal

WASHINGTON, April 7.—President Coolidge today appointed Elliott Northcott, of Huntington, W. Va., as Judge of the United States circuit court for the fourth circuit.

He succeeds the late Judge John C. Rose. The circuit comprises Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, North and South Carolina.

William C. Coleman of Baltimore was appointed federal district judge for Maryland.

Martin Brown was appointed United States marshal for the western district of Michigan.

Two Youths Fined For Disturbance in Laurel Hill School

Earl Brooks, 21, and John Gallimore, also 21, both of Maplewood, were fined $10 and costs by Justice M. K. Zimerman, Lisbon, today upon charges of disturbing the Laurel Hill school, St. Clair township, on March 30.

The accused lads, with three other youths, are alleged to have visited the school and raised a disturbance. Warrants were issued after a conference between Ira F. Hassler, county attendance officer, and Prosecuting Attorney Robert Brookes. The two lads were arrested by Deputy Sheriff E. J. Fitzgerald.

They were released after arrangements had been made to pay the fines.

CHINESE MOB WOUNDS JAP

Lawlessness at Hankow Growing, U. S. Consul Reports.

PEKING, April 7.—Another Japanese has been wounded by a Chinese mob at Hankow, it was reported today by American Consul Lockhart. After being shot in the head the Japanese was rescued and taken aboard the United States gunboat Pigeon.

Consul Lockhart sent word that general lawlessness at Hankow is growing. All Americans remaining there are being urged to leave.

German residents have chartered an American ship for the evacuation of 100 German residents.

Ships for Returning Americans.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Passenger lines will be utilized by the government to return those Americans from China that wish to come home, and also to transport the regiment of marines now mobilizing at San Diego to China.

Arrangements have been completed between the government and Pacific lines for "emergency facilities," it was said at the navy department today. These arrangements were necessary because the government has exhausted its regular transport service by the quick dispatch of thousands of marines to the Far East.

The transport Henderson is sailing from San Diego today with the recreated sixth marines. The transport Chaumont is now on the other side, having transported a regiment. The Chateau Theirry is unavailable for immediate service and the Thomas is said to be similarly unavailable.

Automobile Theft Ring Unveiled in Cincinnati Probe

CINCINNATI, O., April 7.—The ramifications of a national automobile theft ring, hidden behind spurious bills of sale and coded letters, with headquarters in Chicago and marketing points in nearly all major cities, were being slowly unveiled by department of justice agents today.

James Usher, 29, a Cincinnati contractor, was declared by Cincinnati police who were working with federal operatives, to have admitted today that he sold more than 50 cars stolen mostly from Indianapolis and Chicago.

Elton Siemer, a garage proprietor of Mt. Healthy, a Cincinnati suburb, was taken into custody by police today in connection with the far reaching investigation.

According to the stories alleged to have been obtained from Usher and Rupert Potthorff, 33, an Indianapolis mechanic, Chicago was the headquarters of the gigantic ring.

Coolidge Denies Filipinos Vote On Independence

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Philippine independence, the goal toward which Filipino leaders have been struggling for years, is yet a long way off.

President Coolidge has vetoed the resolution of the Filipino legislature, providing for a plebiscite on independence, and in so doing bluntly informed the island people they are not ready for self-government.

THIRD VENIRE IS CALLED IN MURDER TRIAL

Seek Jury to Hear Case of Boy at Jefferson.

DOUBLE TRAGEDY

Eleven Persons are Tentatively Seated in Hewitt Hearing.

JEFFERSON, O., April 7.—A third venire of prospective jurors was called today in the trial of Floyd Hewitt, 16 year old youth, charged with the slaying of Fred Brown, Jr., 5, and under indictment charged with killing the boy's mother, Mrs. Fred Brown. The second venire was exhausted Wednesday, with 11 tentative jurors seated.

In answer to a question as to whether they had formed any opinion regarding the crime, a majority of those examined replied in the affirmative, and great difficulty is being experienced in selecting a twelfth tentative juror.

Throughout the proceedings, Hewitt sits seemingly undisturbed, at times acting as if he wondered "what it's all about." The most pathetic figure in the courtroom is Fred Brown, Sr., husband and father of the victims of the brutal clubbing in Conneaut, last February 14. Sobbing almost constantly, he threatens to break down under the heavy burden of his grief and sorrow.

Alienists may be called upon by both defense and prosecution during the trial, according to reports here today. The defense, it is said, will be based upon testimony of doctors who are expected to declare that Hewitt is of sub-normal mind. Prosecutor C. B. Cook said today he would probably take steps to have psychiatrists examine Hewitt in an effort to prove he is mentally capable.

Red Cross Chapter Dinner is Planned Here Monday Night

Miss Julia Groscup, national field secretary of the American Red Cross with headquarters in Columbus, will address members of the executive board of the Red Cross chapter at a dinner meeting in the banquet hall of the Y. M. C. A. at 6 o'clock next Monday evening.

The purpose of Miss Groscup's visit is to consider plans for enlarging the scope of Red Cross activities here. She will spend both Monday and Tuesday in East Liverpool, during which time she will confer with local leaders.

Fire Damages Reformatory Barn.

MANSFIELD, O., April 7.—Belief that the fire which destroyed a state reformatory barn here last night, was of incendiary origin was expressed today, by Superintendent T. C. Jenkins. Six horses and two mules were cremated in the flames entailing a total loss of $10,000.

When Henry VIII was given by a stock company at Hobart, Tasmania, recently, it was the first time that the Shakespearean play was ever produced in Australia.

Two Autos Stolen Last Night; Third Job Frustrated

Two automobiles were reported to have been stolen here last night, while an attempt to steal a third car was frustrated.

Carl Hyatt, taxicab operator had one of his machines parked in Summit lane about 9:30 oclock when one of his drivers heard a noise in the layye. As he stepped from the garage two youths ran toward Fifth street. One of the lads had been in the car, apparently, trying to start the motor.

Danks Cochran, theatre musician, reported at 11:20 o'clock that his Jewett touring car had been stolen from its parking place near the corner of Sixth and Broadway. It carried license number 387-779.

Chevrolet touring car, carrying license number 389-309, was stolen while parked in front of the Ceramic Motor company's garage and sales rooms, West Fifth street.

Police were advised at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon that the Cochran car had been destroyed by fire on what is known as Gravel Hill near Smith's Ferry.

King Ferdinand Reported Better; Roumania is Quiet

VIENNA, April 7.—Official announcement was made at Bucharest today that King Ferdinand, of Roumania is much better, said a dispatch from the Roumanian capital today.

The dispatch pointed out, however, that no one outside the palace gates knows the actual state of the monarch.

Ferdinand is said to be seeing members of the royal family a few hours each day, especially enjoying the visits of little Michael, son of Carol, former Roumanian crown prince.

The stricken monarch can take only liquid food and very little of that.

Roumania is quiet politically.

TWO MEN AWAIT DEATH MARCH

COLUMBUS, O., April 7.—Hope for a stay of execution faded here today for George Thoma, 23, Mansfield, condemned to die tomorrow night for the killing of his sweetheart's foster parents, in November, 1926, when the state board of clemency and Gov. Donahey refused to interfere.

Two men will be led from the death house to the electric chair tomorrow night between 8 o'clock and midnight, Warden Thomas declared today. The other man is James Lyon, 27, Havana, Huron county, who was convicted of killing Frank McGrath, Cleveland detective, Feb. 18, 1926.

Thoma has prepared himself for death, while Lyon remains indifferent and whiles away his last hours smoking cigarettes and strumming a makeshift mandolin.

AARON SAPIRO INCOME NEARS $750,000 MARK

Earnings of "Wheat King" Traced in Libel Suit.

REED GETS FACTS

Ford's Chief Counsel Cross-examines Chicagoan.

FEDERAL BUILDING, DETROIT, April 7.—Revelations of the gross income paid Aaron Sapiro, so-called co-operative king by American farmers in the last decade, neared the $750,000 mark today at the trial of the Ford-Sapiro libel suit.

Senator James A. Reed, chief of Ford's counsel traced Sapiro's income from his amazing activities in the farm world dollar by dollar. Reed devoted hours of cross-examination to Sapiro's connection with fruit growers. The cooperative king testified he received $20,250 in fees since 1921 from the Federated Fruit Growers, Inc., alone.

"Where'd you get that cigar? Somebody married?"
"Nope, just paid my grocery bill."

They recently cured a drunkard in New York city by removing a bone that was pressing against the brain. And we've also heard that many others have been cured by the removal of a brass rail that was pressing against the foot.

We heard of a man the other day who said he couldn't eat peaches because the seeds hurt his stomach! Can you beat that?

Ain't nature peculiar? The caterpillar crawls around on his own stomach, but the bed bug ain't so particular.

There are some mighty good lumber dealers in East Liverpool. Also there are mighty fine people. We know them. Eliminating ourselves from the suggestion — if you wish — we think the home dealer should have a chance to estimate and quote his prices before you buy out of town. That's only fair.

There are lots of things said about buying a home — maybe too much. Everybody has a right to trade where he pleases, but it strikes us that the average person prefers to trade at home if he can do so well. It's simply a matter, therefore, of giving the home merchant first chance. See what he can offer before buying elsewhere.

What's What in Washington

BY CHARLES R STEWART

"SINCLAIR NOT IN JAIL YET," SAY WISEACRES OF CAPITAL

WASHINGTON, April 7.—Although the cynic who said, "You can't convict a million dollars," has been proved wrong—for weren't Harry F. Sinclair and his millions convicted of contempt of the United States senate?—it remains to be seen whether or not jail yawns for any such amount of money.

HARRY F. SINCLAIR

Even the Sinclair prosecution admits there may be several slip-ups between the verdict against Harry and the day when prison doors slam, with the oil magnate inside 'em.

It's more than three years already since Sinclair turned a deaf ear to questions of the senate public lands and surveys committee concerning the means by which his Mammoth Oil company got its lease to the navy's Teapot Dome petroleum reserve. Nobody imagines it will be less than another couple of years, at the soonest before the federal supreme court passes on the contempt case, with the term behind the bars that goes with it.

When that time comes, maybe the cynic above referred to will still be in a position to say, "You can't beat a million dollars on appeal anyway."

AT that, the consensus of Washington legal opinion is that Sinclair's two heavyweight lawyers, Martin W. Littleton and George P. Hoover, haven't much to congratulate themselves on, in that they didn't get their client off as well as Attorney Frank J. Hogan did for his customer, E. L. Doheny.

Doheny had hard luck with his civil suit, to hang onto his Elk Hills oil lands, but they didn't stick him on a criminal charge, at all events.

It's true that Sinclair's stretch won't be very long, at the worst. Yet the energy of his counsel's fight to show the legal limit on his possible stay in the hoosegow is only one month, and not four, hinted that he'd have preferred none whatever.

THE judgment of court officials who watched both the Fall-Doheny and Sinclair trials, is that Doheny in particular, and to some extent Fall, got the benefit of considerable human sympathy that didn't go out so warmly to Sinclair.

Doheny, on the witness stand, got in some popular licks about his early days in the Wild West, his experiences as a hasher in a cheap restaurant, his adventures as a mule skinner and his wanderings as a "desert rat," with an empty canteen and bad Indians and rattlesnakes "laying" for him back of every sage bush and cactus plant.

It was romantic and exciting. And here he was—a "poor old man" of 70, with his arm in a sling, and all that kind of stuff!

Fall wasn't so effective, but he profited some by the overflow.

Sinclair, on the contrary, gives the impression of "soft hands and a hard face" — referred to by the late Col Roosevelt.

Hogan made the most of Doheny as a regular old pioneer, which Littleton and Hoover couldn't do to such good advantage with Sinclair, because he wasn't one. He was a druggist.

ANOTHER thing Sinclair's friends have complained bitterly about from the first was that darned name—Teapot Dome.

If the thing had simply been referred to as Naval Oil Reserve No. So-and-so, they say the case never would have had any such popular appeal as it did have.

But "Teapot Dome" lent itself to every paragrapher and cartoonist in the whole country and the publicity they gave it did the business.

DYNAMO NOW RUNS FORDS

Milwaukee, Wisc.—A recent invention has accomplished the impossible by harnessing the power of a Dynamo to a Ford. The inventor, through the Dynamo Company 426 1025 Eleventh St., Milwaukee, Wisc., has already installed this device on thousands of Ford cars with remarkable success. The invention does away with the old timer, makes cars run smoother, increases the power, saves gasoline, causes instant starting and quick pickup. So many Ford owners want this device that it is impossible for the Dynamo Company to take care of the business direct. Therefore, they want men everywhere to help them and will furnish free sample and full particulars of a $5,000 a year job. Write them today.—Adv.

LOSE FAT IN THIS PLEASANT WAY

Not by abnormal exercise or diet, but by correcting the cause of excess fat, as countless people now are doing. That way is Marmola Prescription Tablets, used for 19 years. Today you see the results in every circle, in figures made girlish and slender. The use of Marmola has grown to very large proportions because of these proved results. You owe yourself the test of a scientific help which has done so much for so many. The results will surprise and delight you.

All druggists supply Marmola at $1 a box. A booklet in each box tells why it acts. Go get it now and watch the results on fat.

Livingstone's Home Saved.

The home of David Livingstone, the great African explorer, is to be included in the national memorial that is to be established in Scotland. Of the $60,000 required for the plan, nearly one-half has been subscribed, according to the report of the committee in charge. The committee plans to spend $35,000 in the purchase and alteration of the explorer's former home at Blantyre, and will use the balance of the subscription funds in memorials in other parts of the country. It expects to have the improvements to the building completed before Fall. The Glasgow Rotary club is taking an active part.

When the fire brigade of Eton college, England, recently gave an exhibition some of the students went through the fire drills wearing the traditional high silk hat of the institution.

During a terrific windstorm recently a stampede of a circus audience at Shepparton, Australia, was averted when the band played the national anthem until the "big top" could be lowered.

Increase Your Weight 5 Pounds in 30 Days Or Money Back

Doctors and good pharmacists know that Cod Liver Oil is full of vitamines that make flesh, create appetite, build up the power to resist disease and puts good solid flesh on skinny men and women.

But it's repulsive in taste and smell and nearly every stomach rebels against it.

So now men and women who keep up with the times are taking McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets — rich in flesh producing, health building, strength creating vitamines and as easy to take as candy.

Try them for 30 days if you want to fill out those scrawny hollows in chest, cheeks and neck and gain strength and vigor. And bear this in mind if they don't help you in that time any druggist anywhere will return your money. But demand McCoy's 60 tablets 60 cents.

MAKE MORE MONEY

Healthy, vigorous men land life's best prizes. Buoyant step, bright eyes, clear complexion and exuberant vitality denote a system free from impurities. Constipation poisons the whole system, slows the step, saps energy, destroys confidence and cuts down the earning power.

Rid your system of constipation and its poisons. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets remove them gently, tone up the system, clear the eyes and complexion and bring back normal vigor. A compound of vegetable ingredients, prescribed to patients for 20 years in place of calomel. They act easily and quickly on bowels and liver.

Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets and keep fit for the daily grind. Thousands of happy men and women use them regularly as an aid to success in their everyday tasks. Know them by their olive color. 15c 30c, 60c.

WELLSVILLE BOY SCOUTS FACE COURT OF HONOR

100 AWARDED MERIT BADGES AT CITY MEET

One Passes First Class Exam; 16 in Second Class.

45 LADS ATTEND

Five Troops Represented at Session Held Last Night.

One Boy Scout successfully passed the first class examination, 16 qualified as second class Scouts and more than a hundred were awarded merit badges for performances along the lines of Scout endeavor in Wellsville last night in one of the biggest court of honor meetings ever held in the county.

Approximately 45 Boy Scouts, members of five troops, including four Wellsville organizations and one from Yellow Creek township, attended the court of honor session.

The members of the court were Dr. William J. Smith, Charles Satow, D. P. Morrison and H. H. Whitacre.

Wellsville troops are those from the Methodist Protestant church, No. 22, the Methodist Episcopal church No. 20, the United Presbyterian church, No. 19, and the Immaculate Conception church, No. 21.

During the session the court of honor ruled that hereafter, no more than five badges shall be awarded at one meeting.

PASTOR TALKS ON WORTH AND NEED OF PRAYER

Revival Services in First Evangelical Church.

MEETING TONIGHT

Special Sermons Arranged for Sunday Services.

First week of revival services in the Evangelical church will close tomorrow night with an address by Rev. L. C. Andre, pastor of the Free Methodist church.

The services will be resumed Sunday with meetings morning and night and will continue during next week.

Sunday morning's sermon subject will be "The Family That Had to Move." In the evening the sermon topic will be "The Conquest of the Cross."

"The Destiny of the Wicked" will be the theme of an address tonight by Rev. E. L. Zachman, pastor, who last night spoke on "The Three Prayers of Jesus."

Rev. Zachman said in part: "The three prayers of Jesus are recorded in the seventeenth chapter of St. John. The first prayer was for Himself, the second for his disciples and the third for us. It's a great source of comfort that we are remembered by some one in prayer. We will never be able to comprehend the real worth of a prayer until after we receive our eternal reward. Then we will see what prayer did and what it meant to us in this life.

"A prayerless life is useless and will mean the loss of all things. One thing is certain, no one ever attained eternal life without prayer and much less retained the spiritual life without prayer.

"What Jesus prayed for His disciples. He prayed for us who have believed: 'I pray not for them alone but for all that shall believe on me through their word.'"

WILL CONTINUE REVIVAL MEETS

Revival services in the Free Methodist church, Seventeenth street, will continue the remainder of the week, with meetings tonight, Friday and Saturday, Rev. L. C. Andre, pastor, announced today.

The services will be in charge of Rev. William Ward, who preached last night on the subject, "Christian Armor." Rev. Ward will preach each evening during the remainder of the week.

LOCAL GIRL WEDS KITTANNING MAN

Announcement has been made here of the marriage of Miss Edith Holliday, niece of Mrs. W. C. Holliday, of Washington avenue, to George Snyder, of Kittanning, Pa., which was solemnized recently in the Belmont Methodist Episcopal church, Pittsburgh, by the pastor, Rev. J. V. Stewart.

They will make their home in Sebring where the bridegroom is employer as a carpneter. The bride has been employed for some time as a stenographer in a Sebring pottery.

MASONS PLAN TWO DANCES

License Plate Fund Apportioned by County Auditor.

East Liverpool has received $1,201.04 from the sale of 449 sets of automobile license plates issued during March, the apportionment having been made by County Auditor Elmer E. Walker. With the exception of East Palestine, given $1,575.70 from 346 sets of plates, East Liverpool received the largest amount.

Collections throughout the county totaled $11,088.65, of which the state received $5,537.37, the corporations, $4,009.14, and the county road fund, $1,542.14. The total number of licenses issued was 1,248, which went to residents of corporations and 550 to persons living outside the municipalities.

The distribution was as follows: Wellsville, 131 licenses, $288.75; Salem, 90 licenses, $274.95; Leetonia, 72 licenses, $195.85; Lisbon, 57 licenses, $181.55; Columbiana, 23 licenses, $82.10; Salineville, 38 licenses, $97.50; Rogers, two licenses, $12; Hanoverton, three licenses, $11.70; New Waterford, 20 licenses, $52; Washingtonville, 17 licenses, $36.

ODD FELLOWS PLAN OUTING EARLY IN JUNE

Ten Thousand Will Attend Rock Springs Park.

TRI-STATE EVENT

Athletic Program and Beauty Contests Slated.

Approximately 10,000 visitors from western Pennsylvania, eastern Ohio and the Panhandle district of West Virginia are expected to attend an Odd Fellows' picnic, which will be held at Rock Springs park, on Saturday, June 5.

Invitations have been addressed to about 300 lodges as far east as Wilmerding, Pa., west as Cleveland and Wooster and south as Wheeling. Many of the lodges have accepted the invitation, among them Steubenville, Bellevue, Pa., and others.

Grand masters of Ohio, West Virginia and Pennsylvania have been invited. Otway Gunnoe, of Gauley Bridge, W. Va., grand master of West Virginia has already advised the general committee that he will be present while S. N. Young, Toledo, grand master of Ohio and Herbert Marks Oil City, Pa., grand master of West Virginia, have promised to attend if at all possible to do so.

The visitors will come mainly in automobiles. Because of freight congestion on the Cleveland & Pittsburgh railroad, no excursion will be operated on the Ohio side of the river.

The day's program will include athletics and speech-making. A prize list is being arranged for the sports contests. There will be a baseball game, and an added feature will be a beauty contest. Park Manager C. C. Macdonald has offered a silver cup to the winner of the latter event.

Plans of the affair are in charge of a committee from East Liverpool lodge, No. 379, of which Charles Kidd is recording secretary. Other members of the general committee, [illegible] W. E. McCoy, Gus Burgess, Lee Copenhaver, William Long, R. D. Perrin, Ora Frank, William Peterson, Alexander Kidd and William Ridge. Sub-committees will be appointed.

MOTORIST ASKS $584 DAMAGES

City Court Suit Aftermath of Crash on November 8.

As an aftermath of an automobile accident which occurred near Walkers on the Wellsville East Liverpool road November 8, 1926, suit for $584 damages has been instituted in municipal court by Thomas Reed, 1008 Dresden avenue, against Matthew Andrews, Gaston Place.

Reed claims that he was driving a Ford coupe toward Wellsville, trailing a truck owned by Andrews. He charges that the driver of the truck, without warning, suddenly stopped the machine, which, he asserts, carried no lights. He alleges that his car was practically demolished when it crashed into the rear end of the truck. He is represented by Cochran and Crawford.

The Milliron Transfer & Storage company, through Brookes and Thompson, has filed an action to recover $558.23 from the Standard Porcelain company, of Leetonia. The money is claimed to be due for hauling, use of trucks and labor.

G. S. Thompson, Brookes building attorney, has sued Edward McVey, West Fifth street, for $500 alleged to represent the balance on a promissory note given to the Ohio Motor Sales company, April 23, 1926. The plaintiff is represented by Attorney P. V. Mackall.

The First National Bank has named George R. Lutton, Drury lane, and J. C. Lutton, Minerva street, defendants in a suit to collect $290 alleged to be due on a promissory note. Attorney P. V. Mackall is counsel for the plaintiff.

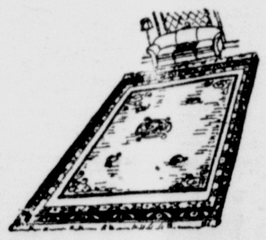

To Stop Pedigree Fakers.

Efforts are being made in England to stop pedigree fakers that have been making big money swindling American visitors. It is said that scores of tourists returned home last year carrying fake family trees for which they paid large sums of money. The method of the pedigree faker is to hunt up some ancient family of the same name as the client, and supply their pedigree as his. The College of Heralds in London is constantly asked to check family trees which often turn out to be obvious fakes, but it is almost impossible to prove any case against the pedigree faker.

HATTIE

By Samuel Merwin

SYNOPSIS.

HATTIE JOHNSON, just 17, is a somewhat colorless little girl, who works in the mailing room of a printing and bookbinding establishment. She and the office boy have been seen holding hands—otherwise there has been no romance in her life. One day a girl who had formerly worked in the mailing room comes to call. Her name is

LUCILLE OVERMAN, and she is now working in pictures. She takes Hattie to the studio where she, Lucille, is to have a screen test. Hattie there is seen by the famous director,

DE BRISSAC, who makes a screen test of her and offers her a contract. Hattie lives with her married sister,

ALICE, and her baby daughter, Emily, and

GRANDMA, a querulous semi-invalid. They all start for California with De Brissac, who suggests books for Hattie to read to "form her mind." On the train she meets

HENRY O'MALLEY, De Brissac's head camera man. They arrive at Beverly. Hattie goes to the studio to find De Brissac, and he kisses her. Clandestinely, so that De Brissac will not know, Hattie and O'Malley meet and go out together. A dark little girls comes to Hattie's dressing room, saying it used to be hers. De Brissac wants Hattie to go away for a week with him on his yacht. The little dark girl comes to his office while Hattie is there and tries to throw acid on her, but De Brissac prevents her, although his hand is burned.

CHAPTER SIXTEEN.

Alice was awakened that night by the sound of a door opening, then closing. She lay for a brief time in breathless quiet, thinking of burglars. Then, cautiously, fearful at once of meeting danger in the hall and of waking Emily, she got out of bed, drew on her old lavender wrapper and peered out at her door. There was no one in the hall. She moved out there. The sound of a voice came, Hattie's voice. She stood a moment outside Hattie's door. The girl was certainly talking. Alice, puzzled, hesitatingly, carefully opened the door.

Hattie, standing before her mirror, turned with a start. She was in her nightgown, feet bare. Apparently she had been staring and talking at her image in the mirror.

"What's the matter with you?" Alice asked, rather sharply.

"I—nothing."

"But you're . . . ." Alice concluded this sentence with a nervous wave of the hand.

"I couldn't sleep."

"But talking like this! Are you out of your head?"

"Of course I'm not."

Alice stepped within and closed the door. "Anyhow, there's no good in waking Gran'ma. I'd like to know what's ailing you, Hattie. You haven't acted like yourself for weeks."

Hattie regarded her with fright in her eyes. Finally she said—"I can't go back to that place."

"Can't go back? You mean . . ."

"On the lot."

"But that's silly. Of course you'll go back.

"You don't know how I feel."

"What's that got to do with it?" A pause. "What's the matter? Something's happened.

"Why . . . no, it isn't that, exactly. But it's such a drive. I'm tired, Alice."

"What of it? Maybe you think I haven't been tired. How about those days back in New York when I had to dress Emily and cook the breakfast and be at the store at half-past eight and work until half-past five and then hurry home in the subway and cook supper." The thought had carried her back to a groove that was worn ineradicably across her nerves; she was talking rapidly, monotonously in a rush of feeling that was by no means normal. "Maybe you think I don't know what it is to lie awake

Hattie was dressed and waiting when the morning paper came.

at night and dread the morning. Maybe you think I haven't tossed and worried and fought again to the point of giving up the whole business and then set my teeth and gone straight on with it because there wasn't anything else to do."

She seated herself on the bed. Hattie leaned back against the dresser, gazing moodily at her.

"Certainly you'll go back. You'll go back for the same reason I always did, because it's the only thing to do. You'll live up to your contract. Three years of it! That's what you'll do."

"Three years!" Hattie breathed.

"Oh, you needn't think I'm enjoying the situation any more than you are. You dragged us into this. Here we are, now. Perhaps we're ditched—I don't know. I can't figure the thing out. I've been going over our bills. One thing I'm sure of, it's costing too much to live."

"I have to have clothes," faltered Hattie.

"You have to have a lot of things. So do the rest of us. Right now I've got to spend something on Emily, and I haven't got it. She's in rags. A hundred a week sounds like quite a little money, but it doesn't seem to get us anywhere in Beverly. Four mouths to feed, and the rent of this place, and all Gran'ma's expenses, and keeping up your position. You're all drawn up at the studio?"

Hattie soberly inclined her head. "Drawn up to the end of this month."

Alice spread her hands. "There you are! And we're broke again. Mr. de Brissac seems to believe in you, perhaps he'd lend you something.'

Hattie quickly shook her head.

"Well . . maybe you think I haven't been facing this thing out. Somehow we're not right. We're not even headed right. You can't break your contract. And if you could we wouldn't have the money even to get us back to New York. No, there's only one thing."

"What's that?" Hattie asked, nervously alert.

"I've seen it coming. I'm going at it in the morning?"

"But what?"

"Going into L. A. and make the rounds of the big stores. There'll be one of 'em sooner or later that'll be glad to pick up an experienced saleswoman."

Hattie's eyes filled with tears. "Oh no, Alice, I don't want you—"

Alice spread her hands again. "What else is there? If it's going to cost us more to live, we've simply got to earn more. What other way is there? And at that it'll give me something to do. Maybe you think I enjoy sitting around here all day trying to keep up Gran'ma' spirits. It's getting on my nerves, I tell you. . . . No, young lady, the thing for you to do is to get some sleep. Then in the morning you'll go back to the lot and do your job. You can't afford to indulge in temperament. Not yet awhile. And as soon as I've washed the breakfast dishes I'll take the trolley into L. A."

Hattie was dressed and waiting when the morning paper came. In a state of mind near to horror she stared at the headlines, but there was nothing on the front page. Nothing inside anywhere. She couldn't believe her eyes, and went to it again, page by page; but found not a word about herself or de Brissac, no hint of a scandal. They hadn't got it yet. The afternoon papers would have it. . . . .

And then Grandma Danced

"WE were quite alarmed about mother. She wouldn't eat, was terribly constipated, bilious, and seemed to be fading fast. We thought it due entirely to her 86 years of age. But a neighbor brought over a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and it was really remarkable how she picked right up, and now she can even dance around with her grandchildren. Now we are never without Syrup Pepsin in the house." (Name and address furnished upon request.)

Regulates Bowels of Old Folks

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is so palatable, sets so well in the stomach, works so easily, so gently, so kindly with old folks as to accomplish its purpose without gripe, pain or other distress. For biliousness, sour stomach, coated tongue, constipation, and the lassitude, whether of children, parents or those in the evening of life, Syrup Pepsin is recommended everywhere. It is sold by all druggists.

DINNER STORIES.

Little three-year-old Jean had a new baby sister born at the hospital. She was much excited about it and took a great deal of interest in the bassinet and all the arrangements for the baby's home coming. When the baby came home with her mother and they uncovered it for Jean to see, her little lips quivered and she looked up at her mother and said, "Is that all there is to it?"

Little seven-year-old Buddie came in from play one evening with a muddy face and his clothes quite mussed up. His mother was scolding him for his appearance. Looking heroic, he replied, "Oh, well, mother, anyway I made several touchdowns."

Dad Gets in His Deadly Work.

It was 11:45 p. m. and the conversation in the parlor was lagging.

"A penny for your thoughts," she remarked.

"Why, I was just thinking of going home," said he.

"Give him a dollar, Mary," her father called from the top of the stairs. "It's a bargin."

"Now I know why mamma said you had good taste," said little Elsie.

"Why?" asked the curious caller.

"You ate up all our strawberries," replied the child.

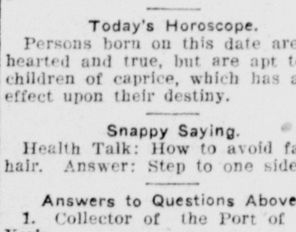

Drug Store "Business."

One morning the owner of the Peanut Center drug store decided to adopt as his official slogan:

"An additional sale a day, Keeps the sheriff away."

A short time later he said to his clerk, "That young man only purchased a postage stamp. Couldn't you interest him in anything else?"

"Oh, yes!" was the snappy reply "I persuaded him to have a look at our directory."

Easy to check Catarrh NOW!

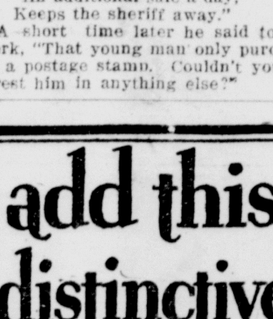

Many endure catarrh because they do not know how easy it is to end it. Salves and ointments give only temporary relief. Catarrh is too deep-seated for them to reach effectively.

To end catarrh you must treat the inflamed mucous membranes—the delicate linings of nose, throat and head. When these are again in a healthy condition, catarrh, and catarrhal deafness disappear.

To do this use Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Thousands have found it most effective for over 40 years. Ask your druggist. Price 85c. F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio.

MAN SUFFERED UNTOLD MISERY WITH CATARRH

Redwood's Tepee Tonic Relieved Him After All Other Remedies Failed.

Charles Doremes, 1320 Colu'e Drive, South Bend, says: "For more than a year I was bothered with catarrh of the nose and throat. I would almost suffocate on going to bed. My nose and throat would become all stopped up.

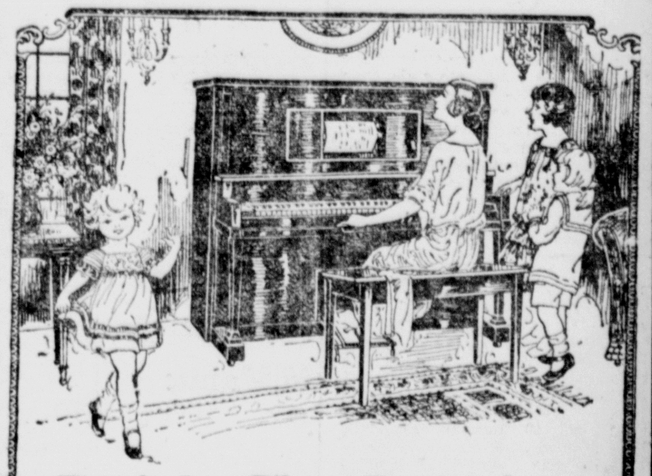

Redwood.

"Then I would have to get up and gargle and use a spray. I didn't get much sleep. When I got up in the morning I felt tired out. I don't think I ate one square meal in a year and my catarrh made me very nervous.

"I tried Redwood's Tepee Tonic and it proved to be just what I needed. My catarrh is better and my nose and throat do not stop up when I go to bed. I have a good appetite and eat heartily. I give Redwood's Tepee Tonic entire credit for helping me."

Tepee Tonic is sold and recommended by Carnahan's Drug Store in East Liverpool and by well stocked drug stores everywhere.

"MUSCLES ALL TIED UP IN HARD KNOTS"

Limbers up quickly after hard ride

"After several years' absence from the saddle, I took a hard horseback ride, and the next day my muscles were all tied up in hard knots. I applied Sloan's Liniment. Right away the tenseness in the muscles began to relax and in an hour or so, they felt as limber as ever."

The makers of this wonderful liniment have received many thousands of letters like this telling of the amazing relief that Sloan's gives to every kind of muscular pain.

Sloan's gives real and lasting help because it doesn't just deaden the pain. It gets at the cause. Right to the place that hurts it brings a healing stream of fresh, new blood. And stiff muscles quickly relax, and pain stops as the healing stream carries off the "fatigue poisons." Get a bottle today. All druggists—35 cents.

FRIGIDAIRE—Low Cost Refrigeration

This does an extra man's work by eliminating outside ice supply

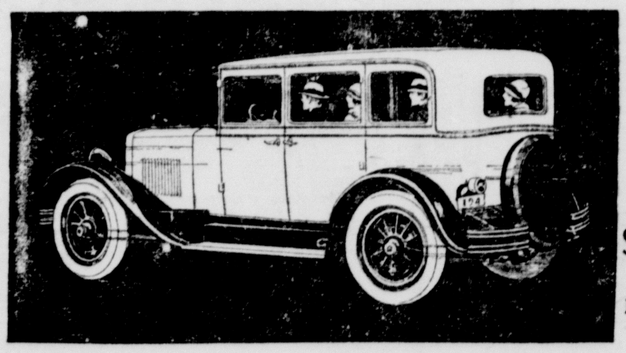

This Frigidaire "frost coil" placed in the ice compartment of your refrigerator is equal to 35 tons of ice a year.

TO BE able to buy perishables in larger quantities and to be sure that they will keep in perfect condition until they are sold—to keep your refrigerator at a uniformly low temperature without the daily necessity of reicing—these considerations would make Frigidaire show a profit for you. And in addition, Frigidaire's operating cost is actually less than the cost of ice. Grocers, meat merchants, druggists, hotel and restaurant owners, florists and confectioners have found that Frigidaire will cut their costs and increase their profits. Over 300,000 users will testify to the efficiency, economy and year-in, year-out dependability of Frigidaire. Find out what Frigidaire will do for you.

PRODUCTS of GENERAL MOTORS

$995 F.O.B. FACTORY

1 All steel body, custom design, with deep drawn steel stampings forming beautiful curved lines at the back, and curved side members carried over the top, constituting the finest possible body construction. Body trimming of Bedford cord and broadcloth. Novel instrument board in duotone colors, with cigarette and glove boxes built in, gasoline gauge and customary instruments. Fine hardware and interior decoration. Entire body much superior to any competitive $1,000 job ever offered in America. Comparisons are urgently invited and will prove convincing.

2 Chassis of modern simplified design. Material and workmanship of Studebaker quality throughout, comparable to the finest obtainable. Self-energizing four-wheel brakes, nickel plated bumpers front and rear, motometer, beautiful crown fenders, and numerous other quality features never before furnished in a $1,000 car.

3 Beauty and smartness characterize the car. The body, fenders and general outlines were designed by R. H. Dietrich, one of the foremost custom body designers of the country. The car has irresistible style appeal. It created a sensation at all of the European automobile shows and the shows in this country, where it was viewed by over two million people.

4 The performance of the car is remarkably efficient and much superior to most, if not all, cars in the $1,000 field. It will accelerate from 5 to 25 miles in 8½ seconds; climb an 11% grade in high gear and develop 60 miles per hour. It is free from mechanical defects and will stay out of the repair shop.

5 The car is well balanced, with scientific spring suspension and seat cushioning. The result is the superior riding qualities of the big, high priced cars. In riding comfort, the car is equaled by few, if any, small cars on the market.

6 The price of $995 f. o. b. Detroit is low compared with half a dozen other Sixes selling for more money. Actual comparisons with such cars, ranged alongside an Erskine, will demonstrate the truth of this assertion.

If you appreciate quality and value, examine and drive an ERSKINE SIX before you buy any car this Spring

Other models are the Tourer, seating five, $945; the Custom Coupe with dickey seat, seating four, $995; and the Business Coupe seating two, $945 f. o. b. factory, with excise tax and freight to be added.

Antlers' Court Season To Be Extended For Two More Games

Battle Enoch Rauhs In Feature Contest Here Saturday Night

Nate Lippe, Who, as Member of Pittsburgh Aggregation, Was Voted Most Valuable Player in Allegheny Loop, Will Line up With Elks; Benefit Tilt With Midland Will End Campaign.

Like old friends who fain would never part, the East Liverpool Elks club and the current basketball season will not sever relations, for a few days, at least, it was indicated today with the announcement by officials of the B. P. O. E. organization that the Elks will tangle with the Enoch Rauh club of the Allegheny county loop on Saturday night at the high school auditorium.

And, in addition to this, arrangements were completed today for another game with Midland as a benefit performance for Frank Neilson, injured pottery worker, who is unable to support his family of eight children. This engagement will be staged next Friday night on the high school court here.

With two such attractions as these lined up, district basketball followers probably will be quite willing to run the season over a little. Games of this variety are not every day occurrences.

The Elks have had a taste of Allegheny league basketball in their series with the Lafayettes and have found it pretty stringent, although there are more than a few here who still retain the belief, after seeing the two games, that the Elks, with Ray Wilde in there, could lick the Lafayettes in four games out of every five.

Now then, the Rauhs finished second in the Allegheny county circuit this season, giving the Duquesne passers more trouble than the rest of the loop combined.

In scheduling the contest a difficult choice was left to Nate Lippe, who has played forward for the Elks and the same position for the Rauhs during the season.

Nate finally has decided to cast his lot with the East Liverpool aggregation and will do his mightiest to topple his old teammates in the clash here Saturday night.

The Rauhs, however, was well fortified in reserve strength and while unable to fill Lippe's place with a man of his own caliber, will have a good substitute.

CELTICS LAND SERIES OPENER

Win From Rosenblums by Score of 29-21.

CLEVELAND, April 7.—Cleveland will try to square accounts with the Brooklyn Celtics here tonight in the second game of the world's basketball series.

The Celtics won the first game here last night, 29 to 21. At the end of the first half the score was tied—14-14.

Holman and Lopschick for Brooklyn and Tusta for Cleveland were individual stars.

The Celtics, living up to their well known reputation, displayed a swift, split-second passing game which kept the Clevelanders dizzy at times. Cleveland led the way, point by point, to the end of the first half when the Shamrocks breezed alongside and from then on it was nothing but Brooklyn. Husta was unable to do any damage in the last period because of Banks' wonderful interference. The Ohioans apparently lost their aim comp' tely in the second half.

Following the second game of the three-out-of-five series the teams will leave for New York to continue the battle.

Tribe in Good Shape.

NEW ORLEANS, April 7—Following a practice session here today the Cleveland Indians will leave for Tuscaloosa, Ala., where they will play an exhibition game against the University of Alabama team Friday. All members of the tribe are in good shape, according to Manager McCallister, except Lutzke, who has strained back muscles. Doctors say he will be in shape to start the regular season, however.

CHESTER CLUB MEET FRIDAY

Manager Riley Calls Session for City Hall.

Manager Frank Riley of the Chester City Industrial Baseball League club has called a meeting of players for tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the city hall, Fourth street.

The Chesterites, who won the bunting a couple of years ago and lost the flag to Laughlin last season, will discuss plans for the 1927 campaign.

Pete Cebula, who recently returned from High Point, N. C., where he worked out, along with his brother, Mike, with the Piedmont leaguers, probably will be seen in the Chester infield again.

Yanks Trim Cards.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., April 7.—With New York one up, the final game of the Yankee-Cardinal spring series will be played here today. The Yanks' 5 to 4 victory over the Cards in ten innings at Chattanooga yesterday was featured by Wilcy Moore's pitching and Dugan's homer with the bases loaded.

PLAN BEAGLE FIELD TRIALS

Hounds to Run Saturday on Brennaman Farm.

Final arrangements for the field trials to be held by the Ohio Valley Beagle club will be completed at a meeting of the organization tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the Camarda building, West Fifth street.

The field trials will be staged Saturday on the Herbert Brennaman farm, back of Congo, the first of a series of similiar events to be held during the season.

There will be at least three classes of hounds in the trials and a couple of pack races as added featurs.

A large number of entries are expected for the inaugural event.

Reiselt Regains Billiard Honors

Wins 300-point Match With Augie Kieckhefer.

CHICAGO, April 7.—Otto Reiselt, of Philadelphia, today was back on his throne as three-cushion billiard champion of the world.

Reiselt regained his title by winning his 300-point championship match with Augie Kieckhefer, of Chicago, defending champion. The final 60-point block was played last night.

The match score was 300 to 240. Reiselt ran out his final 60 points in 58 innings. His high run for the match was 6, against Kieckhefer's 5.

Cubs Lose To Kansas City.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 7.—The Cubs were eager to redeem themselves today in the second game of the series with the Kansas City Blues. The Bruins lost yesterday, 2 to 1.

Tunney Not Bound To Tex's Contract

New Ruling Says Dates and Foes Must be Named.

NEW YORK, April 7. — So-called "boxing monopolies" can no longer exist in New York state as a result of the action of the New York state athletic commission in adopting a ruling against "blanket" contracts—agreements covering options on services of boxers for stated limits—except where opponents and dates are specified.

The ruling means that promoters cannot hold boxers to such agreements if they desire to break away and sign with other promoters. It was pointed out that Gene Tunney, for instance, is not bound to the contract he signed with Promoter Tex Rickard in St. Louis last January because neither the champion's next opponent nor the date and location of the bout is named.

Although the ruling gives other promoters an equal chance against Rickard, the leading impressario in these parts, it was not believed that Tex would lose the next heavyweight championship bout. Promoter Humbert Fugazy, for one, declared he was not interested in signing Tunney, although it was reported that Fugazy is dickering for a match between Paolino Uzcudun and Harry Wills and also for a match involving Jack Sharkey, Boston heavyweight.

Sox Get 17 Drives.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 7.—Inspired by their 8 to 1 victory over the Memphis Chicks here yesterday, the White Sox took the field today determined to make it "two in a row." The Sox flattened the Southern leaguers yesterday under an avalanche of 17 safe hits. Barrett led with four.

Play Atlanta Again.

ATLANTA, Ga., April 7. — The Brooklyn Dodgers play Atlanta here again today. The Crackers won yesterday's game, 3 to 1, behind the pitching of Ray Francis, former Yankee hurler. Brooklyn has released Infielder Billy Rheill to the Crackers.

Approximately 1,000,000 miners in Great Britain mined 5,267,000 tons of coal in a recent week.

TUNNEY 1 TO 10 SHOT IN FIELD

Fight Critic, However, Rates Old Dempsey as His Peer.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, April 7.—It may be of fleeting interest to Gene Tunney to know that his ex-friend and now severest critic without a contest, Tima Mara, regards the champion as a cake walk, a 1 to 10 shot, against the field of heavyweight contenders as they stand today. Mara is a successful race track bookmaker, so the quoting of odds with him is not idle converse; he is a professional football promoter. Hence to him money is no object, provided it is someone else's; and he is one of a most select few who rode with Tunney against Dempsey, therefore his words are wisdom until such time as bigger and better ones turn up.

He, however, named Tunney as a standout today with at least one reservation to the effect that all bets were off if Dempsey succeeded in coming back to his 1923 form, it being his contention that Jack Kearns and not Gene Tunney beat the ex-champion. Lacking definite knowledge of Dempsey's condition, Mara intimated that he was forced to regard Jack Sharkey and Jimmy Maloney as the best of the contenders and here again another reservation was interpolated.

Loughran Best of Field.

It was to the effect that Tommy Loughran, Philadelphia light heavyweight, must now be considered a member of the field.

"I think Loughran can beat all of them except Tunney," Mara said. "He's too fast and too smart for the rest of these fellows and I think they know it. Anyhow, I notice that none of them is giving him a tumble.

"Against Delaney for the light heavyweight title, I'd regard Loughran as a sure thing and bet that way However, if Dempsey could come back like old Jack, he would beat them all, Tunney included. I figured Kearns would break him down with legal worries bet heavily on the idea and at Philadelphia I saw Kearns win that fight, instead of Tunney. Still, you can't consider Dempsey until he shows something besides a hospital bill and a lot of skin eruptions."

Five Clubs Line Up For Soft Ball Loop

Laughlin, Bulgers, Printers, Y. M. C. A. and High School in; Ohio Power, K. of C., and Heimies Other Possible Entries.

WITH five clubs definitely lined up already and several others checking up on their forces before the plunge, indications today pointed to the successful organization of a city recreation or "soft ball" league.

The proposed league is really a new venture here, although a number of teams have played the game in recent years, and the majority are taking to it with considerable interest.

Joe Dickey, at the Newell Homer Laughlin plant, is in with a club, which ought to be a formidable contender, if in keeping with the caliber of the Laughlin City league baseball team. The Laughlins have a lot near the plant and are open for practice games already.

Ted Scheffer is engaged in lining up a Y. M. C. A. aggregation and should be able to bring together a good squad.

The Printers, who played a couple of games toward the close of last summer, will probably be able to muster a strong outfit.

N. F. Lorah, athletic coach at the high school, will combine teachers and students to form another good entry.

The Bulger Drugs, who recently closed a good basketball campaign, can be counted on for some real talent and already are pretty well along in their organization work.

The Knights of Columbus, managed by Joseph A. McKenna, Washington street, while not entered definitely yet, are expected to come in in the next few days and the Ohio Power company, which boasted a baseball club last season, is another possibility, along with a team from Heimie's.

A meeting will be called in the near future to complete the organization.

Benedicts and Bachelors Battle on M. E. Court.

Basketball history is expected to be made at 7 o'clock tonight, when the benedicts and bachelors of the Knights of Columbus, several of them old-time cage stars, will clash in the Methodist Episcopal church gymnasium, Fifth and Monroe streets.

Both Francis Doherty, manager of the married men's quintet, and Paul Callahan, pilot of Cupid's sidesteppers, predicted victory today. They said plenty of reserves would be available in the event of emergencies.

Probable lineups are:

Benedicts—Duffy and Sullivan, forwards; McKenna, center; Holt and McNicol, guards; Coleman and Gevo, reserves.

Bachelors—Kinney and McCarron, forwards; Smith, center; Gibas and Callahan, guards; Bulger and Johnston, reserves.

Richard Dugan, of New York city, will referee the game.

Last Night's Fights.

AT PHILADELPHIA—Tommy Loughran, Philadelphia, defeated Tom Kirby, Boston, 10 rounds.

Al Bader, of Philadelphia, defeated Ted Coolidge, 6 rounds.

AT ROCHESTER, N. Y.—Joe Trippe of Rochester knocked out Paris Cangey, of New Castle, Pa., second round

Otto Ziendorf of Syracuse drew with Mike Marcells of Rochester, 6 rounds

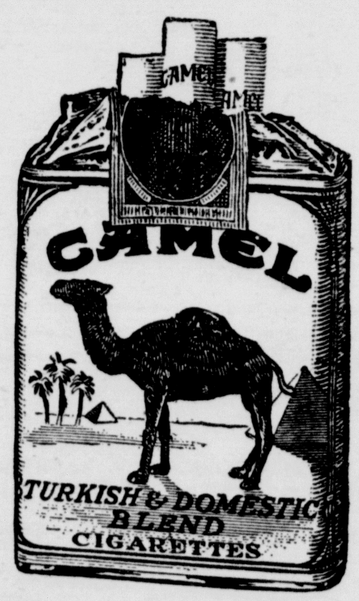

Art Wander of Buffalo drew with Joey Manuel of Rochester, 6 rounds.

"Beau Geste," French Legion Picture, Opens Run At Ceramic

Ronald Colman, Noah Beery, William Powell, Alice Joyce, Mary Brian and Other Stars in Cast.

"Beau Geste" arrived at the Ceramic theatre today for a three-day engagement.

This has been filmed from the immensely popular book by Major Percival Christopher Wren, under Herbert Brenon's direction.

A fine cast will appear, headed by Ronald Colman, Neil Hamilton and Ralph Forbes as the three brothers, Noah Beery as Sergeant Le Jaune, Norman Trevor, William Powell, Alice Joyce, Mary Brian and numerous others in the lesser roles.

The East Liverpool showing will include a special musical setting composed by Dr. Hugo Riesenfeld and played by an orchestra and a special scenic presentation.

Of all the comments on "Beau Geste" those of Frederick Lonsdale, the playwright, seem to give as good an idea of the film as any. Mr. Lonsdale feels that this is "one of the most significant of recent motion pictures, and its tremendous success at the Criterion theatre in New York indicates that the public will accept the pictures which seem to violate the artificial conventions of screen popularity. That is, 'Beau Geste' tells a story in which the conventional love element is signally missing. Moreover, the heroes dies, and, as a matter of fact in violation of all screen stencils, the villain is one of the most interesting characters of the piece. The success of 'Beau Geste' which by the way has been beautifully directed, is distinctly encouraging to any writer."

TO SOME, "BEAU GESTE" WILL PROBABLY APPEAL MORE STRONGLY THAN DID "BEN HUR" OR EVEN "THE BIG PARADE." AT ANY RATE, THIS IS A PICTURE IN THE SAME CLASS AS THESE OTRER TWO FILM SPECTACLES ASD THERE IS SURE TO BE THAT HEART APPEAL WHICH NEITHER OF THOSE OTHER TWO CAN SUPPLY TO THE EXTENT "BEAU GESTE" DOES.
